

SHE FEELS HURT.

No Notion of Insulting Anybody.

CHICAGO IS TOO SENSITIVE.

And Prince Antoine Was Really Delighted That Nobody Paid Any Attention to Him.

Special to THE MORNING CALL.

NEW YORK, June 18.—The Herald this morning has a three-column double-headed interview with a member of Eulalia's party and with Eulalia herself. In answer to recent comments by Western papers upon her conduct in Chicago, Eulalia is quoted as saying: "Everything the Duke has said to you can be considered as a personal statement from me."

"I was tired and sleepy and I'll when I went to Mrs. Potter Palmer's house, I stayed there until all the presentations were over and my head ached so I could not remain to partake of supper. It is too bad, but you must remember I had much to wear upon my strength. How could I think of offending Mrs. Palmer? She is a charming woman. Indeed, when I heard there was even a suspicion that I had offended Mrs. Palmer I invited her to take dinner with me at the hotel and placed her at my right hand."

"As for my failure to appear at Fort Sheridan and review the troops Commander Davis offered to assume the whole of the responsibility of explaining that, and as assured it was not necessary. I met General Miles, and he is an attractive, cultivated gentleman. I would not think of being rude to him."

"Is there any truth in the report that your husband, Prince Antoine, has been offended by the failure of various committees to pay more attention to him?"

"The Princess and Prince both laughed heartily. "There is not a word of truth in it," said the Princess, as the prince nodded his assent. "The Prince is not here in his representative character, and he has been delighted with his opportunities for privately studying the country and the magnificent exposition at Chicago."

NEW YORK, June 17.—The Infanta Eulalia did some quiet shopping to-day. She will sail for Newport on Tuesday in a private yacht.

PAVING THE WAY.

Strong Banks to Set the Weaker Ones an Example.

NEW YORK, June 17.—The Clearing-house did not today issue its usual detailed weekly bank exhibit, but only what is known as the consolidated statement, comprising the total showing of banks. Information as to application by banks for loan certificates is withheld, but it is understood that no certificates have as yet been issued, but some of the stronger banks will call for them early next week to pave the way for the banks actually in need.

The imports of specie at the port of New York for the week were $192,425, of which $111,740 was gold and $70,679 silver. The exports of specie were $822,662, of which $18,816 was gold and $803,846 silver. Of this amount $806,120 of silver went to Europe and $4,817 of gold and $1725 of silver went to South America.

NEW YORK, June 16.—Shipments of currency by the banks of New York to the interior to-day aggregated $1,250,000, of which $400,000 was obtained at the sub-treasury in exchanges.

FOUGHT A DRAW.

Or, at Least, That Is What the Referee Called It.

NEW YORK, June 17.—Jerry Barnett, the pride of Pell street, got a draw with Champion George Dixon to-night, according to referee John Kelly, at a boxing tournament at the Academy of Music. The boys fought four rounds and for three Dixon played with his opponent. In the fourth he went in to finish up his man, but Barnett was wily and kept well out of range of the colored lad's dangerous fists, and by so doing is entitled, according to the referee, to even honors with Dixon. The crowd, however, thought otherwise and gave vent to their feelings in an unlimited amount of hissing.

EDGEMONT, Iowa, June 17.—Early this morning Harry McCoy and Billy Layton, pugilists, fought on a steamer a few miles up the river. McCoy was victor in the sixth round. He knocked Layton out with a blow on the chin. Neither man was punched to any extent. A large crowd of sports witnessed the mill.

A GENERAL ROW.

EDGEMONT, Ind., June 17.—A double murder occurred here to-night. A row took place in a saloon, and the entire population, crazed with drink, participated. Pistols were used freely, and Hugh Gray was shot and instantly killed, and Sam Boyer lay on the ground with his throat cut. He died in thirty minutes. Mrs. Boyer was shot in the arm and severely wounded. All participants fled across the river.

BORAX FIND.

AMEDEE, June 17.—A rich deposit of borax has been found in Nevada County, sixty miles from Amedee. A company has been formed, and it will be placed on the market. Amedee will be the shipping point.

