

PEOPLE'S COLUMN

PLEA FOR NEW ELECTION DISTRICT.

To the Editor of THE EVENING JOURNAL.

Sir:—I enjoy reading your editorials, which are usually fair-minded, but you got off a bad one in Saturday's JOURNAL in reference to a new voting place at Bear in the Tenth district. You have either been misled in your information or show a woeful state of small peanut politics. The conditions in New Castle Hundred, to the best of my knowledge, do not exist in any other thickly-settled section of the county. It would have answered years ago, when the county was sparsely settled. I have heard old inhabitants tell how far they had to travel to vote. But, as the population increased, new voting places were established to accommodate them. In this district the four voting places are all in New Castle Hundred, being in the lower end of the district nine or ten miles to go to register and vote at the primary election. I have to drive five miles. If there were a voting place at Bear I should have only two miles. How some voters in Wilmington would kick if they were compelled to go even as far as Market street, which is a short distance to what some voters in our district have to go. The Ninth district (White Clay Creek Hundred) has a voting place in the eastern, western and middle districts, convenient to all voters. In other hundreds the same rule is followed, except New Castle Hundred, which is denied the same courtesy through small peanut politics, which comes of electing partisan politicians who work for self first, party next and the country gets what is left. Only when I read your editorial should I be reminded that I would make a Democratic district. The only thing the Democrats would, or could get would be inspector of election. As the Tenth district usually goes Democratic it would be of no special benefit to that party. You will find the voting place is demanded by Republicans as well as Democrats. At the last election several Republicans cut a candidate on their ticket because he had opposed the new voting place. Please investigate this more carefully and see if you cannot be fair-minded enough to drop such small politics, and use your influence to accommodate quite a community of farmers. God knows the farmer gets the small end at all times.

Yours respectfully,
L. SINGLES.

A SIMPLE REQUEST.

To the Editor of THE EVENING JOURNAL.

Sir:—Our citizens should keep distinctly in mind exactly what is being done in the Legislature in requesting the passage of the enabling act now before them, which if adopted would give Wilmington opportunity to have a new charter. The adoption of the enabling act will not of itself change the government of any town or city. It simply asks that the people be given the liberty to adopt the pure commission form of government if a majority desire it. Can it be that those whom the people have elected to office, will deny those who have elected them the liberty to express their desires?

As to the enabling act before the Legislature, it is most conservative. It is more conservative than the New Jersey law, because it has eliminated the recall. It can not be rejected on the grounds of being untried or novel. We see what the same laws are doing in hundreds of other cities. Everybody knows that they will bring Wilmington, and the towns that should adopt the law, more efficient government. The only true reason for not passing the enabling act is that those in office desire to withhold from the people their inherent rights of liberty.

If the enabling law is not passed at this session of the Legislature, the people will not be discouraged. They will not be discouraged by its defeat. It is no reason that we have lost ground, but it only emphasizes the need of strongest and best effort to advance Wilmington. Can any improvement or betterment do so much to advance Wilmington by a rapid stride as the development of the Delaware River Deep Water Front? Very respectfully, for Wilmington-upon-Delaware.

GEORGE CHANDLERSON.

CRUISER TO HUNT FOR LAW VIOLATORS

Collector of Customs Stone, of the port of Baltimore, has collected in the last ten days $7500 from owners of motor boats and other small crafts for violation of the navigation laws in the Chesapeake Bay district.

The department of Commerce and Labor is determined to enforce the navigation laws and has every small boat equipped with the regula equipment as specified in the navigation laws. To this end the Governor has ordered the cruiser Tarragon, under command of Captain Dryden, to the Delaware Bay to look up violators of the law.

FIGURES WERE MIXED.

To the Editor of THE EVENING JOURNAL.

Sir:—In a letter to you printed in Wednesday's EVENING JOURNAL, by some inadvertence, "however did they do it?" they mixed those figures up." In the tabulation of census figures of the four nearby cities in the race for years for growth and population. I am very sorry to have to make this correction and that Wilmington has to make acknowledgment of falling behind, but the printed figures

BOOSTING THE ASSESSMENT

The members of the Levy Court are going over the county assessment. There is a probability that by the manner in which the members are enabled to reach a proper assessment that the assessment valuation of Wilmington will be increased about $10,000 over that of former years. The rural members are also raising the assessment in their districts. The members of the court will be busy all of the month of February.

IMPROVING FAIR GROUNDS. Workmen at the Delaware State Fair Grounds have placed windows in the southern side of the grandstand and the interior of the exhibition space under the stand is now well lighted. The spaces used last summer were dark but the improvements allow plenty of light. Carpenters have also completed the erection of the cattle stalls, about one hundred in all, and the work on the new stables is progressing rapidly. The directors of the holding company have planned to make numerous other changes and when the season opens this summer the park will be as well equipped as any in this section of the country.

SELLING YOUR SERVICES. What have you to sell? Almost every one is a salesman of some kind. The skilled mechanic, the laborer, the journeyman, the carpenter or mason, the household servant, the business executive and the juvenile worker—all have their services to sell, and all are desirous of receiving full remuneration for their work. Finding the most advantageous market for labor means getting the best job that is to be had. For a directory of opportunities, a list of available jobs, use the Want Column.

DOES it occur to you, my friends, that woman's labor never ends—that is, if she's inclined to be a trifle stubborn constantly. Some housewives glory in the thought that battles won must be re-fought.

This jingle is for those who try to smile at toil and reason "Why;" who will not let the household cares crush down life's other glad affairs. You'll find, where Mrs. Smith or Brown thus reason, in a certain town, that Gold Dust helps to minimize the number of back-aches and sighs.

The Gold Dust Twins forever toil, with dirt and trouble as a foil. They start each morning, at the top, and only after night-fall stop. Theirs is to DO if NOT to DIE—Their is to never question "why?" At kitchen tasks their talents shine; the floors they polish up are fine; in fact, no matter where they go they leave a spotless trail; and so, like sunshine, when the sky is grey they help to drive the clouds away.

Each grain of Gold Dust also shares in cleaning up the household wares; each mop it touches seals a bond, to make a mop a fairy wand; each brush or cloth holds regal sway in driving dirt's dull care away.
