Yankees Think They Can Get Slugger Joe Jackson

REDS SIGN CHINAMAN TO PLAY OUTFIELD

Cincinnati, Feb. 2.—The Cincinnati Reds, in all probability, will like the Chicago White Sox, to be reinforced by a crack Chinese athlete in the spring.

The Reds' Chinaman—rather half-Chinese athlete—will be Foster, who alternates between the outfield and the pitching slab of the same.

The Mogolian hurled against Grover Cleveland Alexander in one game. He seemed to have everything—speed, control, flashing curves and guinness under fire.

Foster is a son of a white merchant who married a Chinese girl in Honolulu. He is over six feet tall, built very much on the lines of Chief Bender.

Foster will, in as short a time as it takes the mails to reach Honolulu, receive the proper documents inviting him into the major league.

Foster played in this city against the Yost team when the Chinese club visited this city.

Yingling of Reds May Report To Salt Lake City

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 2.—Earl Yingling, Cincinnati Reds' pitcher, and formerly with Brooklyn, is slated to be given the smartest thing in baseball spring fashion—the unconditional release.

Yingling will be given his unconditional release, and will probably go to the Salt Lake City (Utah) club. Manager Blankenship of the Salt Lake club, spent of all yesterday with Yingling at the latter's home in Lebanon, O., in his effort to get his signature to a Salt Lake contract.

"If Yingling wants to accept Blankenship's offer, he will be allowed to do so," said President Herrmann of the Reds. Neither Blankenship nor Yingling would tell the result of their conference.

Reulbach Fired As Slap to Players' Fraternity, Rumor Says

The unconditional release of Fletcher Edwards, who has been with the Brooklyn club, is regarded as a direct slap at the Players' Fraternity. It is believed to indicate the attitude club owners are beginning to take toward the members of the fraternity who show undue activity in the ranks of the ball clubs.

Several players expressed the opinion that Reulbach had not been released because it was thought that his days as a big league pitcher were over. They believed that President Ebbets had obtained waivers on Reulbach through a gentlemen's agreement in order that he might be re-bought for the "missionary" work he attempted to do among the Dodgers last season.

Reulbach is secretary of the Players' Fraternity and has been one of the chief aids of President Dave Fultz. Brooklyn fans, as well as the management of the club believe that Reulbach exerted an influence on the players last season that was not for the best interests of the club, and which, by some, accounted as the cause for the cliques that sprang up in the club.

Reulbach has been in bad favor with the management of the Dodgers since before the season opened last year, and his actions throughout the season, accompanied by the fact that he did not show Manager Robinson anything much in the pitching line, did not tend to improve matters for him.

He never made any attempt to leap to the Federals or use the outlaws as a wedge to pry off a raise, but one time last fall, when several of the Dodgers were threatening to jump, Robby was overheard to say that he would not mind if Reulbach would take the leap.

YANKS WILL TAKE 30 TO 40 TRAINING CAMP

New York, Feb. 2.—Manager Donovan of the Yankees is planning to take nearly 30 players south next month. The list will include half a dozen recruits who have been recommended to Wild Bill by various experts.

Donovan will play eight experienced boxmen, Ray Caldwell, Ray Fisher, Ray Keating, Jack Warhop, King Cole, Carroll Brown, and Cy Fiech. It is believed that he will retain all but the last named. Sweeney, Nunamaker and young Schwert of the University of Pennsylvania will be the catchers.

Walter Pipp, the former Detroit and Rochester first baseman, will be a regular, as Muller will be sent to the Indianapolis American Association club. Maisei, the champion base stealer, is sure of third bag, and Roger Peckinpaugh will cover short field. Ebone is the leading candidate for second base, but if a heavier hitter can be developed he may be supplanted.

Donovan will probably keep Aragon, the Cuban infielder, who is playing fine ball in Havana, this winter, but Trussdale and Brubaker, the latter drafted from Bay City, will probably be released.

Six outfielders are to be tried out. Cook, High and Rehr appear to have the call, with Roy Hartzell to be kept as utility man. There seems to be few spots for major leaguers. He came here last season, in exchange for Jimmy Walsh of the Athletics.

BUSINESS MANAGER OF YANKEES WAS ENTHUSIASTIC FAN

Harry Sparrow, the new business manager of the Yankees, assumed active control of the club yesterday. Sparrow has been indirectly connected with baseball for seventeen years, yet we venture to say that very few of the fans even know him by sight.

Sparrow came into baseball through the door of the pastime. He is a hold of the business end of the club, and Huston and Ruppert purchasing it, gives New York a ball team owned and run by three men from the ranks of the fans.

