Women Must Tell Their Age When They Are Worn In

Legislature Failed To Amend the Law in Reference to the Making of Voters Though It Amended the Law Clearly With the Registration of Applicants.

Hartford, Oct. 7.—Women will have to tell their ages in Connecticut, after all, if they wish to vote in the November elections. The discovery has been made by Registrar of Voters Andrew G. Nystrom that the chivalrous Legislature, though providing that members of the gentler sex could be pleasingly indefinite when applying to be made, accidentally (perhaps) overlooked any provision for cloaking ages when taking the elector's oath.

GET WATERBURY BANDITS IN THE BOMBER LIMIT

With the arrest of four men, in connection with the recent bombing explosion in Wall Street, yesterday the police succeeded in capturing three of the six alleged bandits who entered a Waterbury coffee house on the night of Sept. 22 and carried away money and jewelry valued at $2,000.

Giacomo Caruso, one of the men arrested yesterday, was seized in connection with the bombing of the explosion in Wall Street, yesterday. He was armed with a big calibre revolver, but did not get a chance to use this weapon owing to the rapid work of Detective Cornelius Brown, who took him into custody. The arrest was made at the Second Avenue elevated station in Chatham square, New York city. A short time later, detectives raided an East 15th street Italian barber shop, where they arrested 13 men. Among the prisoners were Vincenzo Abato and Frank A. Ferro, who are alleged to have participated in the Waterbury hold-up.

Seven days after the Wall street explosion, Caruso and seven other men took a train from New York to Waterbury. Government agents boarded the same train, but lost their men in the Italian quarter in Waterbury. On the same night the coffee house of Louis Bevino was entered by six unmasked men, who held up a crowd of customers at the points of revolver and knife. The men carried away $2,000 worth of jewelry and cash.

Five of the victims went to New York yesterday and identified Caruso, Ferro and Abato as the Waterbury robbers. Government agents are of the opinion that Caruso will be fortunate if he is charged only with the hold-up and concealed weapon offenses. Five pounds of powder, similar to that used in making the Wall Street explosion, was found in the barber shop where two of the hold-up men were captured.

Detective Cornelius Brown, who arrested Caruso, is the leader of the robbers, worked in Bridgeport last year in connection with the Binkowitz murder mystery. His work in this and other cities resulted in the arrest of several persons, and the recovery of a large portion of the bonds which were stolen from a New York bank messenger is said to have stolen.

MESSAGE SENT BY MAC SWINEY

London, Oct. 7.—From his bed in the Brixton jail infirmary, Terence MacSwiney, the hunger striking Lord Mayor of Cork today sent what may be his final message to his fellow countrymen. The message was sent through his brother, Peter MacSwiney of New York, who has just arrived here. It says: "Terence wishes me to say that he sends love to President De Valera of the Irish Republic and to the people of the American people. He and his comrades in the Cork jail are determined to offer up their lives for the Irish Republic. Terence is weak but conscious and his determination has never wavered."

This was the fifty-sixth day of Terence MacSwiney's hunger strike.

At 10:30 this morning Levine was resting quietly and that the only injury of note being a quick healing scalp wound. The number of the trolley was 271. The driver's name was James 4617. So far as known no one was hurt.

POLICEMAN ROUGHS IT WITH YEGG

Early Morning Battle on Stratford Avenue Which Aroused Residents.

While patrolling his beat along Stratford avenue at 3:30 o'clock this morning Patrolman Joseph Kasperak of the Second precinct, noticed a colored man standing in the doorway of the S. Scrapana store at the corner of Stratford avenue and Beardsley lane, acting in a suspicious manner. He approached the man and asked him what he was doing in the doorway. The man replied that he had stopped in there to light a cigarette to get away from the wind which was blowing. The officer didn't take kindly to the story and made a search of the man's person and found a Coca Cola bottle in his hip pocket camouflaged with a child's stocking, 50 cents in a bank roll of pennies, some cigarettes and matches. His suspicions then fully aroused by the search of the man's person the officer made an investigation of the doorway and found a one-half inch wood chisel stuck in the transom of the door, giving the appearance that the man had been trying to gain an entrance to the place by forcing the transom.

While the cop was making his investigation of the door the colored man jumped on him from the rear. A struggle followed and the colored man broke away and ran down Beardsley street. The officer gave chase and fired one shot but the man refused to stop. The chase led through a back yard on the street. The man crouched in the yard near the ash bin and when discovered made another attempt to assault the cop. The two men struggled again and the colored man again broke away and leaped the fence. Before the break the officer got in one telling blow on the colored man's face, and broke and ran the officer fired two shots after him one of them he believes took effect. Several other policemen then appeared on the scene in answer to Kasperak's rap on the curb for aid. A thorough search of the neighborhood was made and the man was identified as George Judin, the alleged burglar, and are coming the city in an effort to locate the man. The proprietor of the store reported that a govt. man, Kasperak having saved him from considerable loss.

