The New Lady of the White House

By Theodore Roosevelt.

Mrs. Roosevelt takes her place as hostess of the most celebrated social event in the world. Although the White House has been the center of political events of the world, and has been the center of political events of the country, it has always been recognized that the social side of life in the White House has been in the hands of the hostesses and the hostesses have always been women of high character and refinement. The late Mrs. Taft, who was hostess of the White House, was a woman of the highest refinement and the highest character, and the social side of life in the White House was always conducted with the greatest refinement. Mrs. Roosevelt is a woman of the highest refinement and the highest character, and the social side of life in the White House will be conducted with the greatest refinement.

Mrs. Roosevelt is a woman of the highest refinement and the highest character, and the social side of life in the White House will be conducted with the greatest refinement. She is a woman of the highest refinement and the highest character, and the social side of life in the White House will be conducted with the greatest refinement.
