

Gans Tough Opponent For Louis Bogash

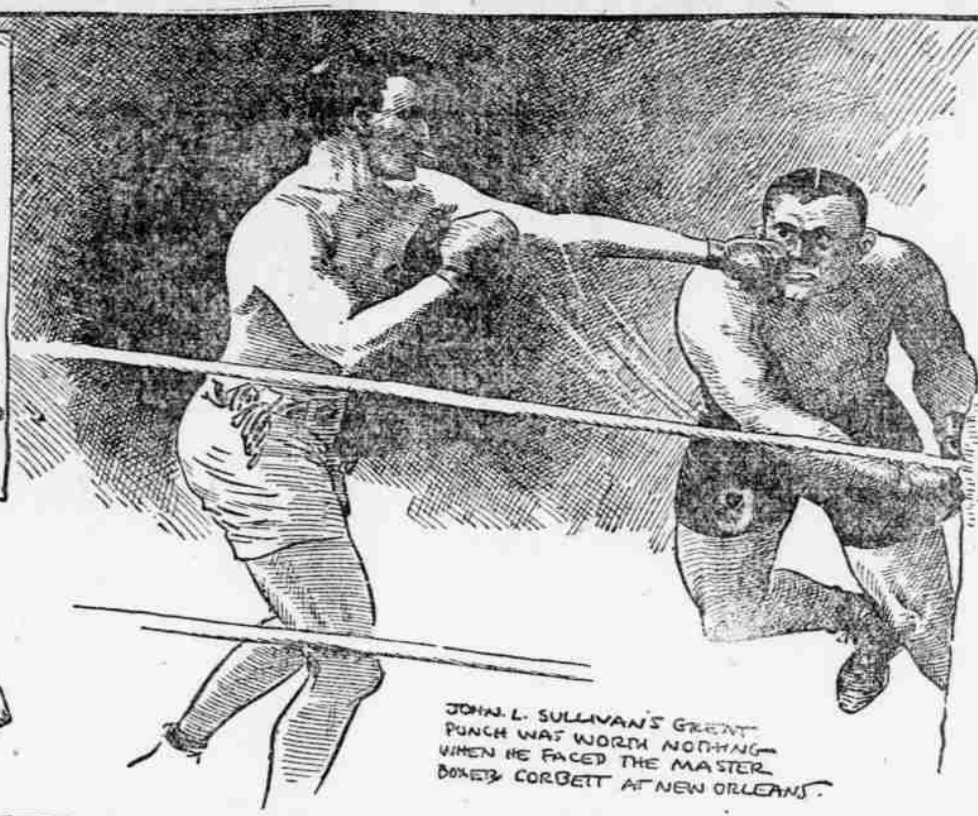

Louis Bogash intends to be in tip-top shape when he meets "Titan Joe" Gans at the Dexter baseball park next Tuesday night in Brooklyn. It will be the first time the local welter and Gans have met in the ring, and as Gans has measured his skill and strength with the best boxers at his weight in the metropolitan district a lively bout is expected to ensue.

Gans' forte is in his in-fighting methods. He has generally been his policy to hit for their hat spot on his opponent's physique and thus wear his rival down. Bogash, knowing this, has decided to give special attention to defensive points in his training at the Acorn A. C., which he started yesterday.

Tommy Madden, Brooklyn middle-weight who stepped up Bogash for his go with Bartfield, is expected to arrive in town today and work with Bogash until the Gans battle, returning here to remain after the Bartfield-Bogash clash which is set for June 20.

Owing to the interest in the Gans-Bogash bout a party of Bridgeport ring sports are planning to take in the set. Archie Cameron will lead a delegation of Acorn A. C. members to the ringside.

SIZE DOES NOT COUNT IN RING BATTLES

KELLY VS. WEEKS

Jimmy Kelly and Weeks will be opponents tonight in a State Duckpin series to be rolled on the Newfield alleys. Last night on Kelly's alleys "Big" Harper won nine out of eleven tilts with Howard on Kelly's alleys. Scores: Harper—105 96 135 138 110 92 95 104 95 111 100—1,201. Howard—104 99 106 95 93 91 51 121 87 94 103—1,084.

SCOTT PERRY JUMPS

Philadelphia, June 3—Scott Perry, star pitcher of the Athletics, has jumped the club to play independent ball at Franklin, Pa.