GET BURGLAR AT GUN POINT

Arrested early this morning and charged with burglary, William Egnotsky of New Haven was arraigned in the City court later and bound over to the December term of the Criminal Superior court under bonds of $2,000. Egnotsky in company with another man was seen to enter the Union Square garage about 10 o'clock this morning. Patrolman George Toivis, who waited outside and when the men came out he held them up at the point of a gun. The man who was identified as Daniel Ryan appeared with Egnotsky and assisted in the arrest. One of the men broke away from the custody of the officer and fled up Union Square. Patrolman Toivis fired one shot after the man and then started in pursuit but was unable to catch the man. Egnotsky pleaded guilty to the charge in the court this morning.

Baker Answers All Questions On League

Secretary of War Makes a Big Hit With Crowd at Eagles' Hall Yesterday.

A big crowd packed Eagles hall to capacity last night to hear Hon. Newton D. Baker, secretary of war for the United States, talk on the League of Nations. Coming directly from Washington, regarded as speaking directly for his chief, President Woodrow Wilson, the audience expected to hear interesting facts stated from the viewpoint of the originator and author of the much discussed covenant and they were not disappointed. For 45 minutes Secretary Baker in a calm, dispassionate address, outlined, explained and defended the fourteen points of the covenant in clear and convincing manner and then when he was finished with his speech, courteously accorded the members of the audience opportunity to ask questions and for one hour and fifteen minutes he stood on the platform, alternately quizzed and hounded, and for one hour and fifteen minutes he as courteously and patiently again outlined and explained and defended his position. With but two or three exceptions the questions propounded were by listeners who simply desired elucidation on points doubtful in their understanding. A well-known socialist agitator undertook to heckle the secretary with a string of questions but before he had completed his first question he displayed such a woful ignorance of what he was trying to be annoying about that had it not been for the prompt intervention on two occasions by the secretary, he would have undoubtedly have roughly escorted him from the hall. As it was he was eventually hooded down. Secretary Baker in his speech paid a very complimentary tribute to Rollin U. Tyler and Leut. Devine and other Democratic candidates who were on the platform with him. (Continued on Page 2.)

NO RIGHT TO CLOSE STORES

Judge Wilder Condemns Methods Used By Sheriffs in Attachments—Store Keeper Charged With Assault on City Sheriff Is Freed.

Judge Frank L. Wilder in the City court this morning took a rap at the methods used by sheriffs in serving writs of attachment when he declared that methods being used in closing up of stores and other business places when they could just as well cover the amount of the attachment by taking possession of enough goods from the place to cover the amount of the writ is entirely out of order.

The declaration was made during the course of the trial of Hyman Gold who conducts a grocery store at 92 Park avenue and who was arrested by City Sheriff Daniel Delia on last Friday when the sheriff in company with the son of Kalman Goldberger, a produce merchant of 353 Water street visited the Gold store to collect a bill of $54 which Goldberger claimed was due him for merchandise purchased by Gold. Gold was charged with breach of the peace, assault, resisting an officer and interfering with the sheriff. Judge Wilder also looked unfavorably upon the method seemingly used by Goldberger to take a sheriff with him when he set out to collect bills. He told Goldberger that if that was the usual custom that he had better adapt himself to a new custom. In this particular case the judge said that goods to the amount of the bond which Delia asked for could have been taken from the stock of the store and cover the writ until the matter had been settled in the civil court.

CLEVER THIEF GETS $200 AT STATION OFFICE

A sneak thief working a clever ruse at the baggage room of the New Haven line station in this city last night robbed Baggage Master Martin Giblin of $200 in cash and made a clean getaway without being detected. Giblin is unable to give any description of the man.

The office in which Mr. Giblin works is not protected from public gaze and while counting the baggage receipts it is possible for anyone to observe his movements and it is presumed that the man who did the job is pretty well acquainted around the premises and also was well acquainted with Mr. Giblin's movements during the day.

When the robbery was committed Mr. Giblin had just finished counting the receipts and had placed the money in a wallet preparatory to turning it in at the ticket office. He placed the wallet in his inside vest pocket the vest hanging for a moment upon a hook on the wall. Immediately after placing the money a man stepped into ask some question about baggage. As Giblin started to answer him the stranger suddenly turned away from the ticket office and fled up the stairs. Giblin stepped to look for the change, but when he did so he found the wallet and stepped out of the office. When Giblin looked up the man and wallet were gone.

QUESTIONS ON THE LEAGUE

The Times will print tomorrow a verbatim report of the questions and answers addressed to or made by Secretary of War Baker at the Eagles hall rally. Secretary Baker has been so intimately associated with the war and played such a vast part in the fateful drama that his views are of unusual interest. The considered views of a speaker like Mr. Baker are of course instructive and interesting but his answers to questions most of them hostile and some of them asked for a destructive purpose are more interesting and more instructive. Read the questions and answers in tomorrow's Times.