Harry's first interest in the game developed seventeen years ago, when he formed a strong friendship for John J. McGraw. He was an advertising man at the time, but through association with the Baltimore team, became a rabid diamond devotee.

When McGraw came to New York and began his reputation with the Giants, Sparrow became a fixture at the Polo Grounds. His enthusiasm even carried him so far that he soon began making the road trips with the team.

The old bromide, "If business interferes with pleasure, give up business," that antedates even Joe Miller's wheezes, finds a living example in Harry Sparrow. Baseball is his pleasure, advertising his business, but in a few short years baseball had quite pushed business right out of his young life.

His name became personal representative for McGraw. He and the little Nap were inseparable. Yet so far as the public was concerned, Harry Sparrow continued to be merely a roving gentleman who periodically inhabited the press stand at the Polo Grounds, and now and then had his name in the paper, tacked on to some merry quip or sporting jest.

Last year when McGraw and Co. decided to tour the universe, Harry started to go along as one of the party. The trip had no sooner begun, however, when McGraw's business end of it fell on his shoulders.

Ted Sullivan, of course, was originally supposed to manage the journey. Harry was to be a "stand-in" for another story. All we will say is that we suspect that Ted spelled manage with a "mis" before it. Anyway, on Sparrow fell the burden of the job.

Harry made more money between here and the coast for the tourists than a baseball party ever made before or since. Not only that, but he made paying proposition of the entire tour, and after paying the party's expenses, had a substantial balance on the profit side of the ledger.

Sparrow's wonder work of the journey convinced McGraw that he was capable of taking care of any business proposition, no matter how large or how involved. When Huston and Reulbach came to buy the Yankee club, McGraw recommended Sparrow for the business management. His appointment was assured from the time his name was mentioned.

GIANTS ORDERED TO START FEB. 28 FOR MARLIN CAMP

New York, Feb. 2.—Marching orders were sent yesterday to the various Giant detachments by Secretary John B. Foster, whose plans have been somewhat altered by recent changes which prevent any ball army from attacking a training camp prior to March 1.

All the rookies and camp followers have received orders to be in Marlin by Feb. 28, and to go by the quickest way from their homes. Regular players, who are unable to make connections with the New York club, are given special passes and are instructed to be in Marlin by Monday, March 1.

The New York detachment will leave here on Feb. 25, and McGraw probably will be in command of the army of invasion, provided he does not find golf so enticing as to keep him in Cuba until late in the month. Secretary Foster yesterday reviewed the signed contract of Emilio Palmero, the young Cuban left-hander, who was with the Giants at odd moments last season. Palmero has been pitching great ball in Cuba, and may now be ripe for the big show. McGraw intends to give the youngster a thorough trial next spring.

EASTERN MAY ADOP SPLIT SEASON PLAN

New Haven, Feb. 2.—The Eastern association directors at their adjourned meeting here yesterday afternoon decided to resume operations during the coming season with six clubs. Investigation of conditions in Waterbury and Northampton revealed discouraging reports, and the directors required little time to reach a decision over the makeup of the circuit.

The selecting of opening and holiday dates, which are subject to change, discussion regarding the possible adoption of the split-season idea, and the overthrow of Bill Sinski featured the day's business. The circuit as it comprised will include New Haven, Bridgeport, Hartford, New London, Springfield and Pittsfield. No startling developments materialized at the meeting, and the Federal league was discussed with interest.

Messrs. Sinski and O'Rourke submitted the report concerning the visit to Northampton and Waterbury, respectively, and in both instances those towns offered little encouragement for league baseball.

The Eastern association was authorized to frame two schedules, one with games starting on April 28 and closing on Labor day. The other is to be divided on with games starting on April 28 and closing on July 4, to be followed by another starting on July 5 and terminating on Labor day. The latter arrangement is known as the split-season, the winner in the first series to play the winner in the final series five games at the close of the season to determine the league champion.

The directors will probably adopt the split-season schedule at the next meeting. President O'Rourke will confer with President Murnane of the New England league in an effort to have that organization adopt a similar schedule. The idea first originated in a southern minor league.

ANNIVERSARIES OF RING BATTLES

1841—Nick Ward won on foul from Ben Caunt, in 5th round at Andover Station, Eng. Nick Ward was a brother of the famous Jack Ward, the ex-champion of England, and he had all the ability of his older brother, but was "yellow" to the core. His lack of courage was evident from the first and by running away from Caunt he gained the decision on a foul.

