BRANDYWINE MILLS.

The subscriber will sell his Merchant Mill, situate on the south side of Brandywine creek, in the borough of Wilmington. The value of the Merchant Mills on the Brandywine Creek being so generally known, it is considered unnecessary to enter into a particular detail of their advantages, although this Mill possesses some that are not common to others, in particular one of the oldest water rights on the south side of the creek, which has been found of very important advantage in dry seasons. The Mill House is built of stone, the walls are about three feet in thickness, three stories high, and the dimensions fifty-five feet by thirty five. There are two pair of good burr-stones, and also all the necessary fixtures, and other requisites for the purpose of manufacturing flour to the best advantage. The mill is now in full operation, and has run on wheat upwards of thirty years. Vessels drawing about eight feet can go alongside the mill to discharge, and take in their cargoes. The Mill House might be altered at a small expense so as to manufacture cotton in its various branches. The water right is sufficient to run from twenty-five hundred to three thousand spindles. The mill is about seventy feet distant from any other house, and there is attached to it a considerable piece of ground, on which convenient buildings might be erected. Samuel Shipley, at the Mill, will show the property, and for terms of sale, applications to be made to JOHN CUMMINS. Feb 12th 1822 10-9t at Signma Del.

PHYSIC & SURGERY.

CLARKSON FREEMAN. Continues to practice in the above branches as heretofore and his Medical shop is in South Queen street, one square from the Court-house, in the city of Lancaster, where he prepares upon the most reasonable terms, all kinds of medicines, agreeable to the age, strength, constitution and habits of the patient, for aiding and assisting nature in removing and curing most diseases to which the human body is liable. The daily and numerous applications from individuals from different sections of the state, laboring under various affections, for which they could get no relief, and the easy, safe and expeditious manner in which they have been happily restored in health again in a very short time, the true and just which several hundreds of living witnesses (under oath) have already testified, are not only the best evidences, but the surest criterion for the public to judge of the efficacy of his remedies, as well as the certainty of his mode of treating diseases. Lancaster county, &c. For the information of the public, I do hereby certify, that the following persons, whose names are herein mentioned, personally appeared before me, the subscriber, one of the Aldermen for the city of Lancaster; and being duly sworn or affirmed, severally deposed and declared, that they had made use of Dr. Clarkson Freeman's cough drops (or Indian Specific) upon themselves with the greatest success, for the curing of coughs, colds, asthma, consumptions, spitting of blood, and diseases of the breast and lungs—and that in every instance their effects were complete and infallible, will fully appear by the following testimony of those who used them. A long time exceeding ill with a violent cough, pain and stitches in his sides and breast, accompanied with hectic fever, night-sweats, and emaciated, commenced using Dr. C. Freeman's remedies and Indian Specific, 20th of February, 1819, he soon found himself better, and by continuing its use, returned to health again. Sworn and subscribed to, Dec. 22d, 1819. Affirmed and subscribed to 15th September, 1819. Adam Werfell, of Conestogo township, Lancaster county, 48 years of age, had been a long time exceeding ill with pains and stitches in his sides and breast, accompanied with an incessant cough and a copious discharge of matter from his lungs, which increased to a pit in twenty four hours. He had night-sweats during sleep, and his feet and legs swelled so that he could not wear his shoes, and became so reduced by the hectic fever, night-sweats and the disease, that he could not walk across the room without taking hold of a chair, and pushing it before him, after using medicine in vain being much emaciated and daily growing worse; on the second of February 1816, he commenced taking Dr. C. Freeman's Indian Specific for coughs, according to directions, which gave immediate relief. On the 11th of February, a bottle, continued its use, still mending, cough abating, expectoration growing less, pain in stitches in his side and breast leaving him. On the 17th he got another bottle and continued its use, still mending, cough, night-sweats and all the symptoms abating fast. On the 5th of March got another bottle and continued its use, still mending. On the 9th of April got another bottle, and still continuing to use it, still found himself daily mending and growing better fast. And this deponent further states, that from the very commencement of using Dr. C. Freeman's Specific and ever after he found himself getting better fast, and all the symptoms of his disease daily diminishing. Notwithstanding he persevered with unremitting diligence, in strictly following his printed bill of directions, laid down for those afflicted with consumptions, and continued his plan of diet and regimen, and used his Specific occasionally, as a security to his constitution, a long time after he considered himself out of danger. It is now three years and six months since cured; he continues well and hearty and enjoys a good state of health. Affirmed and subscribed to, 15th November, 1819. In testimony whereof, I have hereunto affixed my hand and seal this 4th day of January, 1820, in the city of Lancaster. SAMUEL DALE. (L. S.) *The venom (or poison) of the rattle snake, viper, copper head or adder, after being introduced into the human system by the bite of either of these reptiles, can be arrested in its career, and in the course of a few hours destroyed and completely eradicated by a decoction prepared and administered from a few simple roots and plants, discovered from among the North American Indians, of which art they are complete masters, the truth of which cannot be denied by all those who have had an opportunity of becoming acquainted with those people; therefore from the foregoing promises it may be fairly inferred that where a knowledge of those remedies, which are so certain in their effects, is known if early application is made by seeking immediate relief; all the complaints may be crushed in the bud and prevented from taking root; which incessantly undermine the constitution and bring on incurable diseases, and thus the lives of thousands may be saved from untimely graves. LANCASTER COUNTY, &c.
