A Solid South—A Solid North.

For the Gazette.

It is the Republicans that are endeavoring to consolidate the North by the cry of a solid South, that by ignorance, prejudice, interest and maliciousness, they may keep up sectional hate and conflict revive their fallen party—hold on to power for loaves and fishes—corrupt the public offices and plunder the Treasury of the United States after 1881, as they formerly did under the regime of U. S. Grant. It was the cry of abolitionism, false liberty, love of the negro, hate of white men of the South, thievery of their property and running it away on the underground railway that made the solid North. It was the solid North that refused to obey the constitution and the fugitive slave law, and refused to return persons bound to service, escaping from one State to another. If there was any solid South it was the solid North that made it, self protection is said to be the first laws of nature. It is the sheep dogs that drive the sheep together, and they all turn and face the hounds; it was North men that sent their emissaries into the South among the negroes and by their teachings, letters, pamphlets and speeches, advised the negroes to put fire into the houses of Southern homes and daggers in their beds, fomented strife, insurrection and death.

It was Northerners that desired the rights of property in the Territories, or Southern states. It was Northern combination that brought on the war. It was not the West; not Abraham Lincoln that caused the firing of Fort Sumpter. It was treacherous Northern cabinet officers. It was Northern policy that kept up the war for years that sacrificed so many million men—that caused so much starvation and death at Andersonville—because they cut off supplies of food and medicine and would not exchange one white man for another white man but wanted to dictate to the South that they should give a negro for a white man, and thus the Northern government became responsible for much of the misery and horrors of the war and thousands of thousands of deaths. We do not recount these things with satisfaction, but now that vile Northern politicians and a vitiated press are striving to revive dead issue and combine a solid North, by the cry of a solid South and hanging out the bloody shirt, it is necessary that the pen and press should recount the history of the past and warn the public against their nefarious purposes in the present or the future. The boomerang sub-editor of the Republican even in our midst, as if forgetful of the place in which he lives and that we are not a Northern state, but a middle one, keeps the black flag flying every day, and by misrepresentation of the South and abuse of our own State, our courts of justice, and juries, and laws, and officers, and people, endeavoring to combine us into a solid North against the South. Who that reads his windy and long editorials and incidental remarks almost daily, when he can get the negro for the subject, is ignorant of the deadly virus within him, and the cockatrice eggs he lays to hatch serpents; and his ulterior purpose to persecute our own people and minister to a solid North, best "Othello's occupation should be gone." What is the interest of Wilmington, Delaware? What supports our carriage establishments? What are our steamboats made for; where our cars and ships sold and so of our other manufactories?

Does not the Republican know that its principles and teachings, the more they have been taught the more they swamped the Republican party, until now it is doubtful whether there is any more Republican party. One thing is certain, that its every-day cry disgusts the more intelligent and best part of the Republicans, and as to its teachings that a negro is better than a white man, it is not surprising that some should not let it come into their houses. Men may brag of the circulation of their papers and think it is a warrant to go in on their outrage of public opinion. But the question is what are their principles? Among whom does it circulate? Who are their subscribers—the ignorant or the intelligent; the vicious or the pure. It is too late in the day by any hocus pocus for the nearly isolated Republican press of Delaware to attempt by any party interest to drive us into the solid North by the cry of a solid South. One scintillation of reason and an instant sense might raise the inquiry: If the South is reattacked by a solid North, why has not the South an equal right to become a solid South and repulse the foe and mock their vain designs? As if on account of their fallen fortunes and not on account of their virtues or their claims, they propose to trot out General Grant for their next President, not for his qualifications, but for his military character. They have calculated without their host, and the Middle and Western States and the South will combine in one solid phalanx to defeat the foe. Elect a Union man for President and rout Gen. Grant horse, foot and dragoon. Our financial interests will lead to this result. The party that for fifteen years has disordered and corrupted our finances and destroyed trade and beggared the country has forfeited every claim to confidence. And what may be called the public well know that prosperity can never be restored by a solid North, but by reciprocity of feeling and trade and of a change of government. The hard money is against them; they are weighed in the balance and found wanting, and 1880 will read their doom. PATRIOT.

A Revival Throughout the Land.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 26.—At a largely attended meeting of clergymen of this city held yesterday, at the suggestion of Mr. D. L. Moody, the Evangelist, a committee was appointed to issue a "call to the evangelical ministry and churches of the United States to unite in the month of January, following up the week of prayer in a concentrated effort for the revival of God's work throughout the whole land; and that in order to do this they urge the Christian people to lay aside all conflicting engagements, social, ecclesiastical, literary or otherwise; that with united heart the church call upon God to revive His work, and stay the tide that threatens our institutions, political, social, and religious." The committee will issue the call immediately.

Information has been received in Washington of the conviction in the United States Court at Cheyene of D. J. McCann, who was found guilty of stealing from the government fifty-two barrels of sugar, selling the same and pocketing the proceeds. McCann was once a prominent candidate for United States Senator from Nebraska, and for years was president of the First National Bank.

Enlarging the Sphere of the Greenback.

