The Spring Election

A DEMOCRATIC VICTORY IN DETROIT—THE RESULTS ELSEWHERE.

DETROIT, April 7.—John Logan Chapman was elected judge of the Superior court, of this city, by a plurality of 1,411 and a majority of 46 over both the Republican and National candidates. Returns from the interior come in slowly. Sixty-two towns heard from give Campbell (Rep.), for justice of the Supreme court, 1,717; Grosvenor (Rep.), for regent, 1,171, and Shearer (Rep.) for regent, 1,101 majority.

CINCINNATI, April 7—11.30 P. M.—The returns at this hour are not sufficient to base an opinion as to the result. A heavy vote was polled. The Democrats, who during the day and early part of the evening were confident of the election of their entire ticket, now consider the result doubtful.

April 8—1 A. M.—The Republicans now claim the election of Jacobs for mayor over Harris by a thousand majority. The vote polled is unusually heavy, equaling that cast at the last presidential election. The Republicans also claim the election of the entire city ticket, with possibly the exception of the police judge.

COLUMBUS, O., April 7.—Sufficient returns are in to demonstrate that the Republicans have swept the city and elected G. L. Collins mayor by between 600 and 1200 majority and the balance of the ticket by similar figures. They have also elected sufficient members to make the City Council Republican by five majority. This is the first time since the organization of the party that the Republicans have elected their candidate for mayor. At Akron the entire Democratic city ticket was elected with the exception of street commissioner. At Princesville the Democrats elect two out of three councilman. At Warren the Republican city ticket was elected. At Fremont the Democrats elect the mayor, Geneva, Ravenna and Elyria went Republican. Advices from the smaller towns on the Reserve show Republican victories.

DESTRUCTION OF A HISTORIC HOUSE.—The old brick house on a farm belonging to the heirs of the late F. B. Cruikshank, near Fredericktown, Cecil county, occupied by a family named Vanzant, was destroyed by fire on Monday morning. When the British Admiral Cockburn was burning and pillaging the country on the Chesapeake bay and its tributaries, in 1813, his soldiers visited Fredericktown. The old brick dwelling was then one of the finest residences in the neighborhood, being built of imported brick, with thick walls and erected in the substantial style then prevailing. At the approach of the British all the citizens fled, excepting Miss Patty Chandler, who owned and occupied the brick dwelling. She stood bravely at her post and defied the efforts of the invaders to destroy her property. Every time they fired the building she extinguished the flames, and finally the enemy left.—*Cecil (Md.) U. S. District Court.

Opening of the April Session—A Case Settled—An Officer who Disobeyed a Summons.

The April term of the U. S. District Court for the District of Delaware, opened in the U. S. Court room, this city, this morning, Judge Bradford presiding.

The roll of the Grand Jury was called and all the members answered to their names, were qualified, and retired to their chamber. Solomon M. Curtis is foreman of the jury.

S. A. Macallister, Esq., counsel for George Steinicken, cigar dealer of this city, who was arrested for a violation of the International Revenue laws, and held in $1000 bail for appearance at the present term of Court, stated that he had prepared an offer of compromise, which had been approved by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, the Attorney General, and the officers here, but had not yet received the sanction of the Secretary of the Treasury. He therefore asked that his client be discharged on recognizance, pending the final result of the offer of compromise.

District Attorney Spruance said he assented to this request, as the case of Steinicken was not yet in court, and he did not propose to indict him. The matter, he said, had been practically, but not formally, disposed of.

The request was granted.

The Petit Jury were called, and all answered excepting Wm. Green, of Middletown, who was excused on account of sickness. They were then discharged until 3 o'clock p. m.

District Attorney Spruance called the names of the witnesses in the case of Evan Rice, the defaulting cashier of the Wilmington & Brandywine National Bank, and the following presented themselves to be qualified before the Grand Jury: Washington Jones, Wm. G. Gibbons, Dan'l H. Kent, Wm. L. Pusey, G. W. Sparks, Dr. J. P. Wales, H. P. Rumford, and Otho Nowland. They are all directors or attaches of the bank.

The name of Orson Adams, the U. S. Bank Examiner who examined the accounts of Cashier Rice, was also called, but he did not respond. In relation to him, the District Attorney stated that he had been duly subpœnaed on the 27th of March, and the subpœna forwarded to Atlanta, Ga., where the Marshal learned he had gone. The subpœna was retnrned, with a certificate of the Marshal for that district of Georgia, to the effect that it had been served upon Orson Adams, at Atlanta, Ga., on the 1st of April.

