MORE STATE PRISONERS ESCAPED. The escape of prisoners from the State Prison of this State is a thing of nearly weekly occurrence. Only a few days since a batch took tickets of leave you, I will now hear it. and walked off. Indeed, it is quietly hinted in many of the bay papers, that prisoners are occasionally allowed to visit neighboring cities, to rusticate and invite their friends to sign petitions praying the Governor to grant them his executive pardon. If the Governor would exercise the pardoning and with the experience of a long life before him power, wholesale, and turn the whole herd loose at Here the picture is reversed. You have scarcely once, he might in this manner intimate to the State attained the meridian of life. In the very prime generally the propriety of sending no more rascals to the State Prison to go hunting, fishing, and down how profiless your life has been, and to what an unto the Bay electioneering, in their own behalf at fortunate end you have brought yourself. Your few least, if not pipe laying for the Senatorial question. Here is an account of a stampede, from the Alta of

MORE STATE PRISONERS ESCAPED .-- Eight more villains are let loose on the community. Yesterday afternoon, about 2 o'clock, eight prisoners who were engaged in lightering bricks knocked down their three guards, leaving one for dead, and made their escape. It is not at all astonishing that these men you will be prepared for that trial. should escape, when they are allowed to perform this kind of work in boats. What is there to prevent eight desperate men from attacking three, and overpowering them? A few days ago one of these prisoners made his escape, and was gone for two days; on Wednesday evening he returned, and stole a boat belonging to Gen. Estelle. These escapes have become so common, that the saying, "As free as a Corte Madera prisoner," has grown

Pretty good, this! Why is there no reward offered for the recapture of these men? Are they let loose merely to furnish new business for perambulating officials? To arrest them for some frest. offence and get a dollar a mile for returning them. only to be let loose again on a fresh expedition, and the operation to be repeated until Sheriffs become too fat and lazy to catch them any more? Stole the General's boat. These chaps are, no doubt. geing to connect themselves with the revenue department of government. The Custom House, perhaps, need a few tide smashers, and these men being of an enterprising turn have determined to connect themselves with that institution. What else can they want of a boat? They certainly do of that amusement at the prison. If prisoners are the destruction of Greytown thus to escape in platoons week after week, the sooner the community resort to first principles with

Some of our courts come as near being a humbug as possible, and that the execution of the sentence of the law is becoming a humbug is beyond all doubt. The people have occasion to arouse. While officers of this County execute their duties thoroughly and without fear or favor in the criminal have purchased the other. department,-arrest, guard and bring rogues to punishment,-until a feeling of security and confidence prevails throughout the community, to have their exertions rendered a mere nulity by the carelessness, or perhaps something worse, of those who have in charge the final custody of prisoners, impairs their usefulness, by destroying the confidence of the community in all officers and especially all confidence in the final execution of punishment. It is time that the jobbers about our State Prison be taken in hand by the strong arm of outraged pubis not immediately exercised.

No class of men need be at all surprised if they see Vigilance Committees quite soon, going into a the Constitution and cause of freedom; by his emiboisterous exercise of power. Indeed, what other nent ability, and by his courage, patriotism and honresource is left? when the keepers of our Prison through carelessness, or perchance through the persuasive inducement of a golden argument, allow companies of five and eight to escape all at once, and these stampedes to be repeated weekly It is folly for officers of justice here to attempt to guard wish to be held responsible for longer connexion with the community against thieves and burglars when an easy exchange of rascals is permitted through the State Prison.

A NEW RULE FOR THE COURTS .- The Supreme Court of the State of New York have made it a rule that the counsel examining a witness, shall stand up. If the lawyer is allowed to sit at ease, he can prolong the examination to a tedious extent, but if compelled to be on his feet, he will put it through in double quick time, while his fee prevents his neglecting the interests of his client. It is the rule of the English Courts, and the same practice prevails in Vermont, where, as in England, it has the effect of greatly shortening the trial of causes.

This mode of doing business would be beneficial in this State. If some of our slewest of all slow judges, were compelled to stand, during the whole proceeding, the effort might quicken their intellect a trifle, and thus be conducive to the dispatch of public business.

The Court of Sessions, as we are informed convened at the Court House in this town, on Monday last. During the day, as we are told, an effort was made to elect two associate justices. This effort was crowned with a fair degree of success, one justice being elected certain; when, it is reported the court adjourned for three weeks. The last event, we chronicle, as an unusually fortunate termination | not agree. for El Dorado.

A Tunnel passing under the street, in the central portion of the town, caved in last week, making an opening in the surface of the street, some sixteen feet in length. In this opening, a watereart, and horse attempted to find the bottom, and were with some difficulty extricated. Before election the Court of Sessions had a mania for roadbuilding and repairing; since that time so far as we can learn, the public works have been stopped. At papers. all events this large hole extending nearly to the middle of the street, still remains yawning at every passer-by, and ready to receive teams into its capacious mouth. The citizens of this town may wait until about next August, we suppose, when the annual fit for road repairing will seize the Court of Sessions, and this hole be filled up with sundry aid vs Griswold, County Treasurer. Judgment of thing here is dog-d-m the fleas." I could hear shouts of glorification.

