SEPTEMBER WEDDINGS.

A WHITE AND GREEN WEDDING AT CALVARY CHURCH LAST EVENING.

A Golden Rod Wedding on Avon Street—Other Joyous Events—Many Beautiful Gifts—Flowers in Abundance.

The wedding of Miss Maud Mary Lord of this city and Rev. Edwin M. Griffin of Hillsdale, Mich., took place at 7 o'clock last evening at the Calvary Baptist church, Rev. E. M. Potot officiating. The church was beautifully trimmed with palms and hydrangeas by John N. Champlin & Co., florists, making a very unique white and green wedding display. The bride was charmingly gowned and carried bride's roses. The little maid of honor was Miss Ruby MacIntyre of this city, who carried a basket of white lilies. The ushers were Charles Walker, Charles Fowler, Robert Veitch and Charles Lincoln.

Miss Lord was for a long time teacher in Miss Cady's private school on Hill-house avenue. Rev. Mr. Griffin studied in Yale divinity school, completed his course at Chicago and is now a pastor in Hillsdale.

The couple were the recipients of many handsome and costly presents, including chinaware, silver pieces and linens.

The couple left last night for Hillsdale, where they will reside. Among the guests present were: Mr. J. T. Lord, Mrs. Dudley, Mrs. Todd, Mrs. Dr. Elliott, Miss Bristol, Mrs. Dr. Walker, Mrs. MacIntyre, Mr. and Mrs. Giles Potter, and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Aro Ward, Mrs. Henry Higby, Mrs. George Butler, Mrs. Annie Carter, Mrs. Johnson, Miss Annie Joslin, Mrs. Siebert, Miss Donovan, Miss Mason, Miss Doolittle, Mr. and Mrs. John Ross, Mr. and Mrs. James R. Lyons, Mr. and Mrs. Newton Cox, Miss Bernice, A. Platt, Mr. and Mrs. James H. McDonald, Miss Mary A. Atwater, Miss A. J. Warren, Miss J. M. Catlin, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brodett, Miss Sarah Goodwin, Miss Hall, Miss Adeline E. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Danforth O. Lombard, Mrs. Franklin Bliss, Miss Sarah L. Cady, Miss Margaret Shelley, Mrs. F. H. Quinly, Miss Kate McCaffrey, Miss Letta T. Bishop, Mrs. W. S. Leggett, Mrs. Charles E. Curtis, and Miss Parmlee.

A very pretty golden rod wedding took place last evening at the house of Mr. William Davidson of 37 Avon street. The contracting parties were Mr. James Johnston of the firm of Johnston & Ritchie, builders, and Miss Jennie Commons, sister of Mrs. Davidson. A large party gathered to witness the marriage ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Dr. Munger of the United Church at 7:30 o'clock. The bride was very becomingly attired in a light electric blue Fayette cloth, and dark blue velvet dress with pascamenterie garniture. The bride and groom were preceded by two fairies personated by Miss Rachae Olmstead dressed in yellow silk and white slippers, and Master Raymond Downs, attired in a white suit and yellow sash, and bearing a silver tray with two wedding rings. Following came the bridesmaid, Miss Jennie Davidson, in white dimity, with green ribbons, and the groomsmen, Mr. R. John Mensies. After them came the maid of honor, Miss Robina Commons, in white dimity, white lace and pink ribbon. The bridesmaid and maid of honor carried bouquets of golden rod, and the bride carried bride's roses. Miss Mary Davidson played the wedding march.

A fine supper was served, after which the happy couple left for a wedding tour of two weeks' duration, after which they will occupy their lovely home or Bishop street, near Orange, which has just been erected by the groom.

The house was prettily decorated with golden rod, and there was a large array of beautiful and costly presents. Among those present from abroad were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Johnston of Dayton, O., the former a brother of the groom, and a prominent and wealthy dry goods dealer in Dayton; Mrs. James Collins of Dayton, O., a sister of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Miss Middlemar of New Britain, Miss J. Davidson of Westville; Mrs. Russell Johnston worth a gown of tan colored silk crepe and light blue velvet, with diamond ornaments; Mrs. James Collins, a black and canary colored satin; Miss Mary Davidson, pink silk; Mrs. William Ritchie, black silk, black lace, Nile green trimmings; Mrs. William Davidson, black silk, black lace, light blue trimmings; Miss Mary Ritchie, a light chalice.

