EVASUED LAW THIRTEEN YEARS, RETURNS TO FIND HIMSELF NEVER ACCUSED

Paris, Mo., August 4.—After being declared legally dead and living thirteen years under an assumed name, in constant fear of arrest, Rubie Hall has come home. He laughed today as he told a weird story of having been formally listed as among the dead and joked at the idea of having been dead.

Hall left Paris in 1909. After seven years of absence his aunt went into court, had him declared dead and attempted to collect insurance money. The case was pending in a high court when word was received from Denver that Hall was a resident there.

"I have dodged the law for thirteen years," Hall declared, "firmly believing I had killed John Williamson in Western Kansas. I won heavily in a crap game. Williamson picked a scrap with me and I knocked him off a train.

"Imagine my relief when I met Williamson face to face in Denver two months ago. I grabbed his hand and cried: 'Say, are you really John Williamson?' He replied: 'Yep! This is John.' He laughed and said he was bruised up by when I told him I thought I'd killed him."

Hall, who has been living under the name of Henry E. Thomas, will return to Denver to spend the remainder of his life with his wife and sixteen-year-old daughter.

The State Department says that the most satisfactory way to dispose of an American flag which has become too old for service is to burn it.
