REPUBLICANS SEE FIGHT COMING

Continued from Page One.) will send their own men to the primaries to nominate any one at all to oppose every candidate brought forward by the Democrats.

Their whole plan, and it will be of inestimable value if successful, is to keep before the public the alleged facts that the Democrats cannot agree among themselves.

As every one can remember, at the Democratic convention the Republican forces were alleged to have come in with three solid districts as their own property. Whether this was true or not, the delegates from such districts succeeded in making the public believe so. And it was a peculiar thing, that many of the true blue Democrats fell for the ruse, and swallowed "hook, line and sinker."

Many Democrats afterwards charged that their leaders were so shortsighted that they allowed the delegates to be irregular, despite the fact that the convention was harmoniously behind their candidate, Vincent.

The strength of the Republican party does now and always did lie in the fact that they were able to head off any primary fights or dissension, and they practically know where they stand at the close of the August enrollment. They simply look at the enrollment sheets, and seeing no action on the part of the citizenry they know they are solid and simply go ahead with their prearranged plans.

"The Democrats have hardly known a year when there was not some activity during the enrollment in at least one or two districts of their party. The Republican double machine kept enough men in reserve on the Democratic primary lists to kick up a tumpus whenever they could find some one willing to argue or raise an issue with the desired result that the impression was made on the public mind that the Democrats were always arguing among themselves and carrying their petty fights to the polls while the Republicans had political wisdom enough to bury the hatchet early in the game and bring forward a solidified front at election time."

Unions Ready To Take Stand With Miners

London, June 20.—Leaders of the miners' federation of Great Britain have taken no steps to prevent withdrawal of the government's offer of a ten million pound subsidy to the coal industry, and it would appear that unless the government reneges its offer, the money will not be provided.

The situation is full of uncertainty, the outstanding fact being the coal of the miners' union to all trade organizations affected by the wage dispute to meet at an early date for the purpose of taking national action to secure mutual demands. Most of today's newspapers described the decision to call this meeting as an "act prompted by desperation. As yet nothing has occurred to indicate how the call is likely to be received.

The annual conference of the labor party will be held at Brighton tomorrow, and Herbert Smith, president of the Miners' Union and Frank Hodges, the secretary, will attend. They will probably determine the attitude of the leaders of other unions, whose aggregate membership is more than three million. Most of these unions are now involved on wage disputes and are ready, according to spokesmen of the miners, to take national action against what they regard as a conspiracy on the part of the employers to reduce wages below the pre-war level and break the unions.

On the other hand, less interested observers predict that the majority of the miners themselves, who up to today, the first day of the strike, have gained nothing and lost much, will desert other men from making common cause with them.

Mistrial Has Caused Suit For Damages

Christian E. Hoffman has filed a suit for damages of $6,000 with privilege of treble damages against George Merwin Mead. Both men are of Greenwich, the suit being the outcome of a recent action for damages brought by Hoffman against Dr. Fritz Carlsson Hyde, Greenwich, which time inappreciate was alleged. During the trial, after the plaintiff had finished, Judge Keeler ordered a mistrial.

The mistrial was ordered after several men on the jury are said to have informed the judge that Mead, while no one on the jury was a member of the panel, had talked to them in a way to influence their opinion. It is claimed in the present complaint that Mead told several of the jurors that Hoffman was trying to blackmail Hyde.

Treble damages are asked because of the mistrial which has already cost the plaintiff a considerable sum for expert testimony and other costs, all of which will have to be done over again when the original case against Dr. Hyde is called during the fall term of Superior Court.

WORD FROM EXPEDITION.

Vancouver, B. C., June 20.—The British Imperial Antarctic expedition, which sailed from England last September landed on Graham Island at latitude 64.50, southern longitude 63.40 west on January twelfth, said a despatch today to the Vancouver Sun from the Sydney (Australia) Herald. The expedition found rich seal and penguin colonies at Enrood Bay.

BATTLE OVER GOV'T. CONTROL HAS OPENED

Continued from Page One.) summer months and higher rates during the fall and winter months, as proposed by the Frelinghuysen bill, be confined to coal, Senators identified with the agricultural bloc inquired; if seasonal coal rates are to be provided, why not open up the entire freight rate question, was demanded. A complete readjustment of all freight rates and railroad conditions?

"The bill incorporates suggestions by Chairman Clark of the Interstate Commerce Commission and it has the unqualified and unanimous approval of the members of the commission," said Senator Frelinghuysen, Rep. N. J., one of the authors of the bill bearing his name.

"An unlawful and iniquitous interference with the right of industry and business—paternalistic, discriminatory and unconstitutional," contended the National Coal Association, composed of bituminous coal operators, of the other Frelinghuysen bill intended to turn the light of "pitiless publicity" upon the coal industry.

A motion to send both Frelinghuysen coal bills back to the Senate Interstate Commerce committee, by which they were favorably reported, was also made today. The motion was to be based upon the ground that those opposed to them had insufficient opportunity to air their views as to why the government should let the coal industry severely alone.

BRIDGEPORT LOSES BRAVE EX-SOLDIER

But one picture of the dead hero is in existence, that being of the post card type taken at Ft. Slocum, New Rochelle, just before the 1st Division was sent overseas. Another possession that is guarded so closely by his mother, that her members of the family cannot tell where it is, is a piece of rock, in which is embedded part of the steel shrapnel that drove the stone into the boy's body.

Before the war, after attending the public schools and later St. Charles' Parochial school, he was employed by the A. W. Burritt Lumber company, and immediately before enlisting he worked for the Acme Shear company.

Besides his parents he is survived by three brothers, James and William were small boys when the war began, but Harold heard the call of his country and enlisted in the navy. He too drew a dangerous assignment, being part of the crew on a ship attached to a mine sweeping division.

The funeral will be held Wednesday morning at 8:30 from the home at 79 Lafayette street, from St. Charles' church. Interment will be in St. Michael's cemetery, but complete arrangements will not be made until later today, nor will bearers chosen until that time. The flag at the Federal building will fly at half mast out of respect for one of Bridgeport's genuine fighters, and his family during the funeral service.

1874-1921 After Forty-Seven Years MOLLAN Is Going To Close Out

This business has been here, in this one spot, since 1874. Must have been a pretty decent business, giving values and right treatment, don't you think?

Well, our lease is up. AND THEY WANT TRIPLE THE RENT!

We couldn't sell you decent shoes at decent prices under that kind of a rent. So, WE'RE QUITTING—driven out by the rent lunacy.

AND THE STOCK HAS GOT TO GO, for what we can get for it. If you know this store you know about the stock. It's an ALL GOOD STOCK, the kind of merchandise a store has to sell to KEEP RUNNING FORTY-SEVEN YEARS.

From the price cutting we've reserved just one line, the Cantilver shoes. We hope to keep on selling them somewhere else.

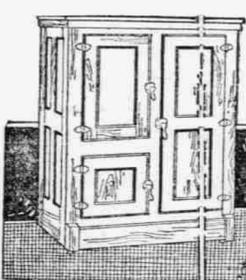

All the rest—thousands of pairs of Women's and Children's GOOD shoes—are price-cut.

It isn't business; it's mercantile slaughter. But it's a wonderful thing for the buyer.

Beginning right now.
