POLI'S

LILLIAN RUSSELL.

Lillian Russell gets around the discomforts of travel by using the newest of the Pullman private cars. For her tour this season she will come to Waterbury this evening in the palace on wheels just turned out of the shop. It is called the Elysian, and is a fit abode for America's famous beauty. The car is fitted out with a drawing room and library, dining room, bath and boudoir and several state rooms for guests of Miss Russell. For instance, when the Elysian was sidetracked in Waterbury to-day the fair occupant was the first person out. In the serviceable walking suit she usually takes a tramp to the open country of about five or six miles, and then back to the car, where she takes a cold shower and a vigorous rub-down. Miss Russell says this is the grandest way to insure a good circulation for the day. Incidentally, it has a wonderful effect upon the appetite for breakfast. Prices 25 cents to $1.50. Seats now on sale.

MOVING PICTURES.

A fine entertainment is in store for those who attend the Imperial Moving Picture Co's exhibition at Poli's theater on Sunday evening. The headline feature is a picture of comedy and thrills and is called "A Mountain Feud." An added feature will be the appearance of Edward A. Weston, the talented New York baritone, who will sing several new songs. Prices, 15 and 25 cents.

"THE BISHOP."

George Ober, who created such a furore by his open air performance of "Rip Van Winkle" in the Catskill mountains, will be seen here on Monday night at Poli's theater in John Oliver Hobbes' "The Bishop," a masterpiece. "The Bishop" is Mr Ober's play, the title role of which makes one feel that the role was created especially for him. When Mr Ober donned the garments which were made for his part in "The Bishop" the members of his company were amazed at the striking resemblance of Mr Ober to the late pope. Mr Ober was the friend and associate for years of Joseph Jefferson, E. H. Sothern, Sr., Laurence Barrett and others, and most players will remember him for his excellent work in the plays of the late Charles H. Hoyt. Prices 25 cents to $1.50. Seat sale Saturday.

"PECK'S BAD BOY."

The large audiences which are everywhere enjoying the new "Peck's Bad Boy" speak well for the coming engagement of this popular comedy at Poli's, Tuesday, November 24. James A. Callahan as the Bad Boy is surrounded with an organization which works unceasingly to provide amusement that never fails to please. Anyone who has treasured up pleasant memories of his youth is sure to have it brought back again while witnessing "Peck's Bad Boy." Popular prices.

"MERRY WIDOW" MAIL ORDERS

Mail orders for the engagement of "The Merry Widow" at Poli's theater during the three days beginning Monday, November 30 are now being received and will be filled in the order of their receipt after next Monday. The plan which is being followed in connection with this engagement is an unusual one. Waterbury and Manager Parsons is especially desirous that there shall be no misunderstanding. All seats ordered by mail will be sent to those ordering them before the regular window sale opens on Friday morning, November 27 providing that the orders are accompanied by checks or money orders for the full amount made payable to H. E. Parsons and self-addressed, stamped envelope. Patrons are especially urged to specify the number, price and preferred location of seats desired. Waterbury is particularly fortunate in connection with this engagement inasmuch as it is one of a limited few cities which will see the original York "Merry Widow" company. The organization which will present this sensational operatic success in this city is the one which concluded a run of one solid year at the New Amsterdam theater on October 17, a run which will go down in theatrical history as the most remarkable ever played in this or any other country. There have been longer runs, but there have been none which at all approached this one in point of financial return, more than one million dollars having been taken in during the year. In addition to a company of eighty-five persons Henry W. Savage will send here his famous English grand opera orchestra.

"THE DEVIL."

A large and interested audience greeted the company presenting "The Devil" last evening at Poli's theater, and seemed to enjoy the work of the two leading artists, Edwin Stevens in the title role and Miss Frances Nordstrom as the tempted wife. Chief interest centered around the work of Miss Nordstrom, who all last season was the leading woman in the Poli's stock company. She had splendid opportunities to display her histrionic abilities and responded frequently to accolades, finally being compelled to make her second footlight speech to a Waterbury audience, thanking them for their generosity. The play is a remarkable one in many respects, but is staged well but not acted well. There is scarcely any moral lesson attached to this or any other success which makes its success all the more surprising, for it has been successful since its first presentation in this country.