Perry has been a bone of contention in the American League for several years and at one time a controversy over his services threatened to cause untold trouble.

AFTER SWIM TITLE

New York, June 3—Miss Gertrude Elderle, who recently broke a record in winning the 200-yard high school swimming championship for girls, is in quest of another title. She is after the metropolitan 100-yard women's championship. This event will be held Saturday afternoon, June 11, in the pool at the Brighton Beach Bathing in conjunction with the metropolitan fancy diving championship and a complete program of other aquatic events. Miss Charlotte Boyle will start from scratch in a special 150-yard handicap race.

TENNIS POINTERS

Mr. Lacey, of the Y. M. C. A., will give a demonstration of tennis at the Service Center on Tuesday, June 7, at 2 p. m. At this time Mr. Lacey will be glad to answer all questions for the girls in regards to tennis and show them how to handle the racquet properly or anything else that may be of interest to the girls.

HARRY WILLS TO BOX.

New York, June 3—Harry Wills, the big negro who has been clamoring for a chance to meet Jack Dempsey in a bout for the world's heavyweight championship, will be one of the principals in the main bout of fifteen rounds to feature the opening of the Queensboro A. C.'s big open-air arena at Long Island City tomorrow night. Wills will be pitted against Ray Bennett.

TWO APPEALS FOR RELIEF.

Samuel Cochrane has filed suit in Superior court, asking relief from the assessors of Norwalk who placed a valuation of $18,500 upon land and buildings on Shorehaven road, said to be excessive.

Another appeal from the Norwalk Board of Relief was made by Robert Joscelsky and Nara Koogh. The assessors placed a valuation of $52,000 upon the Music Hall block, adjoining the Clifford Hotel.

SUES FOR STOCK.

Rosa Schiller Hartung of Washington, D. C., has filed suit in Superior court against the First National bank, formerly the First Bridgeport National, asking the court to have returned to her 35 shares of stock in the United States Steel Corporation, claimed by the plaintiff, who states they were in the possession of the late Caroline Hawley, who died Nov. 2, last. Frank T. Staples was named administrator in her will but declined to serve. The Probate court appointing the bank.

SPORT SNAPSHOTS

LAUSANNE, Switz.—The war is over and Austria and Hungary are resumed sport relations.

HANOVER—Springfield Y. M. C. A. college baseball tossers vanquished Dartmouth, 7 to 2.

TORONTO—The Royal Canadian Golf Association has rescinded the new stymie rule.

NEW HAVEN—Between 300 and 400 Nutter's marksmen are expected to compete in the Connecticut Trap-shooting tournament to be staged here June 11 and 12.

NEW YORK—Billy Fitzsimmons was awarded the decision over Willie Davis in their 12-round bout in Yorkers.

Rain will not prevent the bout between Benny Leonard and Rocky Kanawha next Monday night. A canvas roofing will be hoisted should Jupe Pluve threaten to interfere.

BIG LEAGUE DUST

Pipp and Shawkey registered kayoes on the Yankees' hoodoo with home runs. The Browns were the victims, 7 to 2.

Pirates' pennant aspirations were dented by the on-rushing Giants, 7 to 0. Let's see. The Giants are only 25 points behind the league leaders.

Ty Cobb's homer in the tenth put the Tigers in the lead, 5 to 4, defeating the Athletics, 5 to 1.

Cincinnati batted Goodwin, the Cards' veteran, out of the box, winning 8 to 5.

Poll Perritt, Giants' pitcher, is to be released, says a Pittsburgh dispatch.

Pittsburgh has the pennant fever, 20,000 fans seeing the Giants whitewash the Pirates.

NET STARS IN ACTION

Orange, N. J., June 3—Vincent Richards, Iehiya Kumagae and Frederick C. Anderson shared the honors in the invitation lawn tennis tournament on the courts of the Orange Lawn Tennis Club at Mountain Station, N. J.

The national junior champion, Richards, started by volleying so strongly against Valentine B. Havens that he won at 6-2, 6-0. In the next round Richards outplayed Cedric A. Major, the former Cornell star, until the latter fell and was compelled to default. The score was 6-1, 6-3, defaulted.

Kumagae's fast drives accounted for the quick elimination of S. Wallis Merrifield and Philip Vandewater. The former at 6-2, 6-4, and the former Princetonian, 6-2, 6-1.

