On Saturday afternoon last the passenger train which leaves Philadelphia at 3 15 was suddenly thrown into a state of intense excitement, shortly after the train left the elevated road. From a statement by one of the passengers it was learned that the train on the elevated road, was submerged by two or three feet of water, which loosened the track and caused the train to float around freely. Nothing daunted the engine went plunging into the tunnel when it soon struck floating ties and before the engine could be stopped one of the passenger coaches fell the track and went bounding along unhindered. The passengers considerably well as frightening them almost to death.

With the thoughts of the late fatal accident in a New York tunnel, passengers were even more alarmed than they otherwise would have been, and many of them would have given almost any sum to have been out of their dilemma, but they were destined to stay in the place for nearly two hours before the damage could be righted. The conductor of the train as soon as he was aware of the state of affairs, pacified the passengers as best he could, by telling them that the train was not in imminent danger, which had the effect of allaying some of them, but the more nervous ones were in an intense nervous excitement during the entire time of the delay. Workmen were patched to the scene immediately after the accident, who repaired the damage sufficiently to let the train pass and excited passengers arrived in the city at 6 15 o'clock.

THE FIRE ALARM. The Test Signals to be Changed and Additional Boxes Placed.

On and after Sunday, October 1st, a new system of testing the fire alarm telegraph, will be in effect. This rule only one test will be made daily, instead of two as at present. One test to be made at 9 o'clock, the first test to be made from box 2, second from box 3, and so on until every box has been tested. When order will be repeated monthly as at present. In addition to the new system was brought about through the action of the Fire Committee of the Council, of which Mr. E. C. Moore, chairman, and is made upon the petition of the people who reside within the hearing distance of the City Hall, to say their slumbers are greatly disturbed by the 6 o'clock test in the morning. The new order will also test the condition of each box at intervals of 15 minutes, and have a tendency to keep the telegraph in good working order.

The new alarm box, recently ordered by the Harlan & Hollingsworth Company, is expected to arrive in the city during the present week and will be placed in position at once by the Fire Committee. The boxes will be located in the following places: The Fire Committee of City Council will at once order three new alarm boxes from the manufactory at Boston and upon their arrival they will be placed at the following points: Market street bridge over the Chesapeake corner of Thirteenth and Washington streets, and at the intersection of Delaware and Pennsylvania avenues. It is thought the new boxes will be completed and placed in position in the course of one month.

The Fruit Season. The season for fruit is almost over and it would be a matter of interest to know how many jars and cans have been put up in this city. The berry peach crops were especially abundant, affording frugal housekeepers opportunity to make some preparation for the ensuing winter that they not slow to take advantage of. There has been an enormous amount of up is evidenced by the number of jars sold by dealers. One dealer said he had sold another said that last week one week he had retained 1200 jars, all of which goes to show that cellars, pantries and closets of the housekeepers are pretty well stocked.

Police Matters Quoted. Matters are very quiet around Station, and yesterday morning were but three cases, two of which were plain drunks at three watch each.
