HIGHBINDER WAR

Owners of Denmark Gambling Places Precipitate a Row.

Denver, Nov. 20.—China town here is in the throes of its first highbinder war brought on by a fight between owners of gambling houses for the exclusive right to operate fan-tan tables and lotteries. The death yesterday of Yee Long, a gambler, is ascribed to the battle of the Tong.

The body of Yee was found in an alley in the Chinese quarter. That he died of poison was made evident by his contorted face and twisted limbs and a note in Chinese, found in his blouse. The note reads: "They are here from San Francisco. Soon I must go to my father. Whether by the broad bladed axe or by dust of the dragons tail it matters not. I know I go. I commend my spirit to Buddha, the all wise and merciful."

A searching examination of the body failed to reveal any marks of violation. It is believed that by dust of the dragon's tail Yee referred to some potent oriental poison.

Big Fire in Boston.
Boston, Nov. 20.—Nearly a dozen paint and furniture firms suffered losses aggregating from $75,000 to $100,000 early to-day in a fire which started in the sales rooms of the Stearns & Henderson Co. furniture dealers, and destroyed most of the contents on the entire six floors of the building at 67-73 Sudbury street, and 1-9 Hawkins street. Starting in Stearns & Henderson's place on the second floor, the flames burned the stock of the John Lucas Paint Co., Boston Mirror and Glass Co., Boston Paint and Glass Co., Boston Paint and Oil Co., and Tuttle, Bailey Manufacturing Co., makers of registers and ventilators.

New York, Nov. 20.—John Jacob Astor gets no part of the $30,000,000 fortune of his mother, Mrs. William Astor, leader of the Four Hundred. Except the bequest of a few articles of jewelry he is cut off in her will. By the will Mrs. Astor's whole estate is left to her two daughters—Mrs.

London, Nov. 20.—The substance of the suppressed interview with Emperor William of Germany obtained by Dr. William Bayard Hale for the Century Magazine, New York, has been made public here.

The interview with his majesty was obtained by Dr. Hale on board the imperial yacht Hohenzollern at Bergen, Norway, but its publication was stopped on an intimation from the German government that such a course would be most gratifying.

The emperor was bitter against England and full of "the yellow peril." He declared England a traitor to the white man's cause. He predicted that she would ultimately lose some of her colonies through her treaty with Japan.

His majesty said that the invitation to the American fleet of battleships to visit New Zealand and Australia was intended to serve notice on England that those colonies were with the white man and not with the renegade mother country. The British colonies would show by the ardor of their reception that they understood the situation.

The emperor declared that Japan is even now fomenting insurrection in India. This insurrection, he said, might break out within six months. Germany and the United States would, however, he thought, find a solution of the eastern question, as there was a complete understanding between Emperor William and President Roosevelt on this point. He said they intended to divide the east against itself by becoming the recognized friends of China. Negotiations have been progressing favorably for months.

A very high Chinese official, the emperor said, would soon visit America and Germany. Terms will then be made known guaranteeing the protection and integrity of China and the open door.

Every statesman now realizes, the emperor declared, that Russia in her great struggle with Japan was really fighting the white man's cause—fighting it miserably. The emperor expressed sympathy with Russia, remarking how different the result would have been if the burden of carrying the white man's standard had been placed by Providence upon his invincible battalions. If Japan be suffered now to get control of China, Europe will suffer attack.

The emperor said he was keeping friends with the Mohammedan world. He was even supplying them with rifles because they are devils in fight and stand there between the east and the west where they can break the first force of attack. Emperor William said he believed that America would be forced to fight Japan within ten years.

JEROME AGAINST HEGEMAN.

Goes to Appellate Division to Punish Insurance Head.

New York, Nov. 20.—The appellate division of the supreme court was appealed to by District Attorney Jerome to set aside the ruling of the lower court by which John R. New York, Nov. 20.—Dorando, the Italian runner, who had a sensational finish with John J. Hayes in the Olympic Marathon race, was told to get off the grounds at Columbia university and was informed that he could not train in the gymnasium there for his race with Hayes on Thanksgiving eve. Dr. George Neslan, an official of the university, said Dorando was not wanted because he was a professional.

WOMEN AT $300 A HEAD.

Secret Service Woman Gets Evidence of Smuggling of Japanese.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 20.—With the arrest by secret service agents of Captain T. R. Gawley, former master of sound steamships, and K. Katayama, a Japanese interpreter, charged with the importation of Japanese women into the United States, a general shakeup of immigration officers is expected.

The department at Washington sent a woman decoy here, and she began her negotiations with the dealers of women. She completed negotiations with Gawley for as many Japanese women as he could get at $300 a head, and he furnished five women. Katayama is alleged to have assisted in smuggling the women into the country.

OPIUM SMUGGLING PLOT.

Barrels of the Drug Sent to Manila Labeled Cement.

Manila, Nov. 20.—Evidence of an extensive plot to smuggle opium here from China have been discovered. Workmen employed on the military buildings at Camp Stutzenberg discovered opium in cement barrels shipped from Hongkong. Workmen at the Manila forts opened barrels of "cement" and found them full of opium. The government is investigating.

KAISER BITTER AS TO ENGLAND

Substance of Suppressed Interview Disclosed.

PREDICTS WAR WITH JAPAN

KAISER NEAR BREAKDOWN.

His Nervousness More Pronounced Since Von Bulow Incident.

Berlin, Nov. 20.—Emperor William's moods have always been an object of study from hour to hour by the members of his official household, and he has been carefully, almost painfully, watched during recent days. The results of these observations, with a partial report of the emperor's conversations, have been transmitted to widening circles outside the court, and the general belief is that the emperor is breaking down. His nervousness has increased since Chancellor von Bulow's visit.

EDUCATORS MEET.

Convention at Atlanta to Aid Industrial Education.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 20.—Hundreds of prominent educators from many states in the Union gathered here today at the annual convention of the National Society for the Promotion of Industrial Education to discuss questions for fitting boys and girls for useful vocations. The objects of the society are to bring to public attention the importance of industrial education as a factor in the industrial and educational development of the United States, to provide opportunities for the study and discussion of the various phases of the problem, to make available the results of experience in the field of industrial education both in this country and abroad and to promote the establishment of institutions for industrial training.

Discussing industrial education, Elmer Ellsworth Brown, United States commissioner of education, urged the necessity of maintaining a close alliance between the new movement and the public schools.

Suggestion to Members of the D. A. R. in Many Places.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—"It is not time for us to quit being literary clubs and stop swinging incense before the tombs of our ancestors and all that sort of thing and do something for the generation in which we live?" This question was flung at members of the Daughters of the American Revolution yesterday by Mrs. John Murphy of Washington, D. C., national president of the society of the children of the republic, who addressed a meeting in the fine arts building on "Patriotic Work Among the Youth."

The speaker urged her hearers to take up the work of inculcating patriotism among the children of the land, especially those of foreign descent.

FAILED FOR A MILLION.

Boardman & Co's Suspension Surprises Wall Street.

New York, Nov. 20.—Greatly to the surprise of Wall street the failed firm of John A. Boardman & Co. has liabilities of more than $1,000,000. The failure is said to be due to the extensive bear operations of the firm, which was caught in a bull market. Hundreds of customers clamored today for information at the offices, 52 Broadway, but no one in authority was there.
