A WOMAN'S SUFFERINGS.

Some of The Agonies They Needlessly Endure.

Nervousness and Female Weaknesses Ruin Many Lives.

These Poor Sufferers Have Found A Sure Way To Get Well.

Female weaknesses are more common to-day than ever before. It is the mode of living; constant work and worry weaken the nerves and vitality, and female weakness follows. They are delicate and cannot stand the strain. As a result there is pain, discharge, suppression, irregularity, weak back, inflammation, bearing down, bad taste in the mouth, loss of appetite, faintness, constipation, nervousness, sleeplessness and irritability. There is hope for you now, but there will come a time when it will be too late. You may get some ideas from the following strong letter from Mrs. S. Taylor, of 251 West 17th street, New York City.

"For years I have been unable to attend to my household duties owing to severe sickness. I was troubled terribly with female weakness, suppression of the menses for over six years, nervous exhaustion, sleeplessness and general debility. I had coldness of limbs and feet, and was in a helpless condition. I feared I should never get well.

MRS. SOPHIE TAYLOR.

"I had been under a doctor's care all the time, but got no better. I was utterly prostrated, and good for nothing. By the advice of a friend who was cured by Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, I began using this wonderful medicine. After taking it a short time I was completely cured of all my troubles. My nerve strength returned, my female weakness entirely left me, my nervousness disappeared, my menses were restored, and to-day I am a different woman, feeling well and strong as I used to."

Such testimonials as these are always the means of curing thousands of suffering women who are wise enough to accept the advice of those who have been cured. Countless numbers of people all over the land have regained their health by this wonderful remedy, and are crying out to their fellow creatures to take Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and be made well and strong. It is not a patent medicine, but the prescription of the most successful living specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th street, New York City. He has the largest practice in the world, and this grand medical discovery is the result of his vast experience. The great reputation of Dr. Greene is a guarantee that his medicine will cure, and the fact that he can be consulted by anyone, at any time, free of charge, personally or by letter, gives absolute assurance of the beneficial action of this wonderful medicine.

ILL WITH TYPHOID FEVER.

E. W. Davis of Judson's Store—Mr. McNeil, Son of V. F. McNeil—Mr. Wellman's Illness.

E. W. Davis, who has been for years past with Judson, the fruiterer, is ill with typhoid fever at his home on St. John street. Yesterday his condition was much less encouraging.

Mr. McNiel, son of ex-Councilman Virgil F. McNeil, is very ill with typhoid fever at his home on Wooster street.

Judge Callahan, who is ill with typhoid fever, is doing as well as could be expected, and good hope of his recovery is entertained.

For over three weeks, Walter Wellman of the National Folding Box company, has been seriously ill with typhoid fever. He seemed to be gaining the mastery of the fever, but pneumonia has set in and his condition is now very critical.

An Express Train Held Up.

Guthrie, I. T., Nov. 28—News has been received that the Rock Island southbound express was held up near Minco, Indian territory, at 1 o'clock this morning by eight masked men who entered the express car. The passengers and guards, however, fought so hard that the robbers were driven out without securing any plunder. The fight lasted half an hour and one or two trainmen were killed.

FIFTY THOUSAND MEN OUT.

Sugar Trust Orders Its Refineries Shut Down—President Havemeyer Says it is Absolutely Necessary.

New York, Nov. 28.—The Evening Sun to-night says: To-morrow will be a blue Thanksgiving for the employes of the Sugar trust in the eastern part of the country. Orders were issued to-day from the headquarters of the American Sugar Refinery in Wall street to shut down completely all the refineries of the company in Boston, New York and Philadelphia. Fifty thousand operatives will be affected by the closing of the sugar works.

For some months past the sugar market has been very much depressed by the demoralized condition of trade in various parts of the country consequent on the war prevailing among the wholesale grocers in Chicago, Indianapolis, Cincinnati, Philadelphia and southern points. Sugar was sold to retailers at almost a song. It was a drug on the market, for every dealer had loaded up to his utmost capacity in view of the prospective passage of the new tariff law taking sugar off the free list.

The result was that the Sugar trust was compelled to contract its operations, reduce its forces and curtail its expenses in every possible manner. The refinery people had hopes, however, that with the advent of the winter months business would brighten and the market would be restored to its normal condition.

When the elections were over, however, the sugar people were given to understand that immediately on the assembling of congress this winter a determined effort would be made to pass the free sugar bill. This measure had already been railroaded through the house in the closing hours of the session, and got as far along in the senate as to receive favorable consideration at the hands of the finance committee.

In view of the poor state of the finances of the United States treasury, however, it was deemed wisest, as a temporary expedient, to put a 40 per cent. flat duty on all sugar and not put it on the free list all at once. Accordingly, the majority of the senate finance committee took this view of the case, and the senate adjourned with matters in this state. Of course, when it convenes next Tuesday this sugar amendment will be among the first things to be acted upon.

