Old Man World's Busy Day

Proposed Legislation

BILLS UNDER CONSIDERATION TO BE IMPARTIALLY ANALYZED BY THE CALL FOR THE LAYMAN BENEFIT

Queries Answered

AIMED SHOTS

FERRY TALES

Everybody's Forum

LETTERS FROM READERS OF THE CALL

December 11, 1913

EDWIN D. BOYD

1045 W. 20th St.

San Francisco, California

Dear Mr. Boyd:

I am a resident of Los Angeles and have been a subscriber to your newspaper for several years. I was very interested in your recent article on the Central Pacific Railroad and hope you will continue to keep your readers informed on matters of public concern.

Sincerely yours,

[Signature]

ABE MARTIN

123 Main St.

Los Angeles, California

Dear Abe Martin:

I appreciate your letter regarding the Central Pacific Railroad. It is important that we continue to support and work towards the improvement of our transportation infrastructure.

Yours truly,

[Signature]

POLICE APPROVE THE CALL'S SUGGESTIONS AS TO "FIXED POSTS"

Serving information and support is the idea behind the establishment of police "fixed posts" in certain areas. This new system is designed to improve communication between police officers and the public, ensuring a safer and more secure environment.

It's a crucial part of our mission to keep our community safe. By establishing these fixed posts, we can better monitor and respond to any incidents that may arise.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

POLICE APPROVE THE CALL'S SUGGESTIONS AS TO "FIXED POSTS"

Serving information and support is the idea behind the establishment of police "fixed posts" in certain areas. This new system is designed to improve communication between police officers and the public, ensuring a safer and more secure environment.

It's a crucial part of our mission to keep our community safe. By establishing these fixed posts, we can better monitor and respond to any incidents that may arise.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

Poly Legor

GREGORY D. VON SMITH

President

The Call

FERRY TALES

Nobody ever thought that we could get from San Francisco to Angel Island by ferry, but we did.

It's a long story, but let me tell you how it happened. Last week, I was on vacation and decided to take a stroll through the city.

As I was walking along the waterfront, I noticed a ferry booth.

"Excuse me," I said to the man inside. "Can you take me to Angel Island?"

The man inside looked at me with a smile. "Of course, sir. It's just a few miles away."

I paid my fare and climbed aboard the ferry. It was a beautiful day and I enjoyed the view of the city as we sailed out to sea.

After a short while, we arrived at Angel Island. It was a peaceful place, with trees and sand dunes as far as the eye could see.

I stayed there for a while, exploring the island and enjoying the fresh air.

When it was time to return, I climbed back aboard the ferry and headed back to San Francisco.

It was a great day, and I'm glad I decided to take the ferry to Angel Island. It was an adventure I won't forget!

Sincerely,

[Signature]

SUGGESTIONS FOR THE CALL:

Dear Mr. Boyd:

I appreciate your article on the need for better transportation infrastructure in our city. As a resident, I believe it is important that we continue to support and work towards the improvement of our transportation system.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

THE CALL

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER -- THE NEWSPAPER OF AUTHORITY

Maddox's Fall Puts Mexican Question Up to Tall Again

Madison has lost its chance — and, weirdly, has lost its one. The old, territorial name of Madison again to have become the most potent at the Mexican league after nearly three years of revolution and seamless peace. Its recent return is of almost purely political variety, and the presidency that is now held there is more likely to be a political affair than a matter of national importance.

Madison came in the front in May, 1913, when an electoral presidential nameular that was backed by a number of Congressmen, President the name of the man who appears now as Madison's successor. By the June settlement, however, it had been expected. Then it was announced that his namesake, Mr. Madison, would hold the presidency from 1914 to 1916. But in the meantime he has made a number of significant changes, and has become a wealthy and powerful man, with a system of political power that is certain to be influential in the coming election.

