RECEIVE PAPAL HONORS.

Dr McMahon Made a Monsignor, Thomas M. Mulry a Knight.

New York, Oct. 16—Before starting on his trip to Emmitsburg, Md. and St. Louis, Wednesday, Archbishop Farley, the papal representative, called to the archbishop's residence the Rev Dr Dennis J. McMahon, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, Second avenue and Twenty-first street, and Thomas M. Mulry, president of the Emigrant Industrial Savings bank, and announced to them that Pope Pius X desired to confer ecclesiastical honors upon them.

Dr McMahon was made a monsignor, which entitles him to wear the purple and makes him a Roman prelate of the papal household. Mr Mulry received the decoration of a Knight of St Gregory, an honor which may be conferred upon a layman only, and which makes him a soldier of the papal household.

THE CITY COURT.

Bertiglio Not Held on Anna Nelson's Charge To-Day.

Love, in the fair form of Anna Nelson, landed Armento Bertiglio alias Joe Montagne in the city court this morning on a charge of breach of the peace. Miss Nelson decked in the latest form of fashion, with a trailing feather from a hat that without extravagance of statement could easily be called enormous, extremely high heeled coffee colored shoes with cloth uppers, and all the rest of the fan-tangies described by style and fashion, testified that on Monday Bertiglio beat her and left her arms black and blue with marks and bruises. It was apparent from the story told by her that she has been living on Kingsbury street, near the accused. Bertiglio in his best English, said the young woman has been following him all over the country from Cincinnati, Pittsburg, New York and queering him in every job he gets hold of. How she found him out in Waterbury he could not say but the last he saw of her before his encounter with her on the date in question was in West Hoboken, N. J. He said he had a good thing there with a club when Miss Nelson, got wind of him and "queered" him. How the "queered" him he did not state only that he had to quit.

He admitted knowing her very well, and that he cannot lose her. "She is the sport," he said. "She is the eh—what you call 'em. Well, I don't know but she bother me now for two year. She chase me from Cincinnati, from New York, from Philadelphia, from Chicago from everywhere. I no get away from her. I work with the show, with the circus, but I can't get away from her. I give her five dolls the week to keep away but she no do it. I giva the mon to her people but she no keep away and leave me 'lone." Finally, he denied striking her or in any way being responsible for the excitement that prevailed on Kingsbury and North Main streets yesterday afternoon.

Jessie M. Deming of Prospect has brought suit for divorce against her husband, Vernah S. Deming, on the grounds of desertion. She also asks that her maiden name, Palmer, be restored to her. The couple were married on December 24, 1902, and three years after, on October 6, 1905, Deming disappeared. When last heard from he was employed in Torrington.

The first rehearsal of the chorus for "The Mocking Bird" which is to be given by the Daughters of Isabella at Foll's theater in January was held in K. of C. hall last evening. It was originally intended to produce "The Toreador" but the society finally decided for "The Mocking Bird". Frank Nelson of New Haven who will direct the opera was present last night and much pleased with the splendid chorus that was on hand. The soloists were tried out last night and parts will in all probability be assigned within a few days. William J. Shannahan will be stage director.

At the annual meeting of the State Bugle Men's association in New Haven yesterday directors were chosen as follows: L. E. Lockwood, Ansonia; G. A. R. Hammer, Branford; F. W. Boland, Bridgeport; B. A. S. Jones, Waterbury; E. Hart, Fenn, Wethersfield; John E. Brick, Williamsville; E. W. Mather, Windsor Locks; E. B. Brunson, Winsted; M. E. Keir, Seymour; E. M. Wheaton, Plainville; A. B. Judd, West Hartford; and George W. Seward, Guilford.

The following item was taken from the Norwich column of the New London Day: "Dr and Mrs Patrick Cassidy celebrated Tuesday evening at their home on Washington street the fortieth anniversary of their marriage. Four children, Dr P. J. Cassidy, Mrs J. Edward Driscoll, Mrs Mary Cahill and Attorney John H. Cassidy of Waterbury were present, also four grandchildren, Mrs P. J. Cassidy and James Duggan of Hartford, and intimate friends. Dr and Mrs Cassidy have spent their entire married life in Norwich. Dr Cassidy is one of the veteran practitioners of the city and one of the most beloved of the physicians. He has given freely of his time and services without questioning whether his patients were able to pay or not. Most of the older families of Norwich have had his ministrations at one time or another. Dr Cassidy not only has the good will and pleasant wishes of his friends, but of the entire community."

POLITICAL POINTERS

Will Congressman Lilly Be Put in the Ananias Pen.

It was common talk about town today that Mr Lilly is now entitled to membership in the Ananias club after his brush with President Roosevelt over that letter which Mr Lilly said he received from the big stick in the white house.