Other present were Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Downs, Mr. and Mrs. George Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. L. Sheelock, Mr. and Mrs. F. Arthur, Mr. and Mrs. L. Monroe, Mr. and Mrs. Chittenden, Mr. and Mrs. C. Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. F. Beach, Mr. and Mrs. W. Craig, Mrs. O. Dutton, Miss J. McLaughlin, Miss B. Thorpe, Mrs. J. O. McCarthy, Miss S. Veitch, Mr. and Mrs. McLaughlin, Mr. George Baker, the State street hardware dealer, and Master W. Ritchie.

OTHER JOYOUS EVENTS.

Miss Emma Neva Hotchkiss, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erban E. Hotchkiss, and Bernard M. Allen, Yale '92, now professor of Latin at Phillips academy, Andover, Mass., were married at the Hotchkiss residence, No. 44 Clark street, Monday evening by Rev. E. M. Potot. John S. Allen of Andover was the best man. Miss Ruth Terrell and Miss Jessie Hotchkiss, cousin of the bride, were the ribbon girls. Miss May Hotchkiss, a sister of the bride, was the maid of honor, and the ushers were Philip Allen, Yale '96, and Charles Allen of Worcester, Mass., also brothers of the groom. The bridesmaid, a sister of the groom, the Miss Emily Allen of Walpole, Mass. The bride came last and was unattended.

At 9 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Allen left on a wedding tour, after which they will reside in Andover, Mass. Mrs. Allen graduated from the high school, class of '91, and from the training school in '92, since when she has taught in the Fair street school. Mr. Allen was salutatorian of his class at Yale, and has, since graduation, occupied the chair of Latin at Phillips academy.

Miss Hattie C. Kendall, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Kendall of 127 Henry street, and Oscar M. Edgerly, confidential clerk for John H. Parker, a building contractor of New York city, were married Monday afternoon, Rev. Father Kent of St. Mary's church officiating. The residence was prettily decorated for the occasion and the bridal party entered as follows: First the bridesmaid, Miss Mammie Mahoney, in a dress of pale blue mull and leaning on the arm of the best man, Frank Rourke of New York city. The maid of honor followed, unattended and very charming, and then came the bride. A reception followed the ceremony, the number of 100 were present from New York, Hartford, Meriden, Pittsfield, Springfield and New Jersey.

WALLINGFORD.

Andrew Andrews and W. H. Newton, appraisers on the estate of the late G. W. Hull, returned to Judge Fowler yesterday the result of the inventory. The real estate amounts to $10,500, the personal $98,942.32, total $109,442.32. The inventory shows 1,595 shares of Simpson, Hall, Miller & Co.'s stock, value $59,775; 240 shares Simpson Nickel Co., $9,000; 10 shares First National bank, $1,050; 98 shares Wallingford Gaslight Co., $1,225; 80 shares Housatonic Manufacturing Co., $4,000; 35 shares American Building and Loan association, value $1,300; and seven houses and land, $4,800.

George Crandall's eleven-year-old boy, Walter, who lives on Washington street near the gas house, has been ill for four weeks with typhoid fever and for the past week he has been improving. For four days he had been complaining that his arm pained him. Yesterday Dr. Wilson was called at the house and found upon examination that the boy's arm was broken and no doubt had been for several days. It is supposed that the sufferer struck it against the head of the bed or the window and broke the bone and was not aware of the fact himself.

Mrs. Caroline Andrews, mother of Dr. G. H. Andrews, celebrated her ninety-third birthday yesterday.

Alfred Venne, formerly employed here at Simpson, Hall, Miller & Co.'s factory, and who went from here into the company's store in Chicago, recently died in Wisconsin while taking a vacation.

REUNION 27TH REG'T, C.V.

COMRADES AND FELLOW SOLDIERS GATHER FOR THE 20TH TIME.

Grand Reunion at Pico Park—About 200 Present—Speeches by Mayor Sargent, Ex-Mayor Peck, Assessor C. A. Baldwin and Others—Death Recalled of Year.

The twenty-sixth annual reunion of the Twenty-seventh regiment, Connecticut Volunteers, was held at Pico Park yesterday and was attended by about 200 people, comprising members of the regiment, their friends and families. The day was a beautiful one and it would be hard to find a pleasanter spot than Pico Park for a regimental reunion. The grounds were in perfect condition and the large pavilion made a convenient place for holding the meetings.