THE M'WHIRTER CASE.

The Widow of the Deceased Lawyer on the Stand.

FRESNO, June 17.—In the trial of Heath Mrs. McWhirter, widow of L. D. McWhirter, was again placed on the stand this morning. After a few questions the attorney began an argument on the admission of certain testimony, and the jury, in charge of a deputy sheriff, was sent to the San Joaquin river to spend Sunday. The arguments ceased at 1 P. M. and the court adjourned till Monday.

THE WIDOW WINS.

The Southern Pacific Assessed in Heavy Damages.

CANSON, June 17.—In the case of Mrs. H. M. Johnson, who sued the Southern Pacific Railroad Company for $25,000 through the death of her husband, who was killed by a defective engine and killed on August 14, 1892, the jury, after being out about two hours, brought in a verdict for the widow for the full amount. The case has consumed over a week in the Circuit Court. The defendant requested a stay of proceedings for thirty days. It was allowed by Judge Hawley.

SHUT THEIR DOORS.

Two Banks in San Bernardino Suspend.

OTHER INSTITUTIONS SAFE.

Malicious Rumors Alarmed Depositors, but the Scare Is Now Over and Money Plenty.

Special to THE MORNING CALL.

SAN BERNARDINO, June 17.—This morning the Farmers' Exchange Bank failed to open its doors, but instead hung up this placard: "Bank closed. Depositors will be paid in full."

For the last three days there has been a steady run, beginning on Wednesday and closing on Friday night, when the amount drawn out in cash reached $37,500. The bank telegraphed yesterday to one of its stockholders in San Francisco for $50,000, but the money could not be obtained in time. Yesterday local banks here advanced $12,000, but the amount was too small to meet the emergency.

At the time the bank closed Friday night $157,400 remained on deposit secured by bankable paper on twice that amount. The resources are about $2 for every dollar liability.

The run was caused by misrepresentation circulated by three irresponsible persons that the bank was shaky, who were investigated by a writ of malice.

The first to draw their accounts were the employees of the Santa Fe Railroad, who were paid off on the 14th, through the cashing of warrants at the Farmers' Exchange Bank, and who hearing these rumors of the shaky condition of the bank also drew their deposits, calling for about $25,000.

Others seeing so many at the bank drawing money and being excited by the recent failure of the Riverside Banking Company of Riverside followed suit, and what was at first an ordinary business transaction grew into something like a panic, resulting in compelling the bank to close its doors.

The Farmers' Exchange Bank has a paid-up capital stock of $50,000 and a surplus capital of $100,000. Its stockholders are the wealthiest and most substantial citizens of the city, together with several millionaires of Southern California and San Francisco. There is no doubt in the minds of well-informed business men here but that the bank will resume business at an early day.

Connected with the Farmers' Exchange Bank is the Savings Bank of San Bernardino, which closed its doors also. This bank has a paid-up capital of $10,000 and has a reserve fund of $1200, and deposits amounting to $70,000.

Those who are in a position to know declare that depositors of this bank will lose nothing.

There are three other banks in this city, the Bank of San Bernardino, San Bernardino National and First National. These banks have since the financial flurry in the East been fortifying themselves in every direction and now have on hand ready cash to withstand any kind of a run. One of these banks has $60,000 in gold this week, and another has received and applied with about $100,000, obtained from Eastern sources.

The other bank has displayed behind its rail a pile of gold and greenbacks big enough to shame the most crazy-headed old woman that may present her bankbook to demand to hide in her stocking.

Certain men on the street who are well known are circulating stories of a weakness in one of the other banks, but their efforts to create a panic will ultimately result in damage to themselves. Whoever presents his book for money gets it promptly and without hesitation.

Of all mad crazes that ever beset this community the one that is most senseless, and that has done the most damage and have not drawn one dollar out of any of the banks except in the regular course of business—not even out of the Farmers' Exchange Bank.

