POPE RALLIES, CANNOT LIVE

Slight Improvement Looked Upon As Last Flicker of Spark of Life Before It Leaves Patient

Rome, July 6.—11.20 a. m.—The belief is growing in the Vatican that Pope Leo may survive the day. During his rally this morning the Pope resumed his habits of command and insisted on giving orders for the preparation of the brief appointing Monsignor Volponi, now Secretary of Letters to Princes, as Secretary of the Consistorial Congregation a post vacant owing to the promotion of Monsignor Nocella to the Cardinalate.

The Pontiff is lying on a small bed, drawn up to a window overlooking the piazza of St. Peter's. The only picture in the room is an antique Madonna and the sole ornament a great ivory crucifix.

The condition of his holiness at this time, still grave, is not so serious as late yesterday. Dr. Lapponi administered camphor caffeine through the mouth, as an experiment of injection did not prove successful, Pope Leo saying that he could not bear it. The amelioration resulting from the camphor caffeine was so marked that the Pontiff called first his nephews and then his private secretary and adjusted some personal affairs which are pending.

Dr. Mazzoni and Dr. Lapponi hope that unless there is heart failure they will be able to keep their august patient alive for a few days longer, especially if he will willingly consent to observe the physicians' prescriptions. This, however, is the more difficult, as his holiness preserves his full consciousness and argues and discusses his doctors' prescriptions. The latter, fearing to excite him by contradiction, are sometimes at a loss how to proceed.

During yesterday afternoon the strength of the Pontiff began to fall him so rapidly and his condition became so critical that it appeared that only a few hours of his life remained to him. It was, therefore, deemed wise to advise him of his grave condition, and this was done with tender precaution. Pope Leo was thus prepared for his last communion, which was administered with the participation of all the cardinals now in Rome and the whole of the pontifical court.

The solemn, yet gorgeous, ceremony of administering the last sacrament took place at the bedside of Pope Leo. The central figure was the dying Pontiff, whose long life's journey is nearly over, calmly preparing to enter the dark valley. The pale and emaciated face, almost as white as the pillows on which it rested, showed little sign of life, except the keen, glittering eyes, always his most striking features.

Around the bed were grouped the noble guards, in their glittering uniform, the Knights of the Cloak and Sword, in their picturesque, medieval costume of black, with white ruffs; 25 cardinals, all the members of the Sacred College who are present in Rome; stately and venerable figures, in their sweeping crimson robes. Nearest to the bed stood the imposing, tall figure of the cardinal grand penitentiary, Serafino Vannutelli, with the Pope's confessor, to hear the last confession of the departing Pontiff. Then the While weakness is more marked, his breathing is more regular. The Pope has been carried from his bed and is now resting upon a reclining chair. The doctors say his illness is taking its usual course.

The amelioration of the Pope's condition since last night is astonishing everybody. Real hope for his holiness' recovery, however, is excluded by the probability that the revival is merely a last burst of strength before the end. The final collapse is anticipated by sunset.

The text of the first bulletin issued this morning by the Pope's physicians is as follows:

"Although His Holiness passed the night almost without sleep, he is not so uneasy as he was yesterday. The Pope has been benefited by the injection of digitalis and camphor, and the condition of his chest is normal. There is a slight cough, with some catarrhal emission. Sufficient nourishment has been taken. The pulse is still weak, but not intermittent, and the temperature is below normal. The condition of the august patient, therefore, cannot be described as better, but it certainly is no worse."

(Signed) "LAPPONI," "MAZZONI."

PRAYERS ASKED FOR POPE

Bishop Monaghan, at St. Peter's Pro-Cathedral Church yesterday morning, during solemn high mass, asked the prayers of the congregation for Pope Leo XIII in his present critical illness. Catholics residing in this city are anxiously awaiting news from the Vatican at Rome.

CENTRAL LABOR UNION ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

Evan G. Gallagher Chosen President—Preparing for Labor Day

At the meeting of the Central Labor Union yesterday the following officers were elected and installed for the following six months:

President, Evan G. Gallagher; vice-president, J. Edward McClintock; recording secretary, A. R. Saylor; financial secretary, John Morrison; treasurer, Francis J. Vogel; trustees, S. A. Fairbank, Elwood Hardeste and Frank W. Jacoby.

A member representing each organized trade was appointed to compose a committee to conduct the Labor Day parade in the morning and the picnic in the afternoon and evening of September 7.

