OUR GRANDMOTHER.

Grandmothers are very nice folks;
They beat all the aunts in creation,
They let a chap do as he likes,
And don't worry about education.

I'm sure I can't see it at all,
What a poor fellow ever could do
For apples, and cookies, and cakes,
Without a grandmother or two.

Grandmothers speak softly to "mas,"
To let boys have a good time:
Some times they will whisper, 'tis true,
"Tother way when a boy wants to climb.

Grandmothers have muffins for tea,
And pies, a whole row in the cellar;
And they are apt (if they know it in time)
To make chicken-pie for a "feller."

And if he is bad now and then,
And makes a great racketing noise,
They only look overtheir specs,
And say, "Ah, those boys will be boys."

"Life is only short at the best,
Let the children be happy to-day,"
Then they look for a while at the sky,
And the hills that are far, far away.

Quite often, at twilight comes on,
Grandmothers sings hymns very low
To themselves as they rock by the fire,
About heaven and when they shall go.

And then, a boy stopping to think,
Will find a hot tear in his eye,
To know what it will cost at the last—
For Grandmothers all have to die.

I wish they could stay here and pray,
For a boy needs their prayers every night;
Some boys more than others I s'pose:
Such as I need a wonderful sight.

"Up Like a Rocket, Down Like a Stick."

The once famous Jay Cooke has now turned up in his true colors and real character. He has become the most infamous, the most notorious charlatan, moral and financial, that this or any other country ever produced. We defy history to show his equal as a thorough-paced rogue and pig-headed financier. The debts at his policy-shop foot up some nineteen million of dollars, and as it now appers, he nor his rag-dealing partners have been worth a dollar in years. An examination into the affairs of that concern shows that its head, Jay Cooke, has ever been a most stupid and blundering executive. He scattered his banking capital among the most irresponsible of borrowers. All his investments turned out the most injudicious possible. When he built his castle near Philadelphia, to which he gave the ridiculous name of Ogontz, he was probably not worth the sum of a million and a quarter that the castle cost; and at the close of the war, after all the tremendous splurge the firm had made, he is said to have accumulated only a couple of millions, which he lost before he took the agency of the Northern Pacific. At that date he was a bankrupt. For a concern that made so big a flourish as the "Rothchilds of America," they have collapsed into a compass ridiculously small; and the social and professional trappings which surrounded him and his associates up to a few short months ago, now that the sun-light of reality has been allowed to strike upon them, are seen to be simply the dirty ropes and bedaubed canvas of gas-light theatrical splendor

It must long since have struck the philosophical observers that so startling an amount of "bogus"—bogus political, bogus religious, bogus moral, bogus financial—was never before fused into one dirty, poisonous amalgamation called "a Republican political party," since mankind were civilized, and "governments" were instituted. There are certain crations in nature which seem to invite the "dry rot." Fair-looking structures, externally, are attacked with this "dry rot," and keep decaying, internally, till there is nothing but a shell left, when all at once the whole fabric goes to powder and the wonder is how it could have stood so long. The "moral" party of 1860 has the dry rot badly. Its very nature is to breed decay. It not only has within itself the elements of rottenness, but it seems to invite every outside agent of destruction, moral and physical, to burrow and house itself within its crumbling shell.—Day Book.