There has been some excitement on the street, caused by a few loud-mouthed men who were bent on injuring other banks, and for a time this morning a few depositors called for their money. By 11 o'clock, however, the flurry had subsided and only ordinary business was done. Much indignation is expressed against those parties who started the run on the Farmers' Exchange and who have since then fanned the excitement with their loud-mouthed and ill-considered prophecies on the sidewalk.

In a few instances wholly disinterested parties caught them with well-deserved rainbows.

Outside of the Farmers' Exchange Bank and Savings Bank of San Bernardino, other banks have taken in more deposits to-day than money drawn out. Those who drew out deposits early in the morning had replaced their money in the bank by noon, and loud-mouthed bank-smashers and their followers, disappointed in not creating a general panic. Owing to stringency in the money markets elsewhere, and difficulty in realizing on securities, it may be several weeks, if not months, before the Farmers' Exchange and Savings Bank of San Bernardino resumes; but it is, nevertheless, certain that had not the run been made just at this time the bank could and would have continued to do ordinary business.

The Farmers' Exchange Bank includes among its stockholders some of the richest men in the State, of whom may be mentioned W. W. Stow of San Francisco, Richard Gird of Chico, and the Byrne estate, the Waters estate, N. S. Abbe, H. L. Drew, Richard Stewart, James Fleming and John Anderson of this city, the Spence estate of Los Angeles and Clarence Stewart of Riverside, many of whom are worth hundreds of thousands each and some even millions. The directors of the bank are Richard Gird, John Anderson, Richard Stewart, H. L. Drew, James Fleming, N. S. Abbe and S. F. Zombro.

The following circular letter was mailed to the patrons of the bank this morning: "After a continuous run on the bank for three days, during which time every possible effort has been made by the directors and officials to avert the result, we are compelled to close our doors. This we do with great regret, and we are sure that in a few days more we could have realized sufficient means on our securities to carry us through safely. Our securities are ample, and will be realized thereon to pay every depositor in full, dollar for dollar. A full statement of the bank's condition will be published as soon as possible."

Bank Commissioner A. Gerberding when asked for his opinion of the cause of failure, after having spent some hours in examining the books, said that the Farmers' Exchange Bank succumbed to a feeling of uncertainty in the public mind prevalent almost everywhere, and he was satisfied that the bank would pay its depositors.

SHUT THEIR DOORS.

Two Banks in San Bernardino Suspend.

OTHER INSTITUTIONS SAFE.

Malicious Rumors Alarmed Depositors, but the Scare Is Now Over and Money Plenty.

Special to THE MORNING CALL.

SAN BERNARDINO, June 17.—This morning the Farmers' Exchange Bank failed to open its doors, but instead hung up this placard: "Bank closed. Depositors will be paid in full."

For the last three days there has been a steady run, beginning on Wednesday and closing on Friday night, when the amount drawn out in cash reached $37,500. The bank telegraphed yesterday to one of its stockholders in San Francisco for $50,000, but the money could not be obtained in time. Yesterday local banks here advanced $12,000, but the amount was too small to meet the emergency.

At the time the bank closed Friday night $157,400 remained on deposit secured by bankable paper on twice that amount. The resources are about $2 for every dollar liability.

The run was caused by misrepresentation circulated by three irresponsible persons that the bank was shaky, who were investigated by a writ of malice.

The first to draw their accounts were the employees of the Santa Fe Railroad, who were paid off on the 14th, through the cashing of warrants at the Farmers' Exchange Bank, and who hearing these rumors of the shaky condition of the bank also drew their deposits, calling for about $25,000.

Others seeing so many at the bank drawing money and being excited by the recent failure of the Riverside Banking Company of Riverside followed suit, and what was at first an ordinary business transaction grew into something like a panic, resulting in compelling the bank to close its doors.

The Farmers' Exchange Bank has a paid-up capital stock of $50,000 and a surplus capital of $100,000. Its stockholders are the wealthiest and most substantial citizens of the city, together with several millionaires of Southern California and San Francisco. There is no doubt in the minds of well-informed business men here but that the bank will resume business at an early day.