SENTENCE OF LIPSEY .- Lipsey, who was tried last week and convicted or the murder of George Powelston, at Cold Springs, on the 3d of July last, recieved his sentence in the District Court on Monday of this week. Hon. J. M. Howell, the presiding Judge, in passing sentence said:

You were indicted by a Grand Jury of this County for the murder of George Powelston. Under that indictment you were arraigned, and to it you plead "not guilty." You have been tried by a jury of impartial citizens selected by yourself, and the have convicted you, after a full hearing, of the charge preferred in the indictment. The time fixed by order of this Court for rendering judgment has arrived, and if you have any legal cause to show why judgment should not be pronounced against

to say, when the Judge proceeded. This is the second time during the present term of the Court, that it has become my painful duty to pronounce the sentence of death for the highest offence known to the law. In the first instance against a man full of years, the head of a family, and vigor of manhood-possessing all the qualities to make you useful to yourself and society. Think remaining days must be spent in the walls of a prison. You cannot it is true, repair the injury you have done, but you can prepare for that final trial which awaits you, and which fixes your doom irrevocably and forever. There you want no witnesses, no advocates but repentence and preparation. They alone can expiate your offence in the eye of that Judge from whose decision there is no appeal, and from whose sentence there is no escape. I hope

And now by virtue of the authority in me vested by the constitution and laws of this State and the verdict of the jury herein, I pronounce you guilty of the murder of George Powelston, and order that you be taken hence and confined in the County Jail of this county until one o'clock P. M. of the third by the sheriff and hanged by the neck until you are dead. And may God have mercy on your soul.

Correspondence of the Argus.

JOHN TOWN, Oct. 3, 1854. Rich Quartz-Matrimonia-Dog Concert.

MR ARGUS :- This community and the entire population in the country roundabout, have been for some days in a great fever of excitement. A rich vein of quartz was struck at Mamaluke Hill a few days since, prospecting from a dollar to two and four ounces to the pan. The party of three making the discovery are taking out as high as two hundred and seventy-four ounces in a week. This discovery called me among others, to Georgetown last week. I went up determined to have a claim, but on my arrival found the ground all staked off to a great distance. Being an old miner, and knowing considerable of gold-bearing quartz, I was not at all disheartened, but marked out a big claim two and a half miles from the point where the gold was first found in the rock; being careful to claim all the dips and angles of the lead. I have no doubt the lead runs exactly through the centre of my claim. I shall sink a shaft, and drift till I find it, and send the gold down to the U. S. Branch Mint, and have it run into chunks about the size of a brick. These bricks I will deposit from time to time, with Adams & Co., Wells, Fargo & Co. and Page, Bacon & Co., so that if one or two of these houses should break down, or break up, I will have enough in the remaining solvent bank, to make me everlastingly rich. Meantime, I will with my loose change, visit the Legislature next winter, and buy up a large amount of State Scrip, and lend a few thousand dollars to members, by way of getting myself into a permanent and endless collecting business. Speaking of the Legislature, I learn that we have eight members and four senators in this county, and that the members have all been sold out without their knowledge or consent ; keepers have been appointed, and deputy keepers are now day of November next, and that you be thence taken being selected below, under the supervision of an old stager, to manage them when the Legislature kick at the arrangement. I returned from my claims to Georgetown Sunday morning last, and about to take place, and enquiries were made for benefit. With the highest personal regards, Crow Bar to chronicle the event. I sallied forth to learn the particulars, and soon found that an invitation for Crow Bar to witness the ceremonies had been extended to the wrong hombre, so the before mentioned Crow Bar, did not personally witness the ceremonies aforesaid, and hereinafter described. Here is an authentic account of the exciting affair,

Very soon I learned that a grand concert was about to take place, being fond of sweet sounds, I anticipated a rich treat. After waiting a while and being tired, and hearing nothing of the concert, I retired to rest, on a cot sixteen inches wide; kept my candle burning. At eleven o'clock precisely, about "Potomac," the Washington correspondent forty-nine dogs began to bark, and barked incessantly for one hour and five minutes; ten or eleven experienced musicians of the canine race, contributing a prolonged howl, by way of variety no doubt. All was then still, and I hoped to sleep, when after a lapse of seven minutes, a sturdy cock blew a blast crowing tribe at Union Town, whose voice came bounding from point to point along the hills, echoing clear and shrill in the town of Coloma. This was a signal for the whole tribe to begin; about two hundred of these feathered musicians tuned their voices and crowed every possible note in the range of musical science. This portion of the concert continued just seventeen minutes exactly. Next came a herd of hogs grunting and squealing, they made a violent attack upon all the gates in the vicinity, and finally after great exertion, and greater uproar, succeeded in unhinging one-then the way tin cans and old barrels rattled. was a caution to of Job, lay in his bed and grumbled a long time, then ended out and raised a window, and cursed Wednesday last was cloudy, with strong inthe hogs in splendid style, which roused a dog, who gave one yelp, and yelp, yelp, bow, wow, recommenced all over Coloma again.