It is the knowledge of this condition of affairs and the uncertainty as to what will be done by the senate that has disturbed the sugar stock on Wall street, and practically compels the Sugar trust to fall back to the last ditch and close down their works completely.

President H. O. Havemeyer of the American Sugar Refinery company said this morning:

"The sugar business had been bad for some months. We have been hoping against hope all along, and tried to weather through the period of depression, trusting that business might improve and that we would soon be able to run our works to their fullest capacity; but everything was against us.

"The reaction that followed the passage of the tariff bill brought about a dull season, and the war among the wholesale grocers in several sections of the country still further tended to demoralize trade. When to this was added the excitement of an election canvass, and the general report that congress would pass a free sugar bill, making all sugars free, you can readily see that there were enough causes to compel us to shut down completely.

"But we ran our works up to the present time with a reduced force in the hope, Micawber-like, that something would turn up. Our faith in the future has failed us, and, beginning to-morrow, we shall shut down all our works in Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore. This will affect 50,000 operatives.

"We cannot do anything else. We are sorry for our men, and have been trying to ward off the blow all along. But, the truth is, we have been running our works at a loss for several months past. And it's time to call quits now.

"The last congress is responsible for the present situation, and if they pass the free sugar bill at Washington, as it is reported that they will, they will kill the sugar industry completely. Things cannot be much worse than they are now. There is very little difference between the prices of raw and refined sugar, and there is no reason or justice in continuing a business at a heavy loss.

"We must either have enough profit to cover the bald expenses of carrying on sugar refining or else go out of the business completely. We cannot compete with the wages paid in Europe, and our men could not begin to support themselves and their families at such figures. And yet we are asked to run our establishments with only the margin in refining that is to be found between the cost of raw and refined sugars, which is now a trifle less than half a cent a pound.

"No, the only thing for us to do is to shut down completely until there is a market for our goods and until we can see our way to pay expenses. And I can see nothing cheering or reassuring in the outlook at the present moment."

"Do you anticipae that congress will consider the matter when the fact that the mills have been shut down becomes known?" Mr. Havemeyer was asked.

"Oh, I don't know," he answered wearily. "We're dead; they may bury us."

Ward Gives Up Baseball.

New York, Nov. 28.—John M. Ward has given up baseball for good. The New York club has signed George Davis as manager and captain for next season. Both these announcements were made officially by Edward Talcott of the New York club this afternoon.

Henry Keney's Luck.

Henry Keney, who died at Hartford recently at an advanced age, leaving a fortune of more than $1,000,000, had several strokes of exceptionally good luck. One was his investment of $360 in the stock of the Hartford Fire Insurance company in 1843. This stock, after yielding Mr. Keney $124,864 in cash dividends, is at present worth more than $80,000.

TO-DAY'S FOOTBALL GAME.

HARVARD'S ELEVEN TO MEET THE PENNSYLVANIANS.

Principal Football Game to Be Played To-Day—How the Teams Will Probably Line Up—Something bout the Yale Men—Jerrems and Greenway Will Not Play.

The Yale team lined up yesterday afternoon against the "College" team. All the players were out at the field except Greenway and Jerrems, who will not play with Princeton next Saturday. Jerrems does not seem to recover as quickly as the other injured members of the team. Butterworth and Murphy were both out and looking well. The 'Varsity team scored two touchdowns on the "College" team during the afternoon. This was the last time that the team will line up before the game of Saturday. To-day the new signals and tricks will be gone through with. Friday the team will leave for New York and will stop at the Hotel Plaza, instead of the Fifth avenue hotel, as formerly.

The Yale Consolidated or "College" eleven will play the Syracuse Athletic team to-day at Syracuse.

HARVARD VS. PENNSYLVANIA TO-DAY.

The interesting event in the football world to-day will be the Harvard vs. University of Pennsylvania game at Philadelphia. The line-up, including the weights, will in all probability be as follows:

HARVARD.

Name.	Position.	Weight.
Emmons	left end	174
Wheeler	left tackle	172
Mackie	left guard	200
F. Shaw	Center	200
N. Shaw	right guard	197
Waters	right tackle	179
A. Brewer	right end	165
Wrenn	quarter back	145
Hayes	left half back	163
C. Brewer	right half back	150
Fairchild	full back	152

PENNSYLVANIA.

