RAT WENT FISHING

And Phillip Duval's Ball Disappeared in Short Order.

Phillip Duval, who conducts a barber shop on South Main street, is a good fisherman, so much so that some claim he is able to do more with the line and hook than any other disciple of Isak Walton in this part of the country. But that's another matter, although there is some connection between it and what we started out to say. Mr Duval had planned to spend a few hours on one of the reservoirs next week and as a preliminary he bought about 200 shiners and put them in a pall about half filled with water in the cellar. When he went down this morning to see how they were getting along the first thing that attracted his attention was a large rat sitting on the side of the pall eating one of the shiners. He drove it away and on looking into the pall found that almost all the bait had disappeared and he immediately concluded that rats had been fishing in the pall all night. Some say that rats don't like fish, but you can't make Mr Duval believe anything like that.

BOWLING.

Peanuts Were Too Speedy for the Casino Five.

Bridgeport, Jan 26.—The Musante Bros, or the Peanuts as they are best known, turned the tables upon the Casino alley team of Waterbury last night, by trimming them badly, somewhat in the manner in which the Peanuts were treated in the Brass City two weeks ago. The Peanuts took every point, the first by only two pins, though, and rubbed it into the visitors on totals by 311 pins.

The totals were 2720 to 2409. The Peanuts' score is the best made in the city in several months. Father Dudley was high with three nice strings all over 200 and totals of 611. He had to go some, for his opponent was Bostwick, who squeezed out high total of 216 and grand total of 602, but nine pins behind Dud. Frits Musante was hitting the wood the best for the Peanut brothers. The score:

Table with columns: Pete Musante, Louis Musante, Fritz Musant, Dudley, Chappelle, Curley, Allen, Teller, Bostwick, OTHER GAMES LAST NIGHT.

"HANDSOME GEORGE" WINS. Bob Stone, the Waterbury Champion, Loses Game. Hartford, Jan 26.—Although Manager Fraser had a special pocket built in his waistcoat to accommodate the U. S. paper wagger on the pool games, the pocket was not large enough to hold the sums that were put up at Campbell's last night on the game between George Britt of this city and Bob Stone, the Waterbury champion. Stone has claimed at various times to be the champion of this state and many thought he would win. But Britt has been improving steadily and he is now in the best of form. Stone had a lead in the early stage of the game but Britt quickly overhauled him and played more brilliantly. William Gamerdinger was unable to be present and Frank Crane was chosen to referee. Howard Buckley and Benny Budge of the substitute staff were on hand. Manager Fraser made his first appearance since he was knocked out by the grip and as his eyes are still weak he was obliged to wear smoked glasses.

BROOKLYN BRIEFS.

Commissioner Donahue of Bank street entertained friends from Naugatuck and New Haven yesterday.

There will be a meeting of the Junior Amateur league to-morrow at the rooms of the Quaker Athletic club.

Rev Joseph M. Gleason of St Patrick's, who attended the funeral of Rev Father Gleason of Willmanatic, has returned.

Ralph N. Blakeslee will become unpopular in Brooklyn if he does not include this section of the city in the route of his big sleigh party next year.

James White of North Riverside street, who has been in East Liverpool, O., the past week attending the funeral of a relative, returned home last evening.

A horse, the property of a sewing machine agent, ran away on South Leonard street Thursday night, but was captured on Bank street before it had done any damage.

A big delegation from Brooklyn will go to the Auditorium Tuesday evening to witness the preliminary game between All Brooklyn and Company G polo teams. "Hogan" Clark is the goal tender and Lew Cronan the halfback for the military boys.

Although the residents of Brooklyn would like to see William Rafferty named assessor, the fellows on this side say that the bookies are laying 100 to 1 against the Brooklynite. Some of his friends did not know he had the slightest intention of entering the race and are of the opinion that Mr Rafferty regards the matter as a joke.