That there will be no lack of prominent speakers at the picnic the secretary was instructed to communicate at once with Clarence F. Burrow, Mother Jones, and others, with national reputation. The committee will hold a meeting this evening for the purpose of organization.

The inside carpenter also reported that they had secured Washington Park for August 13, saying that the management of the park guarantee to labor people and their friends the sole possession of the grounds on that day.

A delegate from the machinists reported to the committee from the various metal trades would hold a meeting on Wednesday evening to discuss the Metal Trades Council project.

STRUGGLING FOR LIFE BRAVE CAPTAIN IS SAVED

Clinging to Bottom of Boat in Delaware River John Roney Is Rescued

Struggling in the Delaware river, grasping the sides of his rowboat, which had been overturned by the fierce storm on Saturday morning, Captain James Roney, of No. 1127 Peach street, South Wilmington, was rescued from his perilous position by the tug Robert W. McCann, of Philadelphia.

The captain had started to row from Chester, where his barge was lying, to this city, to spend the Fourth with his family. He had not proceeded far from the city when he discovered the storm rapidly approaching. He was in the middle of the river and saw it would be useless to try to reach either bank, and was in the act of removing his shoes when the storm, with the fury of a tornado, bore down upon him, upsetting his little craft and hurling him into the water that had been whipped into surging billows by the fury of the wind.

He clung to the boat for some time, and was finally aided by the tug's crew as it was laboring against the storm. The captain was picked up, his boat fastened to the tug and he was carried to Chester. He had succeeded in removing his coat and vest, and these, together with his shoes, were lost.

Captain Roney was in charge of one of the barges which overturned in the Delaware river during the storm of last March, when Temple and Harding, of this city, were drowned.

TO BUILD HIGH STACKS

Forty Bricklayers to Begin at Malleable Iron Works on Monday.

On next Monday 40 bricklayers will begin building 7 big stacks at the new plant of the Malleable Iron Company in South Wilmington. The stacks will be about 200 feet in height and will be the tallest in the city with the exception of the water works stack.

The iron frames for the buildings are about completed and the work, which has been hindered to a certain extent by the lack of laborers, will be pushed to completion.

THREE DOZEN IN POLICE DOCK

Judge Cochran Had a Big Batch of Culprits to Deal With

FOUR HEAVY SENTENCES IMPOSED

Majority of the Offenders, However, Escaped With Small Fines—Heavy Fine for Assaulting an Aged Colored Man on the Street.

Thirty-six prisoners faced Deputy Judge Philip L. Garrett in City Court this morning, the largest number to receive trials at one session of this court for some time. The cases included offenses ranging from common drunkenness to assault and battery and interfering with an officer. The majority of fines were light, only four heavy sentences being imposed.

Brutal Assault.

Herbert Johnson, colored, was one of those who received heavy sentences. He was arraigned on a charge of assault and battery on Charles Robinson, a respectable colored citizen, living at No. 596 Tattall street. Johnson, while intoxicated, acted disorderly in front of the prosecuting witness' home on July 4, and when the latter came out of the house to reprimand him received a severe beating. The prisoner struck Robinson a vicious blow, knocking him unconscious, and then proceeded to beat the aged man while he lay upon the pavement. The court imposed a fine of $25 and costs.

Interfered With Officer.

While Patrolman Abrams was placing Johnson under arrest, Joseph Dixon, also colored, interfered with the officer, who had a hard time to reach a patrol box with his prisoner. Dixon, in his efforts to get Johnson away from the officer, tore the buttons from the latter's coat. The court would, no doubt, have imposed a heavy sentence upon Dixon, who was arraigned on a charge of interfering with an officer, had not former Deputy Coroner James T. Chandler appeared in the prisoner's behalf. A fine of $3 and costs was imposed.

Whiskey Bottle for Weapon.

A fine of $25 and costs was also imposed upon Caleb M. Backus, colored, for assaulting Augustus Irvine, colored. The latter appeared in court with his head swathed in bandages, and testified that because he accidentally sat upon the prisoner's hat on the Fourth of July he was struck over the head with a whiskey bottle by the defendant. The witness was taken to the Delaware Hospital, and it required ten stitches to close up the wound.

Coasters Fined.

William Smith, a young white man, who gives the officers on the "coast" considerable trouble, was arraigned on a charge of assault and battery upon Rosa Comery, a colored girl. The latter appeared against Smith, and said she would be obliged to use her umbrella upon the prisoner to keep him away from her. The court imposed a fine of $15 and costs.

