

Politicians

"ARE VERY QUEER DUCKS"

See how they are treating our post-master just because one gang thinks these should be a change simply to give another fellow a soft snap. Well, we're not in politics, therefore we don't know why a man should be dropped when he is doing his business in the O. K. style. But we do believe a remark we heard right in front of our tea store the other day. The parting word was he'd rather have the devil he knew than the devil he didn't know. Now it's pretty near the same way at our store. When people begin to buy our tea and coffee and they find it's the nice tasting, O. K. kind, they continue to purchase from us simply because they know if they go elsewhere they won't get the same good quality; therefore they'd rather buy from the one they do know in preference to the one they don't know. That's one reason we keep our eye on the quality all the time. Remember if you want chicory in your coffee you must tell us so; the law won't let us sell it otherwise. This week we give a double meat roaster or 4 bars of soap with a pound of our warranted good 50-cent tea, at

This Rooster Says:

We can build a storage reservoir at the Branch located on the present stream and about 300 yards from the present reservoir that will store 1,000,000,000 gallons of water at a cost not to exceed between $200,000 and $400,000. This would be an earthen dam, no repairs, an annual interest of $14,000, no sinking fund. This reservoir will be worth as much the Judgment Day as now, barring earthquakes. If you can't find fresh eggs go to Kelly's; 40 cents per dozen.