On Saturday, Mr. Spruance said, he received a telegram from Adams, to the effect that he could not be here, and that he could not be here, and that all the necessary information could be obtained from the bank officers. The District Attorney said this was the second time Mr. Adams had disregarded a summons, and he desired to bring the fact to the attention of the Court for such disposition as might be deemed proper. He would go on with the trial without Adams' presence, as an attachment would not bring him here in time, but he considered it a flagrant disregard of the processes of this Court by an officer whose first duty it should be to obey its orders.

Judge Bradford said he would order an attachment to be issued if the District Attorney desired it, and Mr. Spruance replied that perhaps he would ask it further on in the case.

No further business was transacted during the morning session.

Caught by a Line.

A Man while Fishing in the Brandywine this Morning, Fishes up the Body of a Drowned Man.

This morning early, while James Hineman, a watchman, employed by the Jackson & Sharp Co., was engaged in fishing near the P. W. & B. R. R., bridge with a "dipsy line," he was surprised when he went to pull in that something unusual was attached to the line. After pulling and hauling for sometime, he succeeded in getting the object to the surface, and to his surprise found that it was the body of a drowned man. He made it fast, and informed Sergeant Sones, who in turn informed the Coroner of the occurrence, who soon took charge of the body. The appearance of the body, answering to that of Minor Vincent, who was drowned in the Brandywine, near Shellpot sluice on March 12th, the Coroner immediately telegraphed to the father of the son, Capt. Vincent, who resides at Salem, N. J.

In reply Mr. Botz received the two following despatches:

SALEM, N. J., April 7, 1879.

"Be over as soon as possible."
CAPT. VINCENT.

SALEM, N. J., April 7, 1879.

To Coroner Botz:

Put Vincent's body in package box, and ship to Salem via Pennsgrove.
J. DUNN & Co.,
Undertakers.

At 4 o'clock an inquest was held, and a verdict rendered in accordance with the facts stated above.

The Coroner will comply with the request made in the despatches, and the body will be sent to Salem.

The Levy Court.

The Entire Body Visit this City this Morning, and are met by the Special Committee of Council—The Various Sites Visited in regard to Locating the New County Buildings—The Members Express no Decided Views.

This morning, the long contemplated visit of the Levy Court to this city took place. They were met at the City Hall at 10 o'clock, by Messrs. Guthrie, Paynter, Adams, Price, Moore, Norton and President Lichtenstein, comprising the special committee of City Council to confer with the Levy Court, in regard to the new county building authorized by an act of the late General Assembly. There were present the following members of the Levy Court:

Messrs. Silver, Polk, Lodge, Morrison, Wilson, Wier, Taylor, Wells, Husband and President Bright; the only member absent being Mr. Carswell, who has been confined to his room with sickness for some time past. His Honor, the Mayor, was also present, and acted as chaperone of the party, Mr. John Jones, was also present. After a desultory conversation at the City Hall, the party left the hall and walked up Market street to the Tenth street basin, where the members of the Court were shown the grounds that had been donated by the Council. The members expressed themselves as delighted with the situation.

Mr. Silver, chairman of the Building Committee of the Levy Court, was furnished a drawing of the ground.

The next place visited was the city sand hole, between Twelfth and Thirteenth, Orange and Tatnall streets.

After leaving the "sand lot" the party were taken to the residence of His Honor the Mayor, where they were entertained by his little daughter with excellent music. They next walked out the Avenue to Adams street, to Eleventh, to the reservoir. Here they were shown through the "pump house" and around the banks of the reservoir.

The members of the Levy Court expressed their admiration of the Reservoir in glowing terms. Leaving the Reservoir, the next point visited was the "City Square." Here some time was spent, the visitors being pleased with the location. Leaving the Park, the next place visited was the City Hospital, where they were met by Lewis P. Lynch, Chairman of the Hospital Committee; W. H. Lee, Superintendent, and Dr. Shortledge.

The visitors were shown over the building, and admired its cleanliness, and the excellent manner in which that institution is conducted. Leaving the City Hospital the visitors were escorted down Eighth street to the City Hall, and were shown the City Hall yard.

After viewing the city cells they were escorted to the Clayton House, where they partook of dinner.

The Sons of St. George.

The annual session of the Grand Lodge, sons of St. George, will meet in Philadelphia, on Tuesday next. Mr. W. B. Norton the Representative from this State will attend the session. Messrs. Edward Green and John Percy, will attend the session as Past Grand officers.

The Domestication of the Buffalo.