Pointed a Revolver.

George Kinsley, a young man, was held under $200 bail for the upper court on a charge of pointing a pistol at a negro named John Green. The witness testified that Kinsley pointed his revolver at him, and said that one "nigger" had already been lynched, and it was about time to lynch another.

Many Minor Cases.

Joseph Brown, colored, was fined $5 and costs for disorderly conduct, and Peter Gartland $10 for a like offense.

Mary Shilo, colored, was charged with being incorrigible. Her mother informed the court that Mary left home yesterday a week for a young man acquaintance, and did not return. The case was continued until tomorrow morning in order to give Agent Frank Stout, of the S. P. C. C., time to investigate. Mary is 16 years of age.

A number of other prisoners were arraigned on charges of drunkenness, trespassing, vagrancy, disorderly conduct, and assault and battery, and nominal fines ranging in amounts from $1 to $5 were imposed.

TO BUILD HIGH STACKS

Forty Bricklayers to Begin at Malleable Iron Works on Monday.

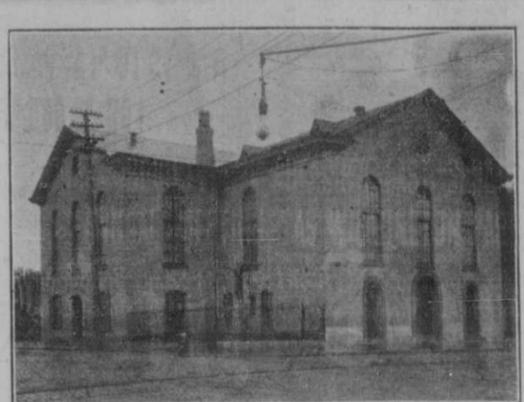

On next Monday 40 bricklayers will begin building 7 big stacks at the new plant of the Malleable Iron Company in South Wilmington. The stacks will be about 200 feet in height and will be the tallest in the city with the exception of the water works stack.

The iron frames for the buildings are about completed and the work, which has been hindered to a certain extent by the lack of laborers, will be pushed to completion.

BIG FIRE AVERTED

Blaze Extinguished by Diamond State Steel Company's Brigade.

A fire was started in a pile of rubbish beside the coal yard of J. M. Solomon on Saturday night, which fanned by the strong wind, threatened the sheds. A still alarm was sent to the Reliance Fire Company, but before they arrived the blaze was extinguished by the fire department of the Diamond State Steel Company. The origin of the blaze is a mystery, and had it not been discovered when it was, would probably have caused a big blaze in the manufacturing portion of the city.

ASBURY M. E. CHURCH.

Asbury M. E. Church, at Third and Walnut streets, traces its origin back to 1766. In that year Captain Webb, a British army officer, preached in Wilmington under some shady trees near the corner of King and Kent—now Eighth—streets. John Thelwell, who kept a public house near the lower market, officiated as clerk and led the singing. Subsequently Mr. Thelwell offered his schoolhouse, at Fifth and King streets, as a place of worship, and there Asbury Society was organized, and soon numbered forty-three white and nineteen colored members.

On May 12, 1789, a lot on the southeast corner of Third and Walnut streets, the present site, was purchased of Caleb and Sarah Way, for $105, and subsequently by gift and purchase from Edward Worrall, additional area was obtained.

The society erected a church in 1789, its dimensions being thirty-five feet square, with a gallery. This was destroyed and dedicated on October 19, 1789, by Bishop Asbury. In 1811 the building was enlarged and again in 1828, giving a structure of 70x50 feet.

Wilmington was a part of the Chester Circuit until 1789, when it was made a station and continued as such except from 1804 to 1806, when it again was in Chester Circuit.

The Rev. William Jessup was pastor in 1789.

A schoolhouse was built adjacent to the church in 1791, and in 1829 the society put up a two-story brick academy in Shipley street, near "High." The institution was continued for several years, then the building was used as a parsonage until 1843. Asbury Sunday school was organized in 1820. Both church and Sunday school memberships are large. The Rev. Henry S. Dulany is the pastor of the church.