All went down by the steamer Margaret, which leaves Belle dock at 9:45 o'clock in the morning. On the arrival at the park the business meeting was immediately held. Captain Calvin S. Ely of Branford, the president of the association, presiding, and Edward G. Mansfield acting as secretary. In the reports, which were offered, it was stated that the total number of deaths up to date was 320. Nine captains and seven lieutenants have died since the formation of the association. There are now but three of the original captains left—Captain Sloat, Captain Ely, and Captain Wilcox. Those who have died during the year are as follows: Harry C. Nichols, Homer R. Johnson, E. H. Carrington, Joseph Jewett, William H. Wood, Lieutenant S. M. Smith, John F. Brackett. A nominating committee was appointed to bring in nominations for officers for the coming year. An adjournment was then taken for dinner.

The greater part of those present had brought their dinners with them in large, well-filled lunch baskets, the contents of which they proceeded to spread out on the long picnic tables near the pavilion. Others who were not fortunate to be of the basket picnic party, partook of the hospitality of Landlord Henry Clark of the Double Beach house.

After dinner was over, all again assembled in the pavilion for the afternoon meeting. There were regrets read from Major General B. A. Couch, ex-Governor Henry B. Harrison, Hon. V. D. Sperry, Lieutenant Winthrop D. Sheldon, L. A. Bristol of Cheyenne, Wyo., Jr. Josse W. Henry, Captain Charles Vilcox and N. F. Hilliard. General Samuel E. Merwin also sent his greetings and expressed his regret at not being able to be present.

Captain Ely then called upon Mayor Sargent for a few remarks. He spoke a part as follows:

"Mr. President, Members of the Association, Ladies and Gentlemen: It gives me great pleasure to be present here with such a noble band of patriots who fought so bravely for the Union and maintenance of its principles, as one of those who staid at home and tried to maintain you soldiers, who were fighting at the front, it may not be mine to tell some of my reminiscences. I lived in Georgia for several years during the early part of my business career, and I had a chance to know her temper and mind of the south as well, almost, as the north."

Mayor Sargent spoke in glowing terms of the stirring war times, alluding to the great excitement which prevailed at the time Fort Sumter was fired upon.

Assessor C. A. Baldwin was the next speaker, and made a rousing address. Mayor and Mrs. Sargent had on as soon as the mayor had finished his speech. Mr. Baldwin exclaimed: "What a mark Mayor Sargent (I hope is out of hearing) would have made if he rebuffed? He stands up so straight and strong. And he was, too, such a strong patriotic Yankee citizen. I think the rebels would have brought him down the first one."

Ex-Mayor Peck was the next speaker. He made an enthusiastic address, congratulating the regiment on its noble record made in the three great battles of Chancellorsville, Fredericksburg and Gettysburg. He asked the secretary to read the speech of Sergeant Wilcox, who lost his right arm in the service, which was made by him at a former reunion. Secretary Mansfield complied with the request and read the speech, which was greatly enjoyed by all.

Others who made speeches were Past Commander A. B. Sanborn, Stiles D. Woodruff, George T. Dade, E. E. Clark, William Russell and John A. Munson.

The following nominations for officers, which were unanimously elected, were brought in by the nominating committee: President, William W. Price of New Haven; vice president, John A. Munson; treasurer, George T. Dade; secretary, Edward Mansfield of West Haven, this being his seventeenth consecutive appointment; executive committee, S. J. Fox, C. A. Harrison, R. S. Baldwin, E. Keeler of New York, David S. Thomas, Moses Thomas, Stiles Woodruff, H. F. Peck, F. M. Smith, Charles Spreyer.

F. W. Leeland of Dodd post, G. A. R., who runs the Pico park restaurant, kindly furnished the coffee and dishes to the picnickers.

The members and their families returned at 9 o'clock by the steamer Margaret, and had a most enjoyable day.

The following were among those present: Captain C. S. Ely of Branford, president of the association, Captain David Thomas, Mayor Sargent and wife, ex-Mayor Peck, Lieutenant Weller, Joseph A. Miller, Assessor C. A. Baldwin, Allen D. Baldwin and wife, Charles Spreyer, W. W. Price, Duffy Hall, William Parmelee of Branford, Captain Wilcox of Branford, James Lee, Edward G. Mansfield, William M. Russell and wife of Orange, Stiles Woodruff and wife of Orange, Everett B. Clark and wife, Lieutenant Frank Chapman, George Dudley and wife, Moses Thomas and wife, Daniel O'Neil, S. T. Russell and baby, Robert C. Arnold, Mrs. A. L. Main, E. B. Bradley, Cyrus Tuttle, John W. Merrill, Thomas Wallace, John E. Barton and wife of Boston, Corporal George T. Dade and wife.