Name.	Position.	Weight.
Woodruff	left guard	196
Bull	Center	177
Wharton	right guard	190
Minds	right tackle	177
Rosengarten	right end	158
Williams	quarter back	155
Knipe	left half back	178
Osgood	right half back	176
Brooke	full back	175

The average weight of Harvard's rush line, therefore, is 185 2-7 pounds, while that of Pennsylvania is 177, thus giving the crimson the advantage as far as weight is concerned. Now for the individual comparison, as given in the New York Evening Sun last night: Emmons, who will line up against Rosengarten, should have no difficulty in taking care of his opponent. Rosengarten is a good defensive player, but aggressively he cannot be compared with Harvard's captain. Emmons is remarkably quick in getting down the field after a punt, and also in breaking through and tackling the backs. Then, too, in interference, experience and general knowledge of the game, he is easily Rosengarten's superior.

Wheeler, Harvard's left tackle in place of Hollowell, whose injuries will prevent him from playing, has Minds for his opponent, and will in all probability be outclassed by him. Minds is a fine offensive player, nor is he by any means wanting in defensive work. Frequently during the Cornell game he was through his opponent and had his man nailed before he could gain a foot, and very few gains were made by Cornell through him. Wheeler has undoubtedly the making of a good player in him, but with his short experience he can hardly be regarded as a match for Pennsylvania's sturdy tackle.

Coming to left guard we find the advantage going to Harvard again. What Mackie can do was shown very plainly in the Harvard-Yale game, when he broke about even with Hickok, one of the best guards in the country. In defensive play he is probably about the strongest man now on the gridiron, and, though he is a trifle slow in getting through, he will manage to do so more rapidly and frequently than Wharton, his opponent. Wharton will also have some difficulty in dodging that clever and exasperating style of holding which Mackie made use of at Springfield.

Bull, Pennsylvania's center, and F. Shaw, Harvard's center, should be about evenly matched. Neither men are particularly strong, and whatever advantage there is will probably be with Harvard, because of Shaw's superior weight. As between N. Shaw, Harvard's other guard, and Woodruff, his opponent, the advantage will lie with the Quakers. Shaw showed no glaring faults at Springfield chiefly because he was opposed by a weak man.

In Woodruff, however, he will meet a man who has played the game for years, who is heady and aggressive and who is almost an impossible man for a weak player to pass. Before him Shaw, with his inexperience, his slowness and his uncertainty, will certainly be lost sight of.

At right tackle we again find Waters for Harvard. Wagonhurst is his opponent. As to whom the palm will go there can be no doubt.

Wagonhurst is a good player, but pitted against a man who has captained a team, who is considered one of the three star players of a better team; against a man who is at once a strong, aggressive and defensive player, and one who never knows when he is down, he will be badly out-classed.

The same may be said of A. Brewer and Gelbert. Brewer is Harvard's best end. He is quick, strong and always intent upon his play, and Gelbert, on the other hand, is one of Pennsylvania's weakest rush line players.

It is thus seen that, considered individually, Harvard has the stronger line. Back of the line, in the position of quarter back, the crimson has again the better man in Wrenn, but in the cases of all the other backs the palm must be yielded to the Quaker. Knipe is a better center bucker than C. Brewer. Of Osgood and Hayes, while Hayes showed up finely in the Springfield game, Osgood is by far the most brilliant around-the-end runner, and as for Brooke and Fairchild, there is no comparison. Brooke is to-day the strongest punter in the country, and Fairchild, while good at drop kicking, is very weak in punting. This was shown conclusively in the Springfield game.

With Pennsylvania so much stronger behind the line than Harvard, how is the crimson to win? it will be asked. Simply in this way. By her superior rush line Harvard will prevent Pennsylvania's backs from making long gains by rushes, and when Brooke sends the ball sailing down almost to her goal line Emmons and Waters will be able to hold Pennsylvania's ends long enough to enable Fairchild or Hayes to carry it back some distance toward the center of the field before he is downed.

Then when, sooner or later, Harvard gets possession of the ball well down in the Quakers' territory, her team work will enable her to do what her opponent can hardly hope to do—at least not as often—by a fine system of interference on the part of her rushes to either make it possible for her backs to carry the leather over the line, or at least to get it near enough to permit Fairchild to kick a goal from the field. The Quakers, too, will score—undoubtedly so—though hardly in the same way.

Their touchdown, if touchdown it be, must rather be looked for as the result of some brilliant individual work on the part of Osgood, or possibly Gelbert, which, taking the enemy by surprise, will enable the ball to be deposited behind their goal. In the word "individual," moreover, may be found the reason why the Quakers may not, in the ordinary course of events, be expected to win.

One touchdown, the history of the game as it is now played shows, may result from an individual—that is to say, unassisted by team work—play, but hardly more than one. On the other hand, experience also teaches us that though an eleven be possessed of less brilliant individual players, it may nevertheless be victorious where team work is developed to a high standard. When it is considered what these two terms imply the reason for this is obvious.

In the long run eleven inferior men working as one can beat eleven superior players working, not together, but as individuals. Not that Pennsylvania does ot practice team work, for she certainly does. But her style of unison play is not equal to that of Harvard. Harvard has at last learned the art of team play from Yale, and she is now playing a game which, for systematic interference and defensive work, is far above that of the Quakers, and here will lie the secret of her success.

