clared that, for the sake of those whom the 125 Chest-supported agencies serve, "we cannot fail" in the campaign.

Speaking for the agencies on "The Meaning of Failure," Miss Bowling said they represent "all fields of human endeavor in our effort to be good neighbors."

"Visualize the feeling of the worker who turns away a father of a young family who finds himself in temporary straits and ineligible for tax-supported relief," she said. "Because there is not enough money, he goes away downcast and discouraged."

"Can there be any question that these circumstances leave a terrible field for infiltration of ideas that have no place in American ideology?"

Campaign failure for the protective and preventive agencies, she went on, means less opportunity to provide the "ounce of prevention" that is worth more than a pound of cure.

The higher cost of living and maintenance applies to the agencies as much as it does to the rest of the community, she said, and it is increasingly difficult for the institutions to operate on their slim budgets.

Must Provide for Ill.
If there is not enough money to provide for the health and hospitalization services, she declared, "what will we do with our ill? The more must come. We must provide for those who need us."

The realization must come, she said, that residents of the area can make some small personal sacrifice to give again.

"I don't think we should use the word 'failure' for the sake of children and the old people who have made their contribution in life and come on lonely, heartache days."

Report by UNLs.
The campaign units reported the following percentages of their quotas attained:

Business I, 75.38 per cent of a $1,532,500 quota; Business II, 92.23 per cent of a $150,000 quota; Government, 92.43 per cent of a $1,367,800 quota; Residential, 75.1 per cent of a $337,500 quota; Alexandria, 87.2 per cent of a $58,000 quota; Arlington, 70.4 per cent of a $53,000 quota; Fairfax, 54.59 per cent of a $43,200 quota; Montgomery, 73.12 per cent of a $124,000 quota, and Prince Georges, 85.4 per cent of a $44,000 quota.

Dr. Victor S. Tulane of Howard University reported the university had raised 145 per cent of its quota. Also over the top are the staffs of the District Public Schools and the Public Library.