Connected with the Farmers' Exchange Bank is the Savings Bank of San Bernardino, which closed its doors also. This bank has a paid-up capital of $10,000 and has a reserve fund of $1200, and deposits amounting to $70,000.

Those who are in a position to know declare that depositors of this bank will lose nothing.

There are three other banks in this city, the Bank of San Bernardino, San Bernardino National and First National. These banks have since the financial flurry in the East been fortifying themselves in every direction and now have on hand ready cash to withstand any kind of a run. One of these banks has $60,000 in gold this week, and another has received and applied with about $100,000, obtained from Eastern sources.

The other bank has displayed behind its rail a pile of gold and greenbacks big enough to shame the most crazy-headed old woman that may present her bankbook to demand to hide in her stocking.

Certain men on the street who are well known are circulating stories of a weakness in one of the other banks, but their efforts to create a panic will ultimately result in damage to themselves. Whoever presents his book for money gets it promptly and without hesitation.

Of all mad crazes that ever beset this community the one that is most senseless, and that has done the most damage and have not drawn one dollar out of any of the banks except in the regular course of business—not even out of the Farmers' Exchange Bank.

There has been some excitement on the street, caused by a few loud-mouthed men who were bent on injuring other banks, and for a time this morning a few depositors called for their money. By 11 o'clock, however, the flurry had subsided and only ordinary business was done. Much indignation is expressed against those parties who started the run on the Farmers' Exchange and who have since then fanned the excitement with their loud-mouthed and ill-considered prophecies on the sidewalk.

In a few instances wholly disinterested parties caught them with well-deserved rainbows.

Outside of the Farmers' Exchange Bank and Savings Bank of San Bernardino, other banks have taken in more deposits to-day than money drawn out. Those who drew out deposits early in the morning had replaced their money in the bank by noon, and loud-mouthed bank-smashers and their followers, disappointed in not creating a general panic. Owing to stringency in the money markets elsewhere, and difficulty in realizing on securities, it may be several weeks, if not months, before the Farmers' Exchange and Savings Bank of San Bernardino resumes; but it is, nevertheless, certain that had not the run been made just at this time the bank could and would have continued to do ordinary business.

The Farmers' Exchange Bank includes among its stockholders some of the richest men in the State, of whom may be mentioned W. W. Stow of San Francisco, Richard Gird of Chico, and the Byrne estate, the Waters estate, N. S. Abbe, H. L. Drew, Richard Stewart, James Fleming and John Anderson of this city, the Spence estate of Los Angeles and Clarence Stewart of Riverside, many of whom are worth hundreds of thousands each and some even millions. The directors of the bank are Richard Gird, John Anderson, Richard Stewart, H. L. Drew, James Fleming, N. S. Abbe and S. F. Zombro.

The following circular letter was mailed to the patrons of the bank this morning: "After a continuous run on the bank for three days, during which time every possible effort has been made by the directors and officials to avert the result, we are compelled to close our doors. This we do with great regret, and we are sure that in a few days more we could have realized sufficient means on our securities to carry us through safely. Our securities are ample, and will be realized thereon to pay every depositor in full, dollar for dollar. A full statement of the bank's condition will be published as soon as possible."

Bank Commissioner A. Gerberding when asked for his opinion of the cause of failure, after having spent some hours in examining the books, said that the Farmers' Exchange Bank succumbed to a feeling of uncertainty in the public mind prevalent almost everywhere, and he was satisfied that the bank would pay its depositors.

SHUT THEIR DOORS.

Two Banks in San Bernardino Suspend.

OTHER INSTITUTIONS SAFE.

Malicious Rumors Alarmed Depositors, but the Scare Is Now Over and Money Plenty.

Special to THE MORNING CALL.

SAN BERNARDINO, June 17.—This morning the Farmers' Exchange Bank failed to open its doors, but instead hung up this placard: "Bank closed. Depositors will be paid in full."

For the last three days there has been a steady run, beginning on Wednesday and closing on Friday night, when the amount drawn out in cash reached $37,500. The bank telegraphed yesterday to one of its stockholders in San Francisco for $50,000, but the money could not be obtained in time. Yesterday local banks here advanced $12,000, but the amount was too small to meet the emergency.

