SIGSBEE FEARSFUL OF TREACHERY

Did Not Want to Load Coal in the Harbor of Havana.

His Dread Was That Some Demon Would Put a Stick of Dynamite in the Ship's Bunkers.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—A dispatch from Havana, March 14, says: 'The report is current in this city that Sigsbee, having threaten to leave Havana with 100,000 tons of coal, may be afraid of being blown up by some unscrupulous officer of the navy. Sigsbee is said to have taken the necessary precautions to prevent any such act, and to have ordered the coal to be landed.'