Last evening the members of the Brooklyn Athletic club held the last sad rites in connection with the terrible calamity that befell the basketball team a week ago last evening. To-morrow another five might be formed at the club rooms to have it out for the championship with the quintet that is in mourning. Some of the club members are really taking the defeat to heart.

If the parents of any of the scholars of the Barnard school are indignant because their children are selling tickets for a raffle for a $5 gold piece, the writer could not find any this morning, although he made several inquiries. The plan of raffling a $5 gold piece for the purpose of raising money with which to furnish the school building with statuary and pictures is considered a good one by all who are interested in the welfare of the school. The children of the various schools of the city have for a long time been bringing money in order to beautify their rooms with works of art. Principal Thomas Condon of the Barnard school has the confidence of the Brooklyn people, and his corps of teachers is also considered an excellent one. As to raising money by the plan mentioned above, no complaints have ever been made to any of the teachers or to the principal.

BURNS CLUB ANNUAL.

Every Available Space in the Hall Was Taken Up.

The annual concert and ball by the Burns club of Waterbury is a social feature in the life of the city that everybody waits for with pleasurable anticipation. Last evening the club celebrated its twenty-second anniversary in the City hall, and though the kilts were about the same and not a change apparent in the faces of the wearers, and the performers in the stage program were as familiar as a year ago, still the music of Bonnie Scotland seemed sweeter last night.

The hall was crowded. There was not room for scores of people, though every available place was taken up. At 8 o'clock the concert program began, and ably and sweetly and endearingly was it rendered. Each number was heartily encored and the quartets were particularly sweet and harmonious. "There Was a Lad" veritably brought down the house, but it was the "Bonnie, Bonnie Bank o' Lochlomon" that caused the audience to burst out with applause that was never before heard in the old City hall. The singers did not respond to the encores, but swung directly into familiar "Auld Lang Syne," the final number, because it was getting late. But the audience would have waited as long as the singers were willing to sing.

There were in the audience people who have never missed an anniversary of the Burns club since it was established twenty-two years ago, and when the last number was sung they retired for the dancing days are over. Their presence, however, was the greatest compliment they could pay to the club and the splendid music. Mr Craig's dancing was enjoyed by the audience as much as by himself. The "Shean Trews," which brought out the orchestra, was delightful, but "Salior's Hornpipe," danced in costume, was the feature of his part on the program. For an encore he danced an Irish jig and the Lancashire clog, each in costume.

It was an evening most delightfully spent by those who attended, and it was the 148th anniversary of the birth of Scotland's exquisite but unfortunate poet, Robert Burns. Arrangement committee, T. Baker, A. Clark, D. McKellar, D. Mackie, R. Mackie, G. Stevens, W. Kennedy, J. Wallace, A. McKay, W. Walker, F. Mitchell, A. A. Armstrong. Reception committee, D. Hunter, A. Callan, William Lawson. Floor committee, Robert Mackie, assisted by D. Murray, William Walker, C. Kellie, J. Callan, R. Allan.

Loeb May Leave White House. WASHINGTON, Jan 26.—Private Secretary Loeb may be the next President Roosevelt's intimate associates to leave the public service for a corporation job. Loeb is now considering offers from more than one corporation, and there are intimations that he will accept. He says, however, he would like to remain as the president's confidential man till the end of the president's term. He receives $5,000 a year, and his friends think he is unduly paid.

INJUNCTION DISSOLVED

Which City Ice Company Obtained Against the Zwebels.

The temporary injunction which the City Ice company obtained against Joseph and Adolphus Zwebel, restraining them from cutting ice on Lakewood was dissolved this morning by Judge Peck of Bristol, who heard the arguments in the matter yesterday afternoon. In view of the conditions of the lease held by the Zwebels, it is said the attorneys, Hunt and Pierce for the City Ice company, were not surprised at the decision. Attorney Russell appears for the Zwebels.

