The Stratfield Hotel Ladies' Room has been transformed into "The Vanity Shop," a much needed innovation to Bridgeport in the form of an exclusive perfume shop. The store opened today under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Warner. It is a reproduction of the ideas of all the large hotels in New York, Chicago and Boston but is the first of its kind to be operated in New England. The complete line of goods for the woman who is particular about her perfumes, powders and cosmetics, will be carried. "The Vanity Shop" will eliminate the trouble which some women have experienced in having to send probably to the manufacturer or to some large importing house for a certain brand of cosmetic which she wishes to procure.

The shop management is ready to offer the most exclusive and high class toilet articles for millady and novelties for her boudoir. In the near future a manicuring parlor will be opened and a beauty expert in attendance to give advice as to the particular needs of each customer.

KNOWLEDGE OF MEDICINE JURY NEED

Portland, Ore., Aug. 13—What professional man makes the best jurist? "A lawyer," might be expected to be the usual response. But that isn't the way George Rossman answers that question. Here's his reply: "A doctor." No, Rossman isn't a doctor; he's municipal judge of Portland and he went on the bench because he was a lawyer. But his experience as a jurist has convinced him that a knowledge of medicine is more important in dispensing justice than is an acquaintance with Blackstone. Four-fifth of the law breakers who appear in police court are deficient, according to Rossman, and should be treated by physicians instead of being thrown in jail. "The people who fall into the hands of the law," he said, "are abnormal people. They cannot live as their fellows. They steal. They use dope. They are quarrelsome. They drink, fight with their neighbors or allow their vile passions to rule them. These people are subjects for physicians rather than judges. Penalizing these unfortunates by locking them in jail does little good. It has a deterrent effect on the rest of society, but it accomplishes no reform in the prisoner. "Take the woman dope fiend who came into my court. An examination showed she was suffering with a cancer and took of time to die in the jail. A term in jail would not cure her cancer. Medical science might do something for her, but statutes and ordinances would not. "I do not believe in the present slip-shod method of administering justice. A judge should not be required to spend all of his time listening to rules of evidence, to precedents and recent decisions. "If I had my way I'd never send a man to jail until I had made a thorough examination of his case. I'd insist on a mental and physical examination of the prisoner. I would like to be a physician myself in order that I could discover the reason why the prisoner could not live like his fellow man. "I believe the time is coming when the judge and jury, and the law-breaker, will deal with the law-breaker."

FABLE OF ASOP ASLOP.

(By International News Service.) Poplar Bluff, Mo., Aug. 13.—Asop Aslop was on trial for alleged theft throughout the day as testimony was presented. One member was so drowsy when the witness retired to bed that he fell asleep. The 11 other jurors decided the fate of Aslop. "John," said the foreman of the jury, "we have decided to hang Aslop. What do you think about it?" "Suits me," drawled John, yawning, "but let the execution be delayed until Aslop finishes his crop." Asop was acquitted.

Y. W. C. A. SUMMER SCHOOL IS CLOSED

After a successful session of six weeks the summer school conducted at the Golden Hill house of the Y. W. C. A., closed today. In this short time, the pupils covered five months work. There were six boys and girls in the group and work was conducted under the direction of Mrs. Frank Whitman, formerly a teacher at Islandbrook school. In an interview yesterday Mrs. Frank Whitman said, "I think the school as a whole has been unusually successful but of course the real success of it cannot be determined until the opening of school when the principals will be decided whether this summer work will count for anything in connection with the regular school work. "I have found that summer school pupils are very much more attentive to their work than the average regular school student. During the past six weeks I have found only one boy in my class who did not pay the highest attention to his work and that child is one who is very nervous and probably could not concentrate on any one thing for any great length of time." History, arithmetic, English and spelling were taken up by the pupils. About three times the regular amount of homework was given and the program made up for the grammar schools for the first five months of the year was carried on.

Cosmetic Society Asks Law Regulating Beauty Shops

Chicago, Aug. 13 — The selling of beauty will be regulated by law, if a proposed bill goes through. When a dissatisfied brunette decides she wants to become a hot-weather blonde the whole State, literally speaking, will know about it. When a forty-five-year-old dowager becomes a twenty-year-old flapper by the new wrinkle-removing process she will do so under the auspices of the State, so to speak. The gentle and cosmetic work, and that will make it necessary for a cosmetician to pass a State examination before she is permitted to go into the business. This will put beauty work on a still higher plane. It really is a scientific profession and should be treated as such. "That is, if the National Cosmetician Society, which recently met in Chicago, succeeds in putting through the Cosmetician bill. "We are working for uniform legislation for cosmeticians throughout the country," said a leading member of the society. "We are working for the passage of a law that will enforce State inspection of beauty shops and cosmetic work, and that will make it necessary for a cosmetician to pass a State examination before she is permitted to go into the business. This will put beauty work on a still higher plane. It really is a scientific profession and should be treated as such."