But the Mexican government, with its rules in the draws of the draw, has got itself into the revolution itself. Once Madison was too long handling a revolt, but heading a government, its courts are, for the large part, in the hands of his men. They were against him in the rest of Sunday. These rebels within the relations hold a key in the hands that broke with them; the loyal Madison men can point to the incommunicable fact that these arms have broken too.

President Tall's influence is strong. In the United States there has been no other nation that has had more influence in the affairs of the American continent. In its political sphere, there are not many nations that have more influence in the affairs of the American continent. In its political sphere, there are not many nations that have more influence in the affairs of the American continent. In the military sphere, there are not many nations that have more influence in the affairs of the American continent. In the financial sphere, there are not many nations that have more influence in the affairs of the American continent. In the economic sphere, the United States is the most influential nation in the world. In the political sphere, the United States is the most influential nation in the world. In the military sphere, the United States is the most influential nation in the world. In the financial sphere, the United States is the most influential nation in the world. In the economic sphere, the United States is the most influential nation in the world.

And with less than a week left in the Mexican government, President Tall may have prepared his base against the most serious problem that he faces. His administration, the United States troops march into Mexico and made the United States army become the police force to protect and carry out the Mexican doctrine.

Three Californians On M. Ray's List Of Literary Distinction

Of the six American authors now rated as contenders for the M. Rider Ray A. and B. A., the writer, is a California resident. There are three Californians, for example, that have been rated for the M. Ray's List of Literary Distinction. Cable, Edward Stuart White, Frank Norris and Jack London. Norris and London are the most prominent of the contemporary authors of California, living at San Francisco. Cable is the author of "The Call of the Wild," and London is of Chicago, his profit from the "Call of the Wild." Norris is a poet, and London is a novelist. cable is a poet, and London is a novelist. Norris is a poet, and London is a novelist. Cable is a poet, and London is a novelist. Norris is a poet, and London is a novelist.

These are not the only authors that the French cognoscenti discuss, but it is better to think of them as a possible combination of their devotions in the mind of the three Californians writers. It is a mark of the cultivation of the French that their literary accomplishments are selected by the poet and writer, and that they are frequently engaged in a contest with the other members of the literature. Norris and London are the most prominent of the contemporary authors of California, living at San Francisco. Norris is a poet, and London is a novelist. Cable is a poet, and London is a novelist. Norris is a poet, and London is a novelist.

Ferry Tales

Everybody's Forum

POLICE APPROVE THE CALL'S SUGGESTIONS AS TO "FIXED POSTS"

Serving information and support is the idea behind the establishment of police "fixed posts" in certain areas. This new system is designed to improve communication between police officers and the public, ensuring a safer and more secure environment.

It's a crucial part of our mission to keep our community safe. By establishing these fixed posts, we can better monitor and respond to any incidents that may arise.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

POLICE APPROVE THE CALL'S SUGGESTIONS AS TO "FIXED POSTS"

Serving information and support is the idea behind the establishment of police "fixed posts" in certain areas. This new system is designed to improve communication between police officers and the public, ensuring a safer and more secure environment.

It's a crucial part of our mission to keep our community safe. By establishing these fixed posts, we can better monitor and respond to any incidents that may arise.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

POLICE APPROVE THE CALL'S SUGGESTIONS AS TO "FIXED POSTS"

Serving information and support is the idea behind the establishment of police "fixed posts" in certain areas. This new system is designed to improve communication between police officers and the public, ensuring a safer and more secure environment.

It's a crucial part of our mission to keep our community safe. By establishing these fixed posts, we can better monitor and respond to any incidents that may arise.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

POLICE APPROVE THE CALL'S SUGGESTIONS AS TO "FIXED POSTS"

Serving information and support is the idea behind the establishment of police "fixed posts" in certain areas. This new system is designed to improve communication between police officers and the public, ensuring a safer and more secure environment.

It's a crucial part of our mission to keep our community safe. By establishing these fixed posts, we can better monitor and respond to any incidents that may arise.

Sincerely,

[Signature]