The committee on teachers reported the following appointments, which were approved:

Miss Annie Speakman, assistant principal of school No. 12; Miss Nellie C. Duncan, first assistant of No. 9; Miss Sarah W. Hay, second assistant of No. 3: Miss Phœbe E. Guthrie, third assistant, No. 12.

The committee on books recommended the purchase of three 6 inch celestial globes for schools Nos. 1, 4 and 5.

They also recommended that Watson's common speller be placed among the text books. They also deemed it inexpedient to retain Robb's reader on the list of text books. The matter was laid over until next meeting night.

The committee on legislation reported that the amendment to the charter of the Board had passed both houses of the General Assembly.

The resignation of Howard Simpson as a member of the Board from the Tenth Ward, was read and accepted.

Business Notes.

The sales of New England cotton goods in China have increased to a very flattering extent during the past year.

A general revival of buisness is reported in the Ohio iron regions, and manufacturers are overwhelmed with orders at advanced prices.

Nashville, Tenn, shows signs of awakning prosperity. According to a local journal "$250,000 will not cover the cost of the houses now in course of erection and to be erected during the year 1879."

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company are building, at the Mount Clare shops, twenty-five engines of the "Mogul" pattern, for use on the grades of the Alleghany Mountains, and 200 freight cars.

A Newark (N. J.) paper says:—"Sash weights now manufactured so cheaply from scraps of tin—obtained from various manufactures—in this city, that no company can compete with them in cheapness."

The consumption of rubber by our manufacturers continues as large as ever the imports amounting to about twelve thousand pounds per annum, chiefly from South America. The price ranges from twenty to fifty cents per pound.

The Milwaukee (Wis.) Bee reports that the announcement of new buildings for the present season are coming in so fact that the papers do not get time enough to dwell upon the details before their attention is called to the next one.

The Cincinnati Gazette has interviewed a number of the representative business men of that city with reference to the business outlook for the spring. It finds universal cheerfulness and a large increase of business over that of last year.

Among the branches of business which will be affected by the new Canadian tariff is that of trunks. The Newark (N. J.) Journal says:—"The new Canadian tariff operates against the trunk manufacturers in this city, as to that country they have been accustomed to look for an important market."

Salem, Mass., sends encouraging news in regard to the shoe trade. The Post, of that city, says:—"The spring trade has everywhere the fullest indications of being better than it has been for years, and all there is wanted now is for the people to fully realize the situation and the wheels of business will just hum."

A Lewiston (Me.) paper reports that "business at the Lewiston Machine Company's works is now livelier than it has been in years. Every available space in the works is in use and a very large force is employed. The foundry is crowded with work. A large quantity of cotton machinery is being turned out for the Cabot Company, Brunswick; for the Hallowell Mill, for the Pontiac, for the York, of Saco; for two mills in Lawrence and for a mill in Atlanta, Ga. A very large order is being filled for a mill at Atlanta, chiefly looms and shafting."

The Boston Post prints a bright picture, as follows:—"The factories are generally resuming or making ready to resume work, and if the foreign market could be still more rapidly extended, by intelligent legislation their prospects would improve at a much more speedy pace. But it is all certain to come right in time. Even real estate, which is the last to rally, feels the effect of the reviving trade impulses and improves its figures and pretensions together. We have reached a stage, in fact, at which further movement is possible in but one direction. Everything must now go forward. The country is evidently about to enter on a career of prosperity whose splendors have hardly yet been imagined."

PERSONAL.

Mr. Sharon, of Nevada, has drawn his salary and $125 for stationery for four years, and has not been present for duty more than sixty-five days in all.

Miss Fanny, daughter of the late John C. Breckinridge, has lately married John A. Steele, a widower, of Woodford county, Ky.

Ex-Gov. Tilden is invited to deliver the annual address before the literary societies of the University of Georgia.

Capt. C. A. M. Estes, a nephew of the late Stephen Girard, died last week in Chattanooga, Tenn., while on his way South in quest of health.

The Baroness Burdett-Coutts has inherited nearly £70,000 from her companion for many years, the late Mrs. Hannah Brown.

Angell, the Chicago defaulter, is keeping the books of the general office in the prison at Joliet.

Rowell, the pedestrian, on Saturday exchanged his American winnings for £3,000 sterling.

An old couple in Fairfield, Conn., have just celebrated the 75th anniversary of their marriage.

Mr. John T. Ford has received a letter from Arthur Sullivan, the composer of the Pinafore music, dated London, March 6, acknowledging the receipt of a $500 draft, in which he says: "You are the sole manager at present who has offered us any acknowledgment of the success of our piece in America, and we beg to tender you our thanks for your consideration."

"STUMP THE WORLD" PEACH.

There is a general impression that this very popular variety of peach, so extensively supplied to Philadelphia markets from New Jersey, is a native of that State. But a correspondent of The Western Agriculturist gives the following account of its origin: "I see that some of our Western horticulturists credit the 'Stump the World' peach to New Jersey. The following is the correct history of its origin, so far as known: A party of us had been out on a deer hunt north of Coldwater, Branch county, Michigan, when night overtaking us, we stopped with James Barney for the night. In the morning he showed us a seedling peach tree. It was standing in his meadow, between the roots of a very large oak stump (over three feet across). At the time it was shown us (September 7) there were but two peaches on it; he said there had been about a dozen. In shape they closely resembled a large lemon; in color they resembled a deep colored sweet orange, with but very little furze upon them. The peaches were weighed in presence of nine other persons besides myself, and the weight put down at thirty-three ounces. I cut all of the wood that would do for buds, and sent them to A. Frost & Co., of Rochester, N. Y., with a description. They called it 'the Stump Peach;' after it bore they called it 'Stump of the World.' The original tree did not leaf out the next spring."

American trunks are in great demand in Ireland.