Col. Ezra Miller, of Rahway, N. J., has been making some experiments which have led him to the conclusion that it will pay to breed buffaloes, both pure blood and crossed with our domestic cattle. Relating his experience with these animals lately, the Colonel said: "I have proved to my own satisfaction several points. First, that buffaloes can be tamed. Second, that it doesn't cost one half as much to keep a buffalo as it does to keep an ordinary cow. Third, they can be fatened as quickly as ordinary beeves, and on half the food, and their meat is just as good. Fourth, they are just as good milkers as our Alderneys; and fifth, they are good butter makers. The milk of the buffalo is a little yellower than that of the Alderney, but very sweet and rich, and there is more cream than in the Alderney milk. As to the quantity of milk given by buffalo cows, they will average with the average milker. The udder of the buffalo cow is very small indeed, but the milk veins are immense. This is a provision whereby nature enables them to run faster than if cumbered by a large udder. I am of the opinion that the most desirable cross is with the big Dutch cattle that have such big udders. I think that crossing them with our shorthorns will give a remarkably good beef. But the beef from our buffaloes more than met my expectations. It was sweet and juicy and tender, not at all like the meat of the buffalo of the plains.

Now, in drawing the balance between the buffalo and the ordinary cow, I find these facts: The buffalo can be kept at one half the cost of the cow; that's one point for the buffalo. We will assume, to give the cow a fair show, that she yields more milk and butter. That balances the account so far. The buffalo is fully equal to our stock in the quality of meat. So they are still on even terms: but its hide is worth four times as much, so it comes out far ahead in the last heat, as horsemen say. The hide from my bull was a beautiful specimen. It was better than a $25 robe. I bought to compare with it. The fur was longer and finer, the result of good feed, I think."

The buffalo herded with the other cattle on the best of terms. What surprised the Colonel most was their weakness. He supposed they were very powerful; but they are not. He has seen a yearling Alderney bull push a three year old buffalo bull up hill. They are fast, but not strong. They are also very cowardly, very playful and very cunning.—Scientific American.

PERSONAL.

It is said that Senator Don Cameron has leased for a term of years the finely furnished mansion of ex-Governor Shepperd, in Washington, at $6,000 a year.

The Washington Republican calls earnestly for a congressional investigation in the Fitz John Porter case, being dissatisfied with the finding of the military board of inquiry.

The Maine Legislature intended to cut the Governor's salary down to $1,500 a year, but bunglingly worded the act so as to empower him to draw that amount every three months.

Commodore C. K. Garrison has resigned the presidency of the Wabash railway, and Cyrus W. Field has been elected in his place, but it is understood will not accept.

A Victory for Mr. Bergh.

Mr. Edward Burt, the owner of the Clinton Place stables, in New York, where a rat pit was permitted recently, was tried and convicted in the Court of Special Sessions of that city, Saturday, on the charge of letting and hiring the premises for a rat fight. When the police raided the place they found a pit well occupied with live and dead rats, and a Scotch terrier bleeding where it had been bitten by a rat. Mr. Henry Bergh was active in the prosecution. Mr. Burt was sentenced to three months in the penitentiary. Bail was refused him, and a writ of habeas corpus and certiorari was at once served on the judge.

THE DURHAM COLLIERS

The Negro Exodus

TWO THOUSAND OF THE REFUGEES IN KANSAS.

LEAVENSWORTH, Kan., April 7.—two thousand negroes from Mississippi and Louisiana are now in this State, others are arriving by nearly every They are quartered in Leavenworth, Wyandotte and Topeka. A few have scattered out to other parts of State, seeking work as farm hands anything else that they are capable doing, but the main army is encamped in the three towns named. They are willing to work. A few men find work at odd jobs about and some of the women as house vants. They have no plans for future. They started with the intention coming to Kansas, and, having got here, are completely at sea.

AGITATING THE COLOR QUESTION IN VIRGINIA.

RICHMOND, VA., April 7.—A meeting of about 200 colored men was held to-night. Several colored orators delivered lengthy speeches, favoring Grant for next President. Resolutions were adopted appointing a committee to visit Washington, and use their influence to have the course of Judge Rives in refusing to county judges of this State for failing to summon colored jurors on juries in their courts. The action of the meeting is approved by many prominent colored men here.

A DRUNKEN MAN ROASTED.

BORDENTOWN, N. J., April 7.—C. Eaders, an old resident of Georgetown, a small manufacturing town a few miles from here, went yesterday with some companions to the woods for a spree. Having drank rather freely the party fell asleep and the old man was discovered shortly after in a precarious condition slowly roasting before the fire. He died about two hours later.

William J. Aydelotte, of Maryland, and George H. Bagwell, of Virginia, have been appointed to adjust the boundary line between them two States.

Thursday, Apr il 17, is to be a fast day in Maine.