JACK EGAN TURNED OVER TO LEAGUE AS PART OF CLUB DEBT

Cleveland Americans To Give Second Baseman Hammond Of Springfield A Trial

(By Wagner) Jack Egan of this city who caught good ball for New Britain last season, is among the players turned over to the Eastern association by Owner Sinski in payment of the debt the New Britain magnate owes the league. Egan and Outfielder Jones are the two most valuable players in the lot. Eastern association clubs will be given first chance to bid for these men and if they are not wanted in this section the players will be sold to other leagues.

There were several good players on the New Britain roster last season. Catcher Poland was a promising youngster and also Pitcher Lub Smith. Hancock is also a reliable pitcher. Harry Noyes, who covered third base, is slow but steady. The Yankees are believed to be through as a twirler. Sinski only owes the league $375 and it is believed the amount can easily be realized by the sale of players.

The Cleveland Americans want to take Infielder Hammond of Springfield for a trial during their spring training. Lee Fohl, who managed Waterbury last year, was impressed with Hammond's work last season. Fohl is acting as coach for the Cleveland youngsters and he recommended Hammond for a trial.

In Buffalo last night Champion Johnny Kilbane beat Young Kansas of that city in a ten round bout. Kansas did well in the first seven rounds and held the champion even but was outclassed in the last three stanzas.

Outfielder Whitted of the Braves still refuses to be sent to the Phillies as part of the trade by which Magee went to the Braves. Whitted says he wants to stay with a champion-

ST. CHARLES AND HEARTS WIN IN HOLY NAME LEAGUE

St. John's—Lucas J. Sekerak 2—3. Sacred Hearts—6. Referee—Canning. Time—20 minute halves.

Previous to the two league games a preliminary game was played between the Pioneers and the St. Charles, jr.s, the latter meeting defeat by 13 to 2. The Pioneers were reinforced by the work of Snyder, the slinger star of the St. Mary boys. The St. Charles jr.s challenge the St. Augustine's through the columns of The Farmer for a game to be played on next Monday evening in St. Charles' hall at 7:30 p. m. Answer through this paper.

St. Charles vs. St. Mary's. The game between the "Jinx" and St. Mary's was as lively as could be from a St. Charles' roster standpoint.

The boys from "Jinxville" played rings around the St. Mary's in the second half. At the end of the first half the score was 16 to 11 in favor of St. Charles. When the second half started the "Jinx" shot a basket almost before the referee's whistle had reached the floor.

They then swarmed all over the floor and no matter where you looked you would find Christy or Horkheimer bobbing up and down. The latter two players were the stars of the evening. Christy caging nine baskets while Horky went him a close second by tossing seven. This is the largest score as yet made by St. Charles' and if they can play the same ball on Friday as they did in the second half last night they will stand a chance of being tied for first place.

St. John's vs. Sacred Heart. No comment on this game is necessary except that the usual result occurred. Manager Lucas of the John's had his team on the floor in 5 1/2 time and is deserving of great credit for the way in which he dug the team up. MUST STOP JOY RIDING IN FEDERAL

New York, Feb. 2.—It was announced by President James A. Gilmore of the Federal League during his recent visit here that a big gathering of the Federal League clubs would be held at Buffalo in about three weeks. Not only the club owners will be present, but also the managers, and President Gilmore expects to lay down the law to the managers concerning a new policy of discipline which is to be enforced next season.

Some of the players in the Federal League last year took things pretty easy, and they regard many of the trips around the circuit as "joy rides." President Gilmore is going to put an end to "joy riding," and next season the players have got to show a lot more ambition and interest and play the game for all it is worth. No more late hours will be tolerated.

If any of the players show up next spring in as poor condition as last year's did last year, President Gilmore announces that the league will not hesitate to drop them, no matter who they are. Some of the players who signed last year's contracts regarded their jobs as secure last season and took things pretty easy. These players have got to show something next season, or there is trouble in store for them.

Before leaving for Chicago, President Gilmore stated that the baseball men in New England with whom he conferred last Saturday were all willing to put up a bonus of $2,500 to insure their good faith in the new minor league venture. It is not the object of the Federal League to have the minor league under its protection, but to form a sort of new independent minor league.

Nothing will be done about the organization of the new minor league until after the Federal League meeting at Buffalo.

RIBBONS MAY GET REVENGE TONIGHT FOR NORWALK LOSS

The Blue Ribbon basketball team met its first defeat in many weeks when it lavished South Norwalk last night. The South Norwalk five took an exciting game by 34 to 27, much to the surprise of the Ribbons. The latter have a good ally, however, for they were without the services of Swenson, Bargo, who played guard, could not show the form of the speedy redhead.

