

The Great Contest.

The Republican party of Delaware have had a greater contest on hand than it has now, and will have until the 8th of November. It will be a fight against election frauds all the way through. The enemy is unscrupulous and will stop at nothing to gain its ends. The Democratic party too is a unit. Its life in Delaware depends upon a victory next November, and a victory next November depends upon the most gigantic assessment and election frauds ever concocted. In the perpetration of these frauds the party is united from top to bottom.

Thomas F. Bayard down to "subcon" Long, who is undoubtedly the champion of the State at the present time.

The Republicans have not only the Democratic party in its entirety backed by fraud to contend with but they will have every inch of the way from the assessments to the vote. The whole machinery of elections is in the hands of unscrupulous politicians. Wherever there is a Democratic assessor, in the city the Republicans have been left off and they have now to fight their way to John T. Dickey, Receiver of Taxes, who is the man they will have to face.

They will have to force their way before unfriendly registrars, and if they succeed in getting registered they will have to run the winding gauntlet of an Australian ballot system and then come to the ballot-box.

The road is a thorny one with scarce a friendly face along the whole length. But these hindrances should only make the Republicans more determined to break through all these Democratic barriers and gain the victory.

One good victory will bring independence, bring justice, bring honesty and constitutional reform. The Republican party has to make the fight not only for its own existence but for the existence of principles and doctrines and beliefs which it springs into existence to advocate. The mass of the Republican party believes in the principles of the party and make no distinction of men. The party has the right to command down all personal aspirations, all petty ambitions, all factional strife and call into action all its best impulses, all its highest powers, all its unselfishness. If the party will do this victory will crown its efforts and its success will stamp upon the page of history the mark of the people's reprobation of a great political crime.

Won't Investigate.

The Every Evening backs square out. We offered it the only open honest plan by which it could ascertain whether the fictitious names published by the Receiver were or were not posted assessment lists but it declines our offer. It would have been a very easy matter for Mr. Humphrey to have acceded to our offer for the appointment of a committee to investigate the posted assessments, but our solicitors seem to want no investigation. He says, "I have nothing to contribute," and further that the question "is one between you and Assessor O'Hara." Does this appear to be the face of the following from the Every Evening?

"They were—they must have been—Mr. Solomon Hersey, of the Daily Republican. He has demonstrated a very surprising facility for finding fictitious names which no necessary means to have overheard or thought of."

We do not think Mr. O'Hara has anything to do with the above paragraph. The paragraph quoted in the language of Mr. Humphrey and his reduction to a copy of Hersey. We offered to produce a copy of the sworn posted lists to be examined by a responsible committee for the purpose of ascertaining the list of fictitious names published in the Receiver's were on the sworn list. But Mr. Humphrey declines and we have no way to compel him to accede to our just and honest proposition.

There is nothing left for us to do now than to reassert that the posted lists of the first and second wards contained every fictitious name published and more too, and the assessments returned to the Levy Court were not the assessments posted.

Will the Every Evening still insist in misrepresentation and in taking the public mind astray without accepting our offer to make an honest investigation?

See HERSEY'S LIST WILL BE PUBLISHED TOMORROW.

There were only sixty-two names placed upon the assessments but they were all that applied. This number was not increased. The assessments returned to the Levy Court were not the assessments posted.

There's light ahead for the women who suffer, if they'll only turn towards it. There is a remedy for all the delicate derangements, chronic weakness, and painful disorders that make women miserable. It's Dr. Fove's Favorite Prescription—and it makes women healthy and strong.

It's a legitimate medicine that's purely vegetable and perfectly harmless—a powerful general, as well as uterine, tonic and nerve, renewing and invigorating the entire system. It regulates and promotes all the proper functions of womanhood, improves digestion, enriches the blood, dispels acids and brings refreshing sleep, and restores health and strength.

For periodical pains, weak back, bearing-down sensations, nervous prostration, and irregularities. Favorite Prescription is a positive remedy—the only one that's so sure and certain that it can be guaranteed. If it doesn't benefit or cure, you have your money back.