W. E. White, state organizer of the socialist party, will give a lecture Saturday evening, October 17, at 8 p. m., corner of Bank and Grand streets. Subject, "The Significance of the Present Industrial Panic."

In the local option vote on the liquor question taken over a week ago it was at first given out that the town of Cheshire had voted no license, and this was published in many of the papers of the state. Considerable confusion arose as a result as the town really did vote for the liquor license.

Judge F. M. Peasley's chickens have been causing him some anxiety lately. Every morning he found one or more dead in the coops. This morning when he visited the coops he found a stranger there, a bird, somewhat smaller than a robin, but with an extremely long bill. He caught the bird and put it in a box and brought it to town. At a bird store he was told that it was a specimen of the American democratic brigantus, a democratic brigand for short. It is a fine, proud looking bird and the judge proposes to keep it in a cage and make a republican brigantus of it. It scared the life out of six of his chickens last night.

Long as Senator John Hurley has been in public life in Waterbury there is one rather prominent citizen who never knew him until yesterday. The senator was alighting from a West Main street car at the center when a Democrat reporter remarked to the republican referred to, Wilfred E. Griggs, the well known architect, by the way, that the senator was looking great. "So that is Senator Hurley, is it?" asked Mr Griggs. "Well, long as I have been reading and much as I have heard about him this is the first time I ever saw him. I always thought he was a man of about 60. Why, he looks scarcely 30. Good looking fellow, too, isn't he?" and in this way the well known architect expressed his gratification on seeing the bed rock and foundation of democracy in the sixteenth senatorial district.

DAWES FOR GUARANTEE

Comptroller of Currency Under McKinley Favored Insurance of Bank Deposits.

Charles G. Dawes was comptroller of the currency under Mr. McKinley. Since 1902 he has been president of the Central Trust company at Chicago. Writing in The Public, Louis F. Post calls attention to the fact that several years ago Mr. Dawes wrote a book entitled "The Banking System of the United States." The following is taken from Mr. Post's article: In describing in that book the "present need of our national banking system," Mr. Dawes distinctly argues for the insurance idea, that Bryan advocated in congress and upon which his campaign is now advancing in the west. Referring to a proposed law, advocated by Bryan in congress, which would have levied a tax upon national banks for the purpose of creating a fund for the insurance of deposits, Mr. Dawes wrote: "National banking statistics show that a fund of the necessary amount would soon be created by a comparatively small tax upon each national bank."

"It must certainly be admitted that the establishment of such a fund would have a tendency to prevent the mad rushes of small and large depositors during times of panic, for money which they hoard away in safety deposit boxes or other hiding places."

"If the effect of such a law would be to render bank deposits more stable under all conditions, as in our judgment would be the case, no law could be of more value and importance to the debtor, or to the creditor, or to the community at large."

IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS.

Does your back ache? Do you get up lame in the morning? Do you feel dull and tired? Do you feel you bend over, to lift anything, to get up from a chair? Do you have sudden "catches" or stitches of pain in the back? Does a dull, throbbing ache settle in the small of your back and bother you day and night? Do you sometimes feel that you simply cannot straighten up?

If you do have backache, be careful not to make the very common mistake of treating it as a muscular trouble. Do not rub the sore place with liniment, nor put on plasters, for the seat of the trouble is inside—in the kidneys, which lie just beneath the small of the back, on either side of the spine. A cold, a chill, a fever, overwork, over-eating or over-drinking may start a slight congestion or inflammation in the kidneys that will at times interrupt the kidneys' work of filtering the blood. It is this condition that sets up the aching, and makes your back so bad. You cannot make any mistake by treating the kidneys at once, for it is these small troubles that lead to dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease. I there is any doubt in your mind that the kidneys are affecting, notice the urine for a few days. If passages are irregular, painful, or too scanty, discolored, or full of sediment, the kidneys need help right away, and there is no other medicine more helpful than Doan's Kidney Pills, a simple remedy for the kidneys, yet so powerful that it quickly cures the cause and so ends all the painful and annoying symptoms. Home testimony proves the unfailing merit of Doan's Kidney Pills.

WATERBURY TESTIMONY. Mrs James Dewes of 31 Hospital avenue, Waterbury, Conn. says: "My husband made a statement for publication in August, 1901, in which he said that he had suffered considerably from pain in the loins and kidneys, especially during changeable weather or after taking cold, and that although he would often be as lame and sore that he could not do justice to his work. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at the H. W. Lake Drug Co., relieved him entirely of the trouble. It gives me pleasure to confirm his testimony and to say that the cure has been permanent. He has never complained of his back since Doan's Kidney Pills cured him."