From the comparison which has been made of the two teams it is also possible to predict to a certain extent the style of game each will play. Harvard, with a strong center opposing her, will undoubtedly confine herself chiefly to around-the-end plays, in which she will have the assistance of two splendid end rushers, one tackle and a quarter-back. At times she will also undoubtedly attack Pennsylvania's right center, where Mackie should have no difficulty in making a hole for the backs.

Unless C. Brewer fully recovers from his injuries she is not likely to indulge in kicking only when she is forced to, for that was the way in which she lost the game at Springfield. The Quakers, on the other hand, are sure to depend largely on a kicking game, for with Brooke behind the line this will be her strongest fort. Then at Harvard's right center, which is weak, she will frequently send her backs. Around-the-end plays, except in the case of tricks and of Osgood, are not likely to be frequently attempted by her.

The game will be played on the university grounds, and begin promptly at 2 o'clock. Special provisions have been made, and room for 25,000 spectators has been arranged. This, however, it is feared, will not accommodate the crowd which will wish to attend.

Suddenly Stricken Blind.

South Norwalk, Nov. 28.—William Nash, commonly known as "Old Pop" Nash, employed by the Tramway company as night watchman, fell from a pile of dirt last midnight but was apparently unhurt until a couple of hours, when he suddenly became conscious of the fact that his sight was lost.

It was found to-day that he had sustained an injury to his spine, and it is feared he has lost his sight permanently.

The engagement of Mr. Gustave Greenbaum of this city to Miss Bertha Loeb of Chicago is announced.

Financial.

A Good Deal of Firmness Characterized the Dealings at the Opening.

New York, Nov. 28.—The opening dealings at the stock exchange were characterized by a good deal of firmness, owing mainly to an advance of 1 per cent. in Northwest, to 99. The rise in this stock was attributed to purchases of about 10,000 shares for the account of a leading bear operator. The general list failed to sympathize to any extent improving only ⅛ to ⅜ per cent. This occasioned no little disappointment, especially as London came in as a buyer and took several thousand shares of St. Paul and other stocks. The rise only seemed to serve to stimulate those operating for a decline to renewed efforts, and in a short time the whole list developed weakness. The decline was gradual at first, but as the absence of support became more marked the downward movement gathered force. The apprehension of a most unfavorable statement of earnings for October by the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy and the rise in exchange induced selling for both accounts, and the fact that the success of the government loan has utterly failed to stimulate speculation also acted as a damper upon the market.

Late in the day a rumor gained currency that the Sugar trust had ordered all the refineries in the combination closed, and a sharp drive was made against that stock, which dropped from 89¾ to 86⅜. Officials stated after the close of business that the rumor was untrue and that the refineries will be closed only over the Thanksgiving holiday. After Sugar the greatest declines were 1⅞ in Delaware and Hudson to 125⅝, ex-dividend, 1⅞ in Lead, to 38⅛; 1¾ in Northwest, to 97¼; 1⅝ in Chicago Gas, to 71½; 1¼ in St. Paul, to 57⅜; 1 in Rock Island, to 60½; 1½ in Burlington and Quincy, to 69¾; 1⅝ in Lake Shore, to 133½ and 2 in Michigan Central, to 97.

Final quotations showed a recovery of ¼ to 1 percent., the latter in Lead. Among the specialties Consolidated Gas advanced 2¼ to 125, and Pittsburg and Western preferred ½ to 30½, while American Tobacco broke 2¾ to 94¼ and preferred 1 to 108. The market closed barely steady at the recovery already noted.

Railway bonds were quiet and lower. Sales were $964,000.

STOCKS

INVESTMENT or SPECULATION.

T. E. WARD & CO.

Bankers and Brokers,
31 & 33 Broadway, New York City.

STOCKS, BONDS, GRAIN, COTTON, COFFEE.

Bought and sold for cash, or carried on 8 to 5 per cent. margin. Commission 1-16.

IF YOU WANT TO KEEP POSTED YOU SHOULD SEND FOR OUR DAILY MARKET LETTER, WHICH TELLS YOU WHEN TO SELL AS WELL AS WHAT AND WHEN TO BUY.

You should also send for our CIRCULAR, which gives some valuable suggestions in the way of avoiding losses. If you will examine every account you ever had which showed you a loss, and then figure out what you would have made following our rules, you will say your losses were unnecessary.

We have the largest offices, employ more clerks, more brokers, have more private wires, use more telephones, and have a larger number of customers than any other brokers' office in the world.

If you are making money where you are, don't change, but if you are running behind, give us a chance. If you are speculating in the NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE, quit at once and try the CONSOLIDATED, where you can save half the commission, and all of the interest, if you wish.