Big George Smith played center for South Norwalk and Smollich of the Knickerbockers was at forward. These two played in fine form. Smith cast five and Smollich got three. Smith, in memory of his hard time with Leonard in past games, refused to work against him and insisted on trailing Capt. Beckman. The latter got five goals.

Although the Ribbons played hard they were behind practically all the time. At the end of the first period South Norwalk was ahead by 14 and increased this lead in the second half. Jimmy Clinton had an off night in shooting, although he managed to get six from the foul line. Leonard got a good amount of himself.

The second game in the series will be played tonight in Colonial hall when the Ribbons hope to reverse the score. Swenson has promised to be on hand tonight. He works in a New York bank and the rush at the first of the month kept him busy last night. Harry Wallum will referee. There will be a preliminary game and dancing. Last night's lineup:

BRIDGEPORT TO MEET ALGONQUINS IN BILLIARD GAME

At the Bridgeport club to-night the Cannon street billiard players will take on the Algonquin club experts in the inter-club series. The Algonquins have been very successful lately but the Bridgeports may furnish some surprises.

One of the big matches of the evening is expected to be between Billy Gerrell, the Bridgeport star, and Dr. Hawley of the Algonquins. Gerrell broke a tournament record last week. Murray Elin of the Bridgeports will play against Billy Eaton of the Indians and Charles Hall of the Bridgeports will meet A. M. Dean of the Algonquins.

JOE JACKSON MAY COME TO NEW YORK

New York, Feb. 2.—When the American League assembles here tomorrow, it is expected that an announcement will be made in relation to an important transaction accomplished with a view of strengthening the Yankees. President Ban Johnson said yesterday that more than one big trade was in view, and he had strong hopes that some of them would go through in order to give the new owners of the club here a better team with which to start the season.

President Johnson refused to divulge the plans the local club's manager, Bill Donovan, had in mind, but it is known that Donovan has been recalled from the South in order to be here tomorrow to take part in the negotiations for new players.

When Manager Donovan visited Cleveland a few weeks ago to sign Roger Peckinpaugh, it is said he had a long conference with the Cleveland club officials in regard to a big trade whereby Outfielder Joe Jackson would come into possession of the New York club. It is understood that the new owners are willing to pay a high price for the Cleveland star. Jackson's pitching staff is a good one, and his infield should come up to form this season.

A hard hitting outfield, would go a long way toward making the Yankees a very formidable club, and it is expected that a strong effort will be made to sign Jackson. The Yankees officials yesterday refused to discuss what players they would try to land during the meeting tomorrow.

Big Bowling Congress May Be Held Next Time on Boston Alleys

New England has taken a firm hold of the Atlantic Coast Bowling association tournament proposed for May, and although Baltimore, Washington and Philadelphia seek the first big honor, the New England bowlers are in no question but what New England, with its thousands of bowlers, will make history in bowling circles in the eastern part of the United States.

The Atlantic Coast Bowling association tournament will be the first tournament ever held in the United States, wherein candle pins, ten pins and duck pins have been bowled. Unlike tournaments of other organizations held in New England at various times, the Atlantic Coast Bowling association tournament will be positive-ly neutral. Past tournaments of other organizations have been held on private alleys in different cities. This year's tournament will be held on alley owners in the same city in which a tournament has been held.

In May, the Atlantic Coast Bowling association will have installed in a large public hall in Boston, Mass., fifteen alleys, built especially for the tournament which is to attract bowlers east of Cleveland and Pittsburgh. This territory includes New York state, New Jersey, Maryland and points south to Florida. The alleys will be used for the tournament only, and at the close of the great convention of ten pins, candle pins and duck pin shooters, they will be removed from the building.

First, however, bowlers must remember New England is to have this big tournament. The tournament is prepared to out-vote Baltimore, Washington and Philadelphia at the meeting, which will be held February 16. The tournament will be held in the section having the most members. New England has more bowlers than the rest of the eastern territory combined. Bowlers becoming members must first be members of the Atlantic Coast Bowling association tournament to be held in Boston in May, all that is necessary for them to do is to get their memberships and hustle for the coming tournament.

Already memberships are coming in to the headquarters of the Atlantic Coast Bowling Association, 94 Washington street, Boston, Mass. These memberships are from bowlers in all parts of New England, and although it will not be decided until next month just where the tournament will be held, there is no question but the number of bowling officials in Boston that the Hub will get the tournament. However, all bowlers interested in the holding of the tournament are requested to get full information from alley man or from the headquarters of the organization at 94 Washington street, Boston, Mass.

All directors of the Virginia Railway were re-elected at the stockholders' meeting in Norfolk.
