

HERALD CAMERA-MEN TELL THEIR STORY

Three R's Hath Charms

Athletic, pretty and 20 years old, Lillian M. Hart, recently appointed principal of a grammar school in New York, is declared to be the youngest person on record to hold such a post. Not much like the old-fashioned schoolmarm, what?

Fall Style

The new shade of "brac" inspired by the Scottish heathlands is combined with brown, black and maroon in this smart coat of the mannish type, exhibited by Jean Lamont, beauty, at a style show in New York. The velvet collar and cuffs and the slightly indicated waistline are style points which are predicted for fall in this type of coat.

Inquiry Into Love Cult

Authorities are investigating a love cult colony on a farm near Chicago following the death of George Schofield, 50, common-law husband of Nina Roundtree, (above). Schofield died after a boxing match in which the girl was a participant. The colony, formed of about twenty men, women and children, was founded by Albert J. Moore in 1925. Authorities charge Schofield with having taken the Roundtree girl from her home in Dabneys, Va.

Knights Templars in Gay Parade

Fifth ave., New York, was a riot of color as fifteen thousand members of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templars paraded in their brightest plumage. It was the opening of the 112th convolve. The knights are in convention in New York City for the first time in fifty years.

Wounded Grow Rapidly as Civil War Rends China

Wounded being brought in from the firing line in China's civil war.

Chinese troops and their beheading swords.

Constant clashes between the forces of Gens. Wu and Feng feature internal warfare now in progress in the interior of China. Dispatches give slight idea of the casualties, but say there are no regular hospitals, the wounded receiving scant attention.

Divorced

The Marquis of Queensbury was granted a divorce in London from the mar business (above), and was awarded the custody of their child. The marquis charged his wife with misconduct, namely, Sir James Namet Dunn's correspondent. No defense was offered.

In Nick of Time

A bare five minutes before sailing time, diminutive Fanny Ward, actress, made appearance on deck of liner Majestic for sojourn abroad. Mistaken passport nearly caused postponement of trip.

21-Mile Swim

Gertrude Ederle swam twenty-one miles from New York city to Sandy Hook in New York Bay in 7 hours 11 minutes to exhibit the speed and endurance she hopes will enable her to conquer the English Channel next month.

Six Die for One

Six men were sentenced to death for the assassination of Sir Lee Stack, sirdar of Egypt. Photo shows Abdel Faltah Enayet (center), ringleader, being led to scaffold.

One-Man Crowd

Princeton's biggest man, Big Bill Edwards, once football player of renown and formerly collector of the port of New York, carried banner for Princeton alumni in annual reunion.

Where's Mama? Is What These Pups Want to Know

A more disconsolate group of motherless waifs would be hard to find than these six puppies, owned by Mrs. N. J. Greggains, San Francisco, Cal. Mother, Miss Ditto, prize airedale, disappeared. Reward of $1,000 has been offered for her.

Among Those Sailing

Lady Maud Darwin.

Samuel Untermyer.

Lady Darwin, daughter-in-law of the great evolutionist, and Samuel Untermyer, lawyer, sailed from New York on the Majestic. Several hundred members of the Musical Mutual Protective Union, of which Mr. Untermyer is counsel, bade him bon voyage.

On Way to Permanent Berth at Portland

With her decks stripped and poles bare, America's famous old battleship Oregon cleared from her berth at Bremerton, Washington, for her last voyage as a naval vessel. The Oregon will be preserved as a state museum at Portland, Ore.

Quizzed in Death of Student

George Read.

Mrs. George W. Gill, Shreveport, La., was released in $10,000 bail for her supposed part in struggle between her husband and George Read, young college student, which ended fatally for Read. Police say Read was over-attentive to Mrs. Gill.

Mrs. George W. Gill.

Collection of Drugs Seized by Police During Year Destroyed

Narcotic drugs valued at $1,500,000 were burned in furnace at police headquarters in New York by members of the narcotic division. They were seized during the year in raids by police. Police Commissioner Enright (left) and Deputy Commissioner Dr. Carleton Simon are shown examining opium pipe.