The City Ice company which obtained a lease from the Great Brook Manufacturing company to cut the ice on the pond, contended that every drop of water was necessary in the pond and William B. Brooks, treasurer of the Great Brook Manufacturing company testified that the concern would give any money to be able to double the capacity of the pond. "For" said he, "not only is every drop of water in it absolutely necessary to the four or five brass industries using the water, but four or five thousand families get their bread and butter from these industries and to have them stop for want of water would be a serious matter, for this large number of employes." Attorney Russell wished to ascertain from Mr Brooks if he is a stockholder in any of the concerns referred to and Mr Brooks pleaded with the court for protection, on the grounds that he did not want his private affairs to get into the public prints. The court allowed the question on the grounds that it was necessary to show Mr Brooks' interest in the matter and his knowledge of what he was testifying and then he said he was treasurer of the Great Brook Manufacturing company. He had no idea of the capacity of the pond, however, and said it had never been estimated or measured. He said that the state surveyor has been interviewed with regard to raising the dam and maps of survey of streams and land beyond the upper pond have been made at great expense as it is proposed to increase the capacity of the pond if possible.

As Mr Brooks was about to leave the stand he turned to the court and said that this is a serious matter involving the livelihood of four or five thousands of people, but the court cut him short saying that the attorneys would make the arguments. Adolphus Zwebel then testified that he had fourteen men cutting ice on the pond when the papers in the injunction were served upon him and he immediately stopped work, leaving the cut ice in the water. He had built a large ice house and evidently will sell ice this summer. As to the decision on the injunction, it is likely that the City Ice company will take the matter to the superior court.

THE POLICE COURT

Lyons Committed to Brookside Home to Straighten Out.

Michael Lyons, a member of the coast artillery, stationed at Fort McKinley, Portland, Ore, was before the city court, Judge Cowell presiding, this morning. He was charged with intoxication and was found by Officer S. McCarthy sleeping on the steps of the Salvation Army shelter yesterday noon. It was stated that he came to town three weeks ago on a furlough and had with him about $600. Last night when searched at the station house he had about $30. He looked considerably done up this morning. He was all a tremor with the effects of liquor and was taken twice in the station with fits. He said his furlough expires next Wednesday and until then he was committed to Brookside to straighten up.

Thomas Leary, who was detained yesterday on suspicion, was let go last evening. William Scott, alias William Miller, was picked up by some boys out sleigh driving last night. Scott was asleep, drunk, in the highway, and in danger of being run over by team. The police had been looking for him since last April when he failed to report on probation. The sentence then was revoked to-day and an additional fine of $5 and costs was imposed.

Benjamin Noether was charged with stealing manufactured goods, telescopic drinking cups, from the Scovill Manufacturing Co, and Angelo Nigro was charged with receiving stolen goods. Both cases went over to Monday. The value of the cups is 50 cents each. Martin Tierney was fined $5 and costs for intoxication.

National University For Ireland.

DUBLIN, Jan. 26.—Replying at Dublin castle to deputations representing Presbyterian and Catholic interests, James Bryce, the newly appointed ambassador of Great Britain to the United States, outlined the intention of the government to create a national university for Ireland. He said the government had decided to create a new college in Dublin entirely free from any theological taint.

Mexican Troops Defeat Yaqui Indians

EL PASO, Tex., Jan. 26.—In a battle between Mexican troops and Yaqui Indians in Sonora, Mexico, on the Yaqui river on Wednesday the Mexicans defeated the Yaquis after a hard fight, in which heavy losses were inflicted on the Indians. The Mexicans suffered severely, losing twenty-five killed. With the Yaqui Indians were two white men, said to be criminal refugees from the United States.

Ex-Governor Higgins So Better.

OLEAN, N. Y., Jan. 26.—Dr. Hubbard said after a call on ex-Governor Higgins that the patient had lost a little ground. Yesterday Mr. Higgins seemed to be gaining and was doing so on half the stimulants required up to twenty-four hours before. Early in the morning, however, his condition took a sudden change for the worse.
