"Miss Nervis Hedake" 20 Years on Coffee

with dyspepsia and headache for company induced a woman to seek relief. Later on she wrote: "If I had only 50 cents left in the world, I'll tell you how I would invest it:

- Postum - 25 cents
Grape-Nuts - 15 cents
Cream - 10 cents

and I'd live like a queen while it lasted."

She had suffered so long that when relief came by USING POSTUM she knew its value and spoke from the heart.

This woman formerly had a visit about every 3 days from a yellow-skinned, scrawny and irritable ancient person known as Old Miss Nervis Hedake.

MANY PROOFS OF A RISEN CHRIST

Dr. Murray Cites Some of Them in Inspiring Easter Sermon

"I am he that liveth and was dead," was the text from which the Rev. W. L. S. Murray took the subject of his morning sermon in Washington Heights M. E. Church yesterday.

Christ says, "I was dead." Pilate gave sentence against Him. He was crucified. This is a well established historical fact. "I am he that liveth" is a triumphant announcement. His life is as capable of demonstration as His death.

Now our April debonair. Suavely from her full hand drops stars of plum and foam of pear. Wands and wreaths of cherry-cups, Strews her largess on the ground.

All aches to roused arm and brain. When fate has pressed them sore. That cannot rise above their pain To cast the dice once more!

Novelties in Fashionable effects. This is a season of varied modes and the rule applies to the little details of dress as rigidly as it does to larger garments.

TEETH AND BALL AS EVIDENCE

Colored Man Loses Former and Gets Latter in Sunday Row

Frederick Cooper, the colored man who shot Thomas Hicks in the mouth yesterday while a family row was going on at the home of the former across Third street bridge, was fined $50 and costs and sentenced to one year's imprisonment in the workhouse.

Young Crap Shooters Fined.

Three boys accused of shooting crap yesterday afternoon on Columbia avenue were fined in City Court this morning by Judge Cochran.

No Clue to Thieves.

The police have no clue to the thieves who broke into the haberdashery of John T. Johnson, No. 11 East Fifth street, sometime during last Friday night, and carried off seven razors and a number of cigars.

THE GENTLE SEX

Fashions in Gowns.

Short skirts are bound to become popular as a result of their adoption by Mrs. Roosevelt. Already Washington society has given itself to imitation of several new spring abbreviated gowns worn by the wife of the President, and the style has even crept into Fifth avenue.

At the Milliner's.

Feminine human nature shows all its most glaring faults at the milliner's. "You don't really expect to wear that, do you?" cooed one customer to another this morning.

French "Chic."

Four things secure it. These are: First, the French woman's corset. This is always made to order, even among the poorest, and fits faultlessly.

Whims of Womankind.

The Harvest of Lent. Now that Lent is over there is a harvest of antique ribbon embroidery to show for the season of certain young women—slipper cops, belts, parasols or sections of belts to be inset front and back; card-case sides, opera bag pieces, fans, mouth-cover and glove cases, as well as trimming parts of tea gowns and matinees.

Working in Silver

This is one of the most fascinating occupations open to women. The work, though absorbing, is not arduous and may be remunerative almost from the start.

His Mother's Recipes.

Almost too pretty to be called a "whim" was the thoughtfulness of a certain sister who made for her brother's fiancée a pretty book entitled, "The Things His Mother Used to Make." Opening it, the fiancée found, in her friend's handwriting, first a preface stating some of her brother's characteristic traits, little ways of making him happy and comfortable in his peculiarities, his likes and dislikes, and what "disagreed" and then minute directions for the preparation of various dishes which were his favorites at the home table—after which there were several blank pages for the writing of the fiancée's own ante-marital observations.

SERMON TO MEN

AT OLIVET

Masterly Discourse Before a Large Congregation By Pastor Lane

Before a large congregation of men in Olivet Presbyterian Church last evening the pastor, the Rev. John C. Lane, preached an eloquent sermon, taking as his subject "The Chief Qualities of Redeemed Manhood" and finding his text in Corinthians, 1-16-12.

The Greek original of which this is a fair translation, is a simple, vigorous, emphatic, inspiring word, and this word is found nowhere else in the New Testament. Its simple meaning is: "Play the man." "Show yourselves men." Aim to cultivate and to display in daily life the highest qualities of redeemed manhood. Be, or aim to be, ideal men.

The manly man is the true man—true in all the relations of life; true to himself, true to his Maker, true to his fellow men.

I call upon you then to show yourselves men by being true to your better selves; by keeping your bodies strong, your minds vigorous and your hearts responsive to the good and true. Do not indulge the lower nature at the expense of the higher, nor pass by the essentials of life in pursuit of what is unessential and of merely momentary interest.

Easter was a busy day for Bishop Leighton Coleman and he conducted four services in as many different places. Bishop Coleman first officiated at the early service of St. Michael's, at Chestnut and Adams streets, where he preached on the significance of Easter.

At 10:30 o'clock the Bishop celebrated Holy Communion at Grace Church, Brandywine hundred, and took part in the Sunday School festival. Later he was at St. Barnabas Church, Marshallton, where the pastor, Rev. Herman Shaffer, assisted. There was also a Sunday School festival. Two persons were baptized and four confirmed.

Last evening the Bishop confirmed a class of twenty-four at historic Old Swedes. The Bishop was assisted by Rev. Henry Olmstead, the vicar. The occasion was a notable one, the edifice being filled to overflowing. In his address to the new class the Bishop said: "The church, the world over, rejoices to find on this occasion a key to unlock the great gate through which we are to enter everlasting life. He who was dead is risen. Through the ages may have been trying to find the key that will open the gate, but when they were tried all of them have failed. In the fullness of time the Lord suffered, died and rose again, and he showed mankind the key they have been searching for. There is just one thing that keeps us without. Over the portals of the gate we can read within the city the golden letters spelling, 'None can enter here who are not obedient to the Lord. Heaven is no place for the traitor and coward and those who rebel against the Lord.'"