HARDING SMITH AND MAIS REJECTS RIVAL PITCHERS In Today's Game

At Des Moines He Says He Will Have Nothing To Do With Present Covenant But Will Consult With Americans After Election in An Association For Peace.

Enroute with Senator Harding, Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 7.—Senator Warren G. Harding opened his five day invasion of the Middle West today with a broadside attack upon the Wilson League of Nations, and a promise that as soon as possible after election he will consult with the "best minds" of the country and especially with the United States Senate, toward the formation of an association of nations designed to promote international peace.

Speaking for the first time since President Wilson's recent appeal in the League's behalf, Senator Harding asserted that the League already has been "scrapped" by the hand of its own architect.

"To those," he said, "who desire to incur the hazard of entrusting any of the powers of the republic to the direction of a super government or to a council for foreign powers, I frankly say: 'Vote the Democratic ticket and protect you from the consequences of your folly.'"

"Interpretative" or "clarifying" reservations, designed to make more specific America's obligations under the league are not sufficient safeguards for American independence, Senator Harding declared. These obligations, he said, are already specific enough.

MIGHT ACCEPT DOMINION RULE

London, Oct. 7.—Leaders of the Sinn Fein have intimated that although they desire complete separation of Ireland from England, they would not oppose a broad measure of dominion home rule if it can be proved a majority of the Irish people demand it, the Daily Mail says today.

SUGAR DROPS TO 11 CENTS

New York, Oct. 7.—A new low record was made today in the local sugar market when the U. S. Army and Sugar Refining Company reduced the price of refined sugar one cent a pound to eleven cents.

The new low for the year was within two cents of the price prevailing when the industry was under the control of government. Raw sugar sold at 3 cents, duty paid, or less than a cent above the government fixed price last year.

SAY VOTERS ARE BARRED FROM LIST

Claim That Registration Office Should Have Been Opened Till Six.

"Fifty and perhaps a hundred men and women who were entitled to register were deprived of their right by the stubbornness of a public official who refused to abide by the law or take legal advice," was the comment of a prominent Republican on the action of Republican General Registrar William Lounsbury, who on Tuesday afternoon closed the doors of the registrars' office at 5 o'clock and refused to allow those who were waiting to enter and register.

There were about 15 waiting at 5 o'clock and the first man in the line went in and was informed that it was one minute after 5 and therefore he was too late.

The law passed at the special session of the Legislature explicitly says that the registrars should receive applications until 5 o'clock, standard time, which means 6 o'clock, daylight saving time.

Attorney Samuel C. Shaw saw Lounsbury in reference to the matter early Tuesday and discussed the closing hour with him.

HITCHCOCK AND HOLT HERE ON SATURDAY NIGHT

United States Senator Gilbert H. Hitchcock and Hamilton Holt, editor of the Independent, will be the principal speakers at the second night of the staged by the Democratic Town Committee.

These men are recognized throughout the country as among the most eloquent and able of the great string of orators that are taking the stump in the interest of the election of the Democratic nominees and everywhere they go they are given great ovations and their presentation of the issues of the campaign are winning many independent votes for the party.

Senator Hitchcock is the Democratic leader of the Senate and to him fell the burden of carrying on the campaign in favor of the League of Nations and other important legislation since President Wilson was stricken a year ago.

Speaker Confident That the Indians Will Win While Robinson Thinks He Has Cleveland's Measure—Fine Weather for the Game.

The probable line-up today: Cleveland Brooklyn Evans, 1f..... Olsen ss Wambasanos, 2b..... J. Johnston, 8p Speaker, c..... Neill, 1b Burns, 1b..... Wheat, 1f Gardner, 3b..... Myers, of Wood, rf..... Konechky, 1b Sowers, ss..... Kilduff, 2b O'Neill, c..... Miller, c Mails, p..... Smith, p Ebbetts Field, Brooklyn, Oct. 7.—Five hundred fans in line for admission to the park for the third world's series game today hours before the gates opened. "Hot dogs" vendors did a rushing business as did others selling pork chops.

As a result of the first two games many of the best little baseball experts will not be surprised to see the series drawn out—perhaps to the full limit of nine games.

The teams are well matched. They are both fighting aggregations and there is plenty of hitting ability on both sides. As for pitching—the Dodgers have a slight advantage. But it is not great enough to heavily if Speaker can juggle his pitchers successfully in the coming games.

The contest today in all probabilities will be a battle between left-handed pitchers, Sherrod Smith against Walter Johnson. The latter joined the Cleveland club late in August, and by winning six games in a row lifted a big burden off the shoulders of Bagby Coveleskie in the final dash for the flag.