At the time the bank closed Friday night $157,400 remained on deposit secured by bankable paper on twice that amount. The resources are about $2 for every dollar liability.

The run was caused by misrepresentation circulated by three irresponsible persons that the bank was shaky, who were investigated by a writ of malice.

The first to draw their accounts were the employees of the Santa Fe Railroad, who were paid off on the 14th, through the cashing of warrants at the Farmers' Exchange Bank, and who hearing these rumors of the shaky condition of the bank also drew their deposits, calling for about $25,000.

Others seeing so many at the bank drawing money and being excited by the recent failure of the Riverside Banking Company of Riverside followed suit, and what was at first an ordinary business transaction grew into something like a panic, resulting in compelling the bank to close its doors.

The Farmers' Exchange Bank has a paid-up capital stock of $50,000 and a surplus capital of $100,000. Its stockholders are the wealthiest and most substantial citizens of the city, together with several millionaires of Southern California and San Francisco. There is no doubt in the minds of well-informed business men here but that the bank will resume business at an early day.

Connected with the Farmers' Exchange Bank is the Savings Bank of San Bernardino, which closed its doors also. This bank has a paid-up capital of $10,000 and has a reserve fund of $1200, and deposits amounting to $70,000.

Those who are in a position to know declare that depositors of this bank will lose nothing.

There are three other banks in this city, the Bank of San Bernardino, San Bernardino National and First National. These banks have since the financial flurry in the East been fortifying themselves in every direction and now have on hand ready cash to withstand any kind of a run. One of these banks has $60,000 in gold this week, and another has received and applied with about $100,000, obtained from Eastern sources.

The other bank has displayed behind its rail a pile of gold and greenbacks big enough to shame the most crazy-headed old woman that may present her bankbook to demand to hide in her stocking.

Certain men on the street who are well known are circulating stories of a weakness in one of the other banks, but their efforts to create a panic will ultimately result in damage to themselves. Whoever presents his book for money gets it promptly and without hesitation.

Of all mad crazes that ever beset this community the one that is most senseless, and that has done the most damage and have not drawn one dollar out of any of the banks except in the regular course of business—not even out of the Farmers' Exchange Bank.

There has been some excitement on the street, caused by a few loud-mouthed men who were bent on injuring other banks, and for a time this morning a few depositors called for their money. By 11 o'clock, however, the flurry had subsided and only ordinary business was done. Much indignation is expressed against those parties who started the run on the Farmers' Exchange and who have since then fanned the excitement with their loud-mouthed and ill-considered prophecies on the sidewalk.

In a few instances wholly disinterested parties caught them with well-deserved rainbows.

Outside of the Farmers' Exchange Bank and Savings Bank of San Bernardino, other banks have taken in more deposits to-day than money drawn out. Those who drew out deposits early in the morning had replaced their money in the bank by noon, and loud-mouthed bank-smashers and their followers, disappointed in not creating a general panic. Owing to stringency in the money markets elsewhere, and difficulty in realizing on securities, it may be several weeks, if not months, before the Farmers' Exchange and Savings Bank of San Bernardino resumes; but it is, nevertheless, certain that had not the run been made just at this time the bank could and would have continued to do ordinary business.

The Farmers' Exchange Bank includes among its stockholders some of the richest men in the State, of whom may be mentioned W. W. Stow of San Francisco, Richard Gird of Chico, and the Byrne estate, the Waters estate, N. S. Abbe, H. L. Drew, Richard Stewart, James Fleming and John Anderson of this city, the Spence estate of Los Angeles and Clarence Stewart of Riverside, many of whom are worth hundreds of thousands each and some even millions. The directors of the bank are Richard Gird, John Anderson, Richard Stewart, H. L. Drew, James Fleming, N. S. Abbe and S. F. Zombro.