JACQUES

THE JACQUES

Following the announcement of the engagement of Ed Wynn & Co as the leading attraction at the Jacques for Thanksgiving week, the Jacques for Thanksgiving week, the sale for the week opened briskly yesterday. Seats are reserved for both performances on the holiday at the regular evening prices. With Ed Wynn & Co, will be seen Howard's Musical Pointes and comedy songs, easily the top line animal act of vaudeville; William Court, the impersonator of Harry Lauder, and other acts of the same high standard. Large audiences are daily and nightly expressing their approval of the capital bill at the Jacques this week, headed by Harry W. Fields and his Redpath Napanees in a rollicking, roystering school room scene embodying singing, dancing and mirthful features. The Four Provosts present a unique acrobatic comedy offering, "Fun in a Turkish Bath." Other attractions are George Armstrong, the breezy monologist, and singer; Carney & Wagner, singers and dancers; Lizzie Evans & Co in "Turning the Tables," a bright western farcical sketch; Johnson & Hardy, jolly singing comedians; Boutin & Tillson with an original instrumental act and the electrograph.

EMPIRE

EMPIRE THEATER

Hundreds endeavored to find the elusive and mysterious "Mr Pike of the Empire Theater" yesterday to obtain the reward, equivalent to $100, that goes with his discovery. The man-hunt has the town by the ears, so to speak, and even the school children are joining in the with a degree of pleasure that is pleasing to witness. The management of the new Empire theater feel that this his beg one of the biggest hits yet, and is doing much to call public attention to Waterbury's new independent playhouse. All that is required to obtain the reward, which consists of two season seats to the stock productions at the Empire Theater, is to ask the right man "Are you Mr Pike from the Empire theater?" If he is the right party he will hand over the envelope containing the reward. If not captured before this noon he will be in Exchange place at that hour and again at 7 o'clock this evening, unless found before that time. Much interest is being manifested in the transformation scene at the new stock theater and one would hardly recognize the interior of the building to-day, as the result of progress made by scores of carpenters and painters. "Old Heidelberg" is certainly a fine attraction for the opening bill. Seats are now on sale at popular prices.

EAGLES' HALL PICTURES.

At Eagles' hall on Sunday evening the Superior Moving Picture Co of New York will present another of its popular motion view entertainments and the programme promises to be even more interesting than former shows. Several of the latest films will be shown and the headline feature will be a realistic picture of every day life with its laughter and its sorrows. There will be new illustrated songs and musical features. Prices 10 and 15 cents.

FULTON BAND DANCE

Fulton's American band will resume its successful Saturday evening dances and sojourns at the Buckingham on Saturday evening after omitting a week of the season owing to the Elks' fair. The band is the number forty strong this week and a programme of new dances and numbers combined with many of the popular numbers of other programmes has been prepared and rehearsed under the direction of Conductor James M. Fulton. The programme will contain selections from several new operas, also a new march which has not before been heard in Waterbury. Again the barn dance will be a popular feature of the programme. Dancing will commence promptly at 8:30 o'clock and will continue through the evening. Conductor Fulton is arranging a series of excellent concert programmes to be given in the near future. The dates of these concerts will be announced later. The programmes will resemble those made popular in New York city by Victor Herbert and in Boston by the summer division of the Boston Symphony orchestra. The dance of to-morrow evening will be conducted in the same excellent manner which has marked these affairs so far this season, the management still retaining the right to refuse entrance to objectionable persons.

ORATORIO CONCERT

The sale for both the concerts of the fall musical festival of the Waterbury Oratorio society at the Buckingham next Tuesday has been so gratifyingly large that the society is now assured of large audiences at both the afternoon popular orchestra concert to be given by Victor Herbert and his orchestra and the evening concert when Gounod's "Faust" will be sung by the society's chorus with eminent soloists. There are however many seats as yet unsold though these will be according to indications be taken before the day arrives. The sale of "Faust" has been especially large while the Herbert orchestra concert is sure to attract a large audience owing to the popular nature of the programme. Madame Marie Stoddart who is to be the soloist with Mr Herbert and his orchestra is one of the best known of the younger concert sopranos on the American concert stage. Madame Stoddart has sung in many parts of America though she is perhaps best known in the Western states where she has sung with great success in concert and oratorio. Her voice is described by enthusiastic critics as a clear bell-like organ of great purity and color. Madame Stoddart has sung many times in New York city but her experience in New England has been small and she comes to Waterbury for one of her first engagements in this part of the country. Madame Stoddart has sung "Marguerite" in "Faust" many times with great success thus accomplishing a step on the ladder of ambition which is the coveted goal of every prima donna. Her work in this great role is described as beautiful both vocally and in the great intelligence of its interpretation. Besides appearing as "Marguerite" in the evening Madame Stoddart was the soloist chosen by Victor Herbert to assist him at the popular orchestral
