AMERICAN FLAG USED IN UPRISING

Outbreak in St. Pierre Defies Government.

FACTION FOR ANNEXATION

Riotous Assembly Marches to American Consulate and Cheers United States - Question of Religious Instruction in Schools Has Excited the Population - British Gunboat Sent, as France Has No Warship Nearer Than West Indies.

St. Pierre, N. F., Nov. 18.-The popular revolt against the government of this French colony increases in strength every hour, and many are advocating annexation by the United States. The police force is powerless to restore order.

A most significant incident was the carrying of the American flag at the head of a marching host of more than 1,000 men, who visited the government house and the American consulate and cheered the United States.

The manifestation on the part of the populace is due to the school question. The people of St. Pierre demand free schools in which religious instruction is given.

Two schoolmasters charged with conducting free schools were convicted and fined $200 each, and the schools were closed.

This inflamed the population, which assembled on the streets and violently denounced the French government.

British Warship Sent to St. Pierre. St. John's, N. F., Nov. 18.-Dispatches from St. Pierre state that the situation there is serious.

The British warship Brilliant, now in St. John's harbor, has been directed to proceed to the French town. France has no warship nearer St. Pierre than the West Indies.

St. Pierre dispatches state that a crowd that marched to the government house numbered 1,000 and that it also visited the American consulate and cheered the United States.

It is believed here that should the French government refuse to reconsider its action in regard to the schools the annexation party at St. Pierre will endeavor to induce the United States to purchase the colony.

Faction Favors Annexation. The action of the St. Pierre populace in displaying the American flag may or may not indicate an organized attempt to bring about the annexation of the colony to the United States.

An element in St. Pierre has long favored a transfer of the colony to the United States, but there is no reason to believe that France would part with the islands.

The laws which are objectionable to the colonists are those which the French government adopted when relations with the Roman Catholic church were severed.

LAMPHERE WEEPS AS COURT CROWD JEERS

Demonstration in Courtroom at Guinness Murder Trial.

Laporte, Ind., Nov. 18.-Ray Lamphere, the farmhand accused of murdering Mrs. Belle Guinness and her three children by setting fire to their home, wept in court when the spectators, indignant at the revelations made by witnesses for the prosecution, shouted out jeers and threats.

Several witnesses testified that Lamphere made numerous threats against Mrs. Belle Guinness. Through these witnesses Prosecutor Smith tried to prove that a strong motive existed for Lamphere to annoy Mrs. Guinness and that this alleged annoyance terminated on the morning of April 25 in Lamphere setting fire to the Guinness house and burning the murderers and her children.

The love affairs of Mrs. Guinness and Lamphere were told by William Slattery, and his testimony tended to verify the state's contention that it was because of the falling out between the two that Lamphere sought to harm his former sweetheart and mistress.