The following circular letter was mailed to the patrons of the bank this morning: "After a continuous run on the bank for three days, during which time every possible effort has been made by the directors and officials to avert the result, we are compelled to close our doors. This we do with great regret, and we are sure that in a few days more we could have realized sufficient means on our securities to carry us through safely. Our securities are ample, and will be realized thereon to pay every depositor in full, dollar for dollar. A full statement of the bank's condition will be published as soon as possible."

Bank Commissioner A. Gerberding when asked for his opinion of the cause of failure, after having spent some hours in examining the books, said that the Farmers' Exchange Bank succumbed to a feeling of uncertainty in the public mind prevalent almost everywhere, and he was satisfied that the bank would pay its depositors.

LOST MINE FOUND.

Silver and Lead on Santa Catalina.

STORY TOLD TO A PRISONER.

The Fortune Picked Up by a Man Charged With Murder From an Old Jailbird.

Special to THE MORNING CALL.

LOS ANGELES, June 17.—In 1863 John C. Hay and two others who were doing some prospecting on Catalina Island discovered a mine. They worked it for two years, and which they sold on the ground at $100 per ton. Hay and his partners then abandoned the claim, which was taken up by two others, who, after taking out 70 tons of ore, and disposing of it at $60 per ton, were obliged to suspend work on account of being served with an injunction by the owners of the island, which was then controlled by the Lick estate.

The men who were thus compelled to abandon what promised to be a bonanza went to work and covered up all traces of the mine. For thirty years it has remained undiscovered, although prospected for by several parties.

During George H. Miles' confinement in the County Jail on a charge of murder he became acquainted with an old man serving out a sentence. The old man, who is a physical wreck and spends most of his time in jail, took a liking to Miles and imparted valuable information as to the whereabouts of the lost mine. He gave Miles an accurate description of the island and other valuable points. When Miles was acquitted of the charge against him he took a trip over the island, where he spent fifteen days searching for the lost claim. At last his efforts were rewarded. Judgment by specimens which are on exhibition at the Wilmington Transportation Company's office he is liable to make quite a fortune.

The mine is in Cherry Valley, near the lighthouse, and easy of access. The first work to be done is to clear out the tunnel. Miles, who is an old miner, with the assistance of four others, proceeded to sink a shaft, and at a depth of twelve feet struck a small ledge, which widened as work was advanced. At the depth of fourteen feet the ledge, which was but a quarter of an inch wide when first struck, showed six inches of rich ore of lead and silver. Miles is greatly pleased over his find, and has made arrangements with prospecting works, which will be in operation in about thirty days, to work the ore, which at present will assay $11.50 in silver and $36 in lead.

MORE WATER.

A San Diego Project for Developing a Stream.

SAN DIEGO, June 17.—Another important enterprise in the way of water development is about to be inaugurated in Otay Valley, where Joseph A. Flint, last Tuesday, in manner prescribed by law, laid claim to water flowing in Otay Creek.

About two years ago Flint constructed a dam across the channel above the named point and twenty feet below the water-level at bedrock, and he now proposes to clear off the bedrock immediately below the old dam and strengthen the latter by adding forty feet more cement until the height of the present structure is reached.

From then on work will proceed until fully 100 feet high, forming a reservoir of 65,000,000 gallons capacity, and affording a constant flow of water to the city. The water thus obtained is to be used for irrigation, mechanical and domestic purposes in Otay, Oneonta, Chula Vista, National City, San Diego, Coronado Heights and South San Diego, and will be diverted by means of a conduit eight feet wide by four feet deep, or pipe of ditch of equal capacity.

A force of men has been put at work grading the road to connect with the main highway, and hauling material necessary to construct the dam. Pipe has already been sent down and will be put in place so as to get rid of water that would otherwise interfere with the preliminary work.

THE GEARY ACT.

People of Los Angeles Want It Enforced.