AFTER GAMBLERS AGAIN BUT CAPTURE NONE

Officers Spotted by Sentinels and As Result Raid Was a Failure

As a result of a raid made upon "Gamblers' Paradise," at Gordon Heights, yesterday afternoon by State Detective Theodore Francis and Patrolman Chas. Hutton the collection of gambling devices in Chief Black's office has been argued. A good sum of money was also captured.

None of the gamblers were caught.

When the officers alighted from the trolley car they were immediately spotted and a rush on the part of the gamblers followed. Cloths, dice and money were left in the scramble to reach cover, and the gamblers quickly disappeared in the woods which surround the field in which the bankers of the games and their dupes assemble every Sunday to ply their trade.

Several raids have been made by the authorities upon the place, but never with any better result than the capture of paraphernalia used for gambling purposes. No arrests have been made and the police are of the opinion that spotters are employed and stationed at different points on the outskirts to watch for suspicious persons. These men give a warning signal and the gamblers disappear before the police arrive on the spot.

Several Sundays ago an employee of the Wilmington City Railway Company went to Gordon Heights to repair the electric mechanism of a car and upon reaching his destination, although a stranger, he was spotted by a sentinel who saw a special officer near upon the mechanic's vest, as the wind blew the latter's coat open. The spotter signaled and the gamblers sprinted for cover.

DAILY WORK FOR SOLDIER BOYS

How National Guard of Delaware Will Spend Week at Rehoboth. Governor to Inspect Troops

The details of the National Guard Encampment to be held at Rehoboth are fast being arranged. Both the officers and men are taking an active interest in making preparations, and by Saturday, when the boys go into camp everything will be in readiness.

Many citizens are also interested and the indications are that there will be a large number of visitors at the camp next week.

Thursday, July 16, has been set aside as Governor's Day, when Governor Hunn and his staff will visit the camp. PREACHED LAST SERMON AS WILMINGTON PASTOR

The Rev. John Snape Closes Four Years' Pastorate in This City

"The Last Invitation" was the subject of the Rev. John Snape at Delaware Avenue Baptist Church last evening. This was his last sermon as pastor of the church, which he has served for four years.

There is much regret expressed at the pastor's departure by the members of the church, which he has built up wonderfully during his pastorate.

A series of resolutions were adopted by the Bible school, and Superintendent Peter B. Ayers presented the retiring minister with a heavy gold ring in behalf of the Sunday school.

Upon the inside of the ring was engraved the word "Mizpah," and the initials "D. A. B. S. S." Mr. Snape was visibly affected, and made a speech touching upon his stay. The service closed by E. O. Sellers singing "What Will It Be When the King Comes?"

Mr. Snape goes to Newcastle, Pa., next Friday, and will take charge of the Baptist Church there on the following Monday.

TO PREACH AT CONVENTION

During the International Epworth League Convention to be held at Detroit, Mich., the Rev. William A. King, pastor of Grace Church, will preach on Sunday, July 19. The Rev. R. K. Stephenson, of St. M. E. Church, has charge of arranging for the transportation of those who go from this State. They are to start July 15. The convention will last from July 16 to 19, and a large crowd is expected, as it will include delegates from the M. E. Church North and South, and the M. E. Church of Canada.

TO BE MARRIED IN NEW ENGLAND.

William Lott, assistant superintendent of the Pennsylvania railroad in this city, has left for his vacation, which he will spend in New England. While there he will be married, and will reside in this city.

CITY TAX OFFICE BEGINNING TO GET BUSY

Many Will Avail Themselves of Reduction Allowed This Month

The city tax office is doing a big business at the present time. The entire working force of both Collectors Sayers and McCall will now be pressed with work until the end of the month. A reduction of 5 per cent is allowed during July on all taxes paid the city, and as a result many will avail themselves of this inducement. Although the business of the office is brisk, it is nothing compared to what will come during the last two weeks of the month. No reduction will be allowed after July 31.

Prices of Newspapers Advanced.

The price of all Philadelphia newspapers has been advanced 2 cents by the Union News Company at its stands at the Pennsylvania and B. & O. stations.

Several Hundred Tons of Coal Burned.

The big pile of coal which burned for several days in the Diamond State Steel Company's yards, has been extinguished. The coal was hauled about the yard and a hose played upon it constantly. Several hundred tons were destroyed, however.

Services at Hospital.

Delaware State Hospital for the Insane at Farnhurst, was visited yesterday by the Brotherhood of St. James, of Grace M. E. Church. The Rev. W. W. King and Prof. George W. Twitmyer made addresses.