Secretary Sherman's remarks to the Baltimore bank presidents have excited criticism in some quarters which has the appearance of being captious, but the general impression made upon mercantile communities is favorable. The secretary evidently expects to aid in maintaining the parity of greenbacks with coin by increasing their uses and enlarging their sphere of action. Thus, although he did not expressly state the fact, it is apparent that he expects a greenback which is at par with gold and is also receivable for customs, to take the place, since it is capable of performing all the duties of a clearing-house or coin certificate. The New York Bulletin calls attention also to the important circumstance that this new use of greenbacks "will vastly diminish the occasion for making distinctions between silver and other currencies." "In other words," it says, "the greenback will do all the work of gold and silver, excepting only the settlement of foreign balances." As these balances are now all in our favor, when resumption is effected there will be practically no object to be attained by the conversion of notes into coin, and the supply of gold and silver will be ample for all purposes of banking reserve. That supply is stated by Comptroller Knox, from data furnished by Dr. Linderman, director of the mint, to be as follows:

Estimated coin and bullion in the country, June 30, 1877.....	$242,855,858
Estimated product of mines for the year.....	29,000,000
Exportations for the year.....	29,82 ,314
Total.....	$371,6.7,172
Deduct exportations..	$11,697,853
Used in the arts, &c...	27,535,470
	$39,233.225
Total est. am't June 30, 1878.....	$332,443,947

It will be seen from these figures that we have not only during the year retained the entire bullion product of our mines of gold and silver, but have received from abroad $18,123,757 of coin and bullion in excess of our exportations. Of this amount of $332,443,947, $244,353,390 is in gold and bullion, and $88,090,557 in silver coin and bullion. Director Linderman also estimates that between June 30 and September 30 the coin and bullion in the country has increased at least $26,000,000. If this rate of increase should be maintained up to the 1st of January, the coin and bullion in the country at that date, upon the basis of the director's estimates, will be $384,443,947.—*Balt. The Credit-Mobilier Case.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—In the Supreme Court of the United States to-day the case of the United States versus the Union Pacific Railroad company, et al., came up and argument was commenced by Mr. Solicitor Phillips, as the counsel for appellant. This is the suit commonly known as the credit-mobilier case. It was commenced in the United States Circuit court for the district of Connecticut by the filing of a bill in equity by Attorney-General Williams in the name of the United States, under and by virtue of the special requirement of the fourth section of the act of Congress, approved March 3, 1873. The purpose of this proceeding, as set forth in the bill, was to procure the restoration to the corporation of certain funds, of which it was alleged to have been defrauded by the credit mobilier. The defendants demurred to the bill on various grounds, the most important being the act of Congress under which the suit was brought was unconstitutional, and that the government's interest rests on the transactions complained of and was insufficient and too remote to enable it to maintain the bill. Mr. Justice Hunt sustained the demurrer and the case being appealed to this court was argued in December, 1876. There being a division of opinion in the court as then constituted the present reargument was ordered. Attorney-General Devens will make the closing argument for the government to-morrow, and will be followed by Mr. Rodney Bartlett, and Mr. William G. Russell, of Boston, for the defendants.

The Crusade Against Rum.

CHESTER, November 25.—The temperance people of Chester have begun a campaign against rum, which they think will have the effect of reducing the number of grog shops in Delaware county. It is the intention to get up a petition to Judge Clayton, asking him to grant only half as many licenses for next year as he did this. Colonel Theo. Hyatt, of the Penn Military Academy, thinks the temperance people will be successful if the churches take hold of the matter. He said: "Trinity and Madison Street Methodist Episcopal Church put Judge Clayton where he is. He received the vote of the church and temperance people of the city." There are over one hundred grog shops in and around Chester. Dr. Jewett, the Connecticut temperance orator, delivered his fifth lecture in Chester this evening. He had an audience of 1,500 persons last evening.

COLLISION IN THE MERSEY.

LIVERPOOL, November 26.—During a dense fog here to-day a crowded ferry-boat which was crossing the Mersey, collided with a ship lying at anchor. A panic occurred on the ferry-boat and several persons jumped overboard. Some accounts say six persons were drowned, others say only two or three.

There is practice in some of the public schools of making a Thanksgiving present to the several teachers. These presents are from the pupils and generally take the shape of a turkey, though they are sometimes varied, and flowers, pictures, or books may be given. The usual course is for one of the older scholars in a class to be appointed or to appoint himself as treasurer, and then a tax is levied upon the whole class to make up the necessary amount. In many instances poor children are forced, as it were, out of more shame of refusing, to subscribe amounts that they cannot afford. A refusal is followed by contemptous words and maltreatment, while the getters up of the list are apt to stand in a very prominent position on the "roll of merit." The practice is a pernicious one, and ought not to be tolerated by either parents or pupils, or even by the teachers themselves, The Board of Education or the local boards of trustees could soon ubate it if they desired to.—N. Y. Sun.

A correspondent of the Philadelphia Times says that he met a New York journalist who, being that week on a spree, solicited a loan of twenty-five cents to buy a drink, and the ensuing week the same journalist, being sober was earning his usual income of $150 a week. This story, which is told as an illustration of the ways of newspaper men, is untrue on the face of it. The New York journalists who receive $7,800 a year are not drunkards. Indeed, it is difficult for a drunkard to get employment at any price on the important newspapers of this city. The days when drunkenness and untidy clothes were regarded as indications of literary genius are among the days that are no more.—Sun.

J. T. Kellogg, of Northampton, Mass., walked quite a long distance to vote at the last election. He is 90 years old. Who will now dare to assert that the patriotism of our forefathers has died out?
