THE HORSES

Millions of Dollars Lost By Property Owners Because of New York Racing Bill.

New York, Nov 24.—Since the close of the racing season in this state leading turfmen have been trying to figure out just what effect the Agnew-Hart law has had upon the sport. While the courts must pass upon various points of vital interest before a line can be had on the future, it is a fact that unless there is some way to permit speculation among individuals without open bookmaking racing can never be revived. Consequently with racing dead in the state of New York it cannot be expected to live any great length of time in those states which so far have not adopted adverse legislation. Speaking in this connection a prominent racetrack stockholder and horse owner said yesterday: "Without racing in New York the sport throughout the country will die. Nearly 400,000 persons and $100,000,000 of property will be affected.

"Race track property, including trotting courses and state fairs, valued a year ago at $80,000,000, is now valued at $30,000,000. "Nine racetracks controlled by the Jockey Club (Brighton, Sheepshead Bay, Gravesend, Jamaica, Aqueduct, Empire City, Belmont Park, Saratoga and Buffalo) formerly worth to their stockholders $27,000,000, are now valued at $5,000,000. "The number of men employed at racetracks (Pinkerton police, stable hands, jockeys, trainers, restaurant help, clerks and officials) is 10,000. "The railroad employees affected by the abandonment of special trains to race tracks are 1,500 in number. "Former value of racetracks, $20,000,000; present value, $2,000,000. "Amount disbursed annually by racing stables for feed and other necessities in New York state has been $1,000,000. "Small merchants in racetrack neighborhoods will lose $500,000. "Losses to railroads in fares paid by racetrack patrons will reach $1,000,000. "Loss to hotels, restaurants and boarding houses patronized by racegoers will be $2,000,000. "Loss to Saratoga hotels during short season was $2,000,000. "Racetrack losses include $350,000 by the Coney Island Jockey club, $300,000 by Empire City, $60,000 by Saratoga, $70,000 by Gravesend and an even break by Brighton, after all stakes had been cancelled. Because of profitable spring meetings Aqueduct, Jamaica and Belmont park quit ahead of the year."

SALARY LIMIT IN TRI-STATE. Harrisburg, Pa., Nov 24.—It was unanimously decided at the special meeting of the Tri-State league, held in this city, that the salary limit for each team be restricted to $2,500 per month, and that no individual player was to receive an amount in excess of $225 for his monthly services.

POLO. Results of Games Held Last Evening.

New Britain, Nov 24.—The New Britain polo team defeated Pawtucket last night at the East Main street armory before a crowd of about 800 by the score of 4 to 1. Bill Bannan, New Britain's old goal tender, was with the visitors, and received a fine ovation. He played his old style game, having 52 stops to Pence's 29.

No goals were scored in the last period. Pence had only five stops in the last period. Long John Wiley did not distinguish himself very much. Jean was too big a proposition for him. Harkins got struck in the arm and Holderness rubbed him down. He had to have attendance during the recess between the first and second periods. One drive made by Jean took Cameron off his feet. Pence's work during the second period was of the stellar order, and the crowd was quick to show its appreciation. Bannan called on some of his old time admirers between periods.

Summary of polo games: New Britain vs Pawtucket, Harkins vs Wiley, Jean vs Center, etc.

Other Games: At Bridgeport—Bridgeport 6, Worcester 3. At New Haven—New Haven 6, Providence 3.

THE PUGILISTS

Two Heaviest Men That Ever Fought in a Ring Will Meet in Two Weeks.

Spokane, Wash., Nov 24.—Fred S. Radcliff, sheriff of Whitman county, who towers six feet and two inches in his bare feet and weighs 375 pounds, and Dr. T. E. Callaghan of Spokane, six feet and four inches from crown to sole, with 260 pounds to his credit, will meet in the roped arena with padded gloves within two weeks, to decide the amateur championship of the Inland Empire giants.

"Do I think Johnson can beat Burns? Why, of course I do!" said Bob Fitzsimmons the other day. "Johnson is the cleverest big man in the ring to-day. I know a whole lot about him. He is a hard hitter and one of the most scientific heavies I ever saw. Burns is overrated. He has never licked a first class man and is about as good as Dan Creedon used to be a dozen years ago. You know I licked Creedon in a punch, and I could have done the same with Burns when I was right. Burns may be clever and a game, hard hitting pugilist, but he will be outclassed when he tackles big Johnson, for the latter is a great fighter. One of the best I have ever seen. It may be a long fight, but Johnson will win because of his rigid generalship and science, also his height and weight. It's a good safe bet too!"

EVER'S BASEBALL DEBUT.

Johnny Evers, the peer of all the second sackers, got into professional baseball in a regular manner. He was living in Troy, N. Y., at the time and attended a game out at the park. During the game Johnny, who was seated in the bleachers, was called upon by Manager Barron, of the Troy club, to take the place of the second baseman, who became ill. Johnny consented and put up a crackerjack game. He was then regularly engaged by the Troy management, and that fall Seale, of the Boston club, bought Evers and Pitcher Hardy at Philadelphia Link Lowe, the Boston's second baseman, got hurt, and Seale wired Evers to come on. Johnny jumped a train and arrived in New York. Having never ridden so far before, he was bewildered. He didn't even know what a sleeper was, and had sat up all night. He hung about the Forty-second street station in his innocence, waiting for a train to take him to Philadelphia, until a trainman told him to go to Jersey City. Here Evers took the cars to the Quaker city, arriving there in the afternoon. He was put into a double-header, though sleepy and tired as he was, and Johnny chalked up four errors in the two games. After that he played twenty-three errorless games, and was the talk of the baseball world.