BOXING BEAUTIES AT ATLANTIC CITY TAKE UP BOXING.

Now that Dempsey is giving exhibitions at Atlantic City, many enthusiasts of the gentler sex have flocked there to see him perform. Dempsey usually takes a plunge into the deep every day, and the girls are not far behind him when it comes to bathing. These pretty bathers, in their Annette Kellermann suits, are giving an exhibition of what they have learned from the champion for the benefit of the camera man. It is well to say the "censor" passed on the bathing suits.

Paddy Ryan Licked By John L. And Robbed Of $300 On The Same Day

(As an added feature to the latest dope on the coming Carpenter and Dempsey championship in Jersey City, July 2, thumb-nail sketches of previous heavyweight fights will be carried daily. Today's first installment recounts the famous battle between John L. Sullivan and Paddy Ryan, back in 1882.)

SULLIVAN-RYAN BATTLE. The coming Dempsey-Carpenter battle for the world's heavyweight championship recalls records of the former titans and the manner in which the championship passed along to the present defender.

The first of the modern clashes officially advertised as heavyweight championship importance took place July 7, 1882, at Mississippi City, just across the Louisiana line from New Orleans. John L. Sullivan was the victor, walloping Paddy Ryan with bare fists.

The bout lasted nine rounds. There were only eleven minutes of fighting, however. In those days a round could be anything from an emphatic gesture to a day's work.

There were important fights long before then, even as far back as the one-round encounter between Cain and Abel, but the sport record books count time from the collision at Mississippi City.

Sullivan, born in Boston, weighed 190 pounds, and Ryan, a native of Tipperary, was ten pounds lighter. Paddy sank beneath a cross-fire of rights and lefts in the ninth round, and his seconds tossed up the sponge. The Irishman's left jaw had been broken in two places by Sullivan's sunshack.

Paddy staggered to his dressing quarters to discover that while he had been taking a sound thrashing, some rascals had stolen all of his clothes and the $300 they contained. He was flat broke, for the winner got the entire purse.

News of the Boston youth's victory set off a big celebration among the sports of his home town.

"The boys were out in full force," said a newspaper account of the jubilation, "and the fight was freely discussed. Money and wine were as free as water, for the winnings were heavy."

BRAVES "CAN" TOWNSEND.

Boston, June 3—The Boston Nationals have released Leo Townsend, a left hand pitcher, to the Charleston, S. C., club of the South Atlantic League. He has been ailing with a sore arm.

HITTING THE SPORT TRAIL

With Geo. E. Firstbrook

Baseball averages do not always make the best of players. This is evident in the flashy brand of baseball being uncorked by Kingdon, the Bridgeport shortstop. On figures Kingdon looks like a selling plaster, but in a game he sparkles with the glitter of a million dollars on a pile of twenty-dollar gold pieces.

Kingdon records show that Kingdon's batting average with the Portland team of the Pacific Coast League was but .196 in the 129 games in which he participated, while he had a fielding mark of .909.

Kingdon by his brilliant playing in the recent home games has floated into the affections of local fans. He's a chap who will break up many games by his timely batting, although he may not pile up a clouting average of .300. He's fast and full of "zip," fully equal to the sensational and spectacular Gonzales of the Springfield Ponies. It is not amiss to label him the peer of Eastern League shortstops.

Kingdon may yet blossom into a batter of the savage type. The cause of Rogers Hornsby, champion batter of the National League and first baseman of the St. Louis Nationals, is recalled.

It is only a few years ago that Miller Huggins, then with the Cards, "spotted" Hornsby playing on the Dennison team in the Texas-Oklahoma League. At the time Hornsby was only hitting around the .220 mark, but Huggins knew he had the big league stuff in his system, with the result that Hornsby was developed into one of the stars of the national sport.

Remembering the case of Hornsby, just glance at the major league scores a few years hence and you will see what Kingdon is doing. If he continues his present fast clip a rosy future awaits him.

During his expectant wait for reinstatement action at the hands of Judge Landis Benny Knut will have an opportunity to ponder over his deportment while in the limelight. Benny, no doubt, has learned his lesson.

Yale, by landing a defeat to Holy Cross on the diamond, has furnished a bit of consolation for the supporters of the Blue diamond tossers.
