EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON. George O'Donnell kicked 109 consecutive points after touchdown — George "Bruin" O'Donnell, present assistant coach at Iowa Wesleyan, made this unique record in actual competition while playing on the Billings (Montana) high school team in 1920 and on the Denver university squad in 1921. The Billings high team scored 96 touchdowns in 8 games, and after each the O'Donnell placed-kicked the extra point. While at Denver U. he ran his total up to 109 before he missed, then kicked 10 straight, missed again, and kicked 5 more, making a total of 121 out of a possible 126 for the two seasons.

PROVIDED FOR IN ACT

The transportation act passed by congress in 1920 provides for a consolidation of railroads into a limited number of strong systems in order to maintain broader competition more adequate service, simplification of rate structure, lower operating costs and in the long run lower rates to the public.

DELAYS RETARD RAILROADS

These uncertainties and delays over nearly ten years have seriously retarded development of the railroads and have prevented a desirable growth in many directions and have diminished the ability to compete with other forms of transportation.

worth his while to act alone in the matter. He stated in the letter that a long investigation into Jones' private and business affairs had led him to believe that he would pay well to escape the anger of a blood-thirsty enemy. The epistle warned him that he would be shot with a "nickel plated bullet" if he acted the least bit suspicious or sought to learn the identity of the author. It continued to state that the motto of his gang was to hit the victim with the first bullet and then to continue to fire in his general direction until the gun was emptied.