LOS ANGELES, June 17.—At a numerously attended meeting held here to-night to discuss the Geary act, resolutions were passed to telegraph to Washington demanding the enforcement of the act. A letter was read from Senator Stephen M. White, expressing regret at not being able to attend, and stating that California was practically unanimous in demanding the exclusion of Chinese. Mr. White's letter concludes as follows:

"I do not think there is any doubt of the wisdom of this act, and I am glad to adopt such regulations. Mr. Cleveland not only approved of the Scott exclusion act, but was supposed to have had much to do regarding the preparation of the same. Failure to enforce the Geary act by no means indicates any change of sentiment. The small appropriation made by Congress was no doubt due to the supposition that Chinese residents would not hesitate to avail themselves of its provisions. I think the actual funds available for deportation purposes are smaller than commonly supposed and I have no doubt that the administration is prepared to enforce the act to the extent of its present ability."

HORSETHIEF CAUGHT.

A Hard Customer Recognized by a Sheriff.

SAN RAFAEL, June 17.—E. T. Richardson, who came up on a preliminary examination here a few days ago, in a Justice's Court, on a charge of grand larceny, and who was bound over under heavy bonds to appear before a higher tribunal, was shortly vindicated by the Sheriff of San Joaquin County this morning. A party who is wanted in that locality for horse-stealing.

The Sheriff believes that he is the same party who was implicated and accountable for many such robberies committed in the northern counties of late, as he tallies to the description. He was arrested on a similar charge in San Francisco several days ago, but the authorities being unable to identify him, he was acquitted. He then came over here and rented a horse and buggy from a livery stable, stating that he was going for a short drive and immediately drove to San Francisco and disposed of the property to John A. Coon, the keeper of a livery stable on Eighth street. He was arrested and taken here by Sheriff H. Harrison.

THE WRONG CLEW.

Officers Fail to Find the Murderer of Tovery.

JACKSON, June 17.—The trail of the man suspected of being implicated in the murder of Tovery was followed by Sheriff Gregory and Thorn to Copperopolis and resulted in nothing. He was interviewed, but was unable to give a satisfactory account of himself. He slept in a barn near Valley Springs, although having money in his pocket, and this fact aroused suspicion.

Sheriff Gregory returned last night, and is now working in the northern part of the county. The report of a suspicious character at Amador City proved delusive. It was started in a joke.

Tovery's papers are being examined to find the letter which he told parties he had received signed "Sharpe," but so far without success.

The officers are at present without any clue, and the case is being kept open.

Tovery's funeral took place this morning, and was largely attended.

DRY GOODS.

Clearance Sale!

PRICES ON DRESS GOODS!

We are now offering all of our Summer Dress Goods at such low prices that they will be sold before our Annual Inventory end of this month.

LOOK AT OUR PRICES.

FULL SUIT LENGTH, 7 YARDS, OF ALL-WOOL SHODDAS, good styles and desirable colors, WOULD BE GOOD VALUE AT $4.00 $2.45

FULL SUIT LENGTH OF AVONDALE TRICOT, 54 inches wide, WORTH $2.50 $1.50

HOSIERY CHEVONS, the new weave, in all the reigning colors of Tan, Mode, Gray and Beige, suit lengths of 7 yards, GOOD VALUE AT $2.75 $1.75

Excellent Values in Velvets and Velveteens, in all the Fashionable Colors. Parcels Delivered Free in this and Neighboring Cities and Towns.

KOHLBERG, STRAUSS & FROHMAN,

1220, 1222, 1224 MARKET STREET.

1893, by the Rev. John Q. Adams, Milton A. Cassin, and Mrs. Y. Sprague.

DEATHS.

ANDERSON, John Jr., Andrews, Elizabeth, Birk, Carl, Birk, Alice A., Bianco, Trinidad, Bowers, George W., Bowers, Mary J., Clifton, Mrs. Mary J., Feeney, John, Goodall, Mrs. S. L., Gilgenkrantz, Alfred, Whittier, Simon.

BALLET—In this city, June 16, 1893, Henry Sheffeld, England, aged 56 years and 2 months.

FRANKS—In this city, June 16, 1893, Frank R. Horn, aged 43 years.

SMITH—In this city, June 15, 1893, Lena, beloved wife of Augustus Smith, aged 68 years.

MCCARTHY—In this city, June 16, 1893, Mrs. Johanna McCarthy, mother of P. J. Dunne and J. J. McCarthy, aged 78 years.