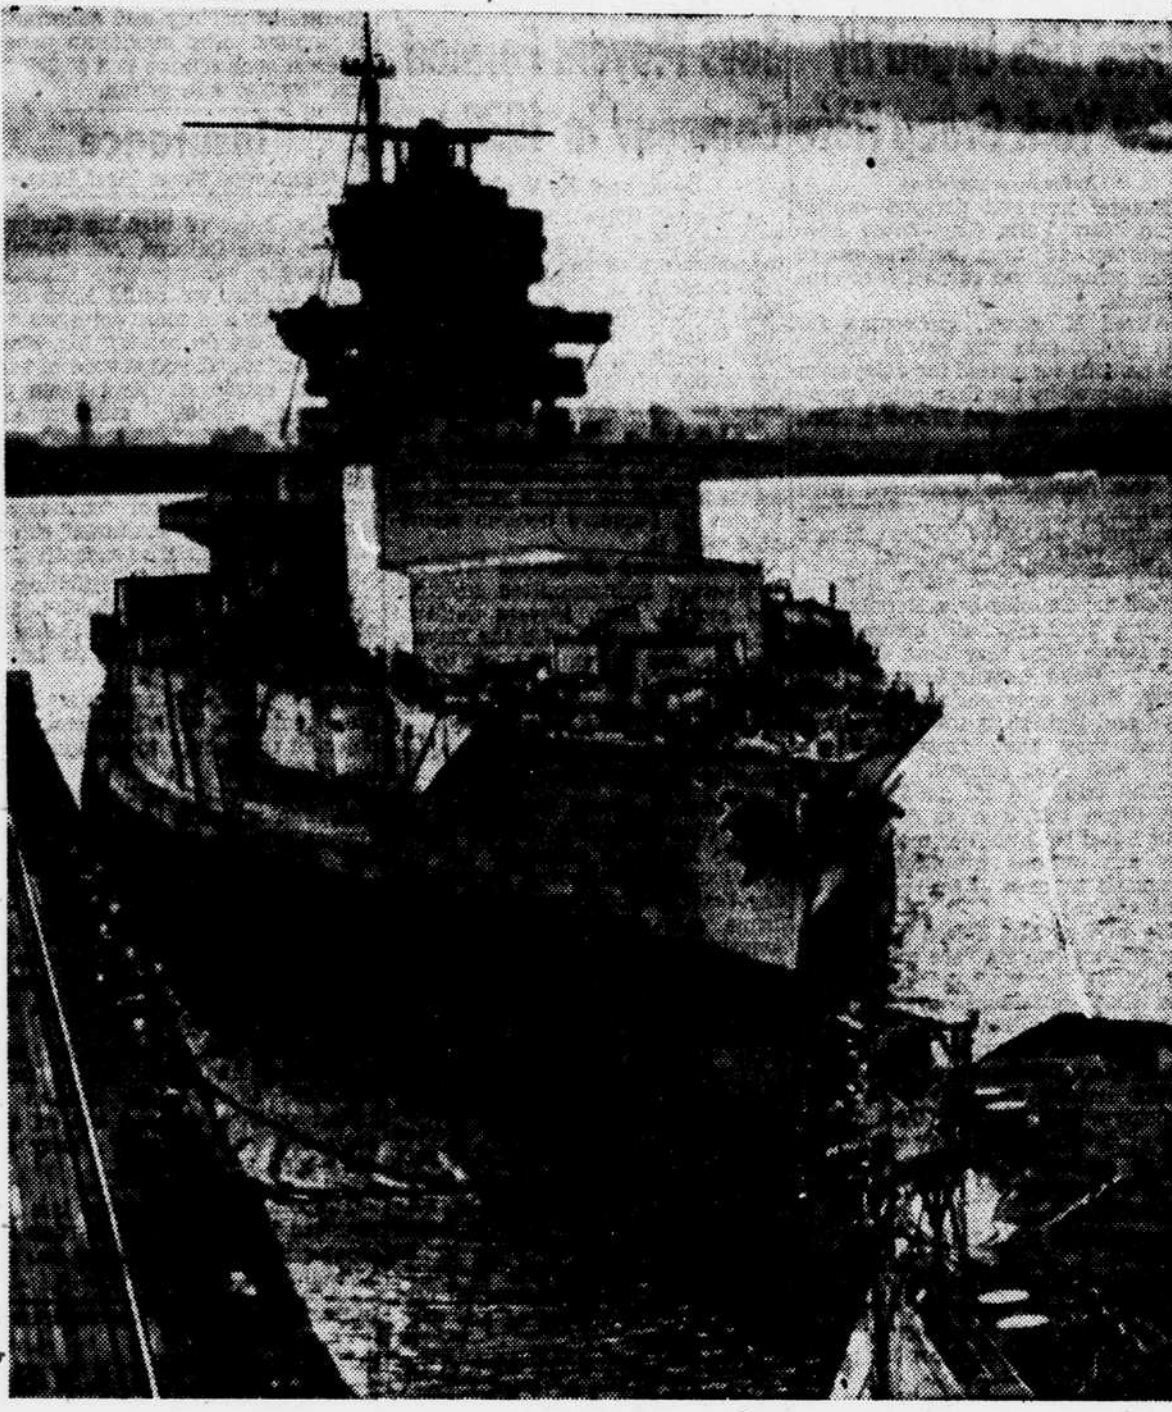

Rabbi Solomon Metz, head of Adas Israel Congregation, offered the invocation.

Montgomery Passes Ordinance Regulating Open-Air Theaters

An ordinance regulating the operation of open-air theaters in Montgomery County today had the approval of the county commissioners and will become effective January 10.

The ordinance was presented to the board yesterday by James R. Miller, attorney for a group of property owners on the Rockville pike who oppose a proposal by Sidney Lust, owner of a chain of theaters in the Washington area, to build a drive-in theater on or near the Congressional Airport, Rockville.

It was adopted after approximately 25 persons, including Mayor G. Lamar Kelly of Rockville, and Juvenile Court Judge Alfred D. Hayes appeared before the commissioners to voice opposition to the project. Mr. Lust has not yet applied for a permit from the board.

The ordinance fixes a $1,000 annual license fee and provides, among other things, that an open-air theater must have at least a 1,500-foot frontage along a public highway, that no motion pictures shall be shown after 11 p.m., that no automobiles or persons shall be allowed on the premises after 11:30 p.m., except theater employees; that no permit shall be issued if the commissioners find there is a traffic hazard, and that no sounds resulting from the operation of the theater may be heard beyond the theater property. Violators are subject to a maximum fine of $100 for each offense.

Others opposing the project included Mrs. Thomas Bartram representing the County League of Women Voters, and her husband, who is president of the Luxmanor Citizens Association.

A request by Alger Y. Barbee, Rockville attorney, that the board amend an ordinance regulating the raising of pigeons in the suburban area to prohibit anyone from keeping them within 100 feet of a neighboring dwelling was taken under advisement.

In other business, the board approved the Police Trial Board recommendation for the retirement of Detective Capt. Theodore F. Volten, on grounds of disability. The retirement was made effective December 1. Capt. Volten will receive $2,000 a year—half his present salary.

Colored Jurors Seen Unlikely At Mississippi Negro's Retrial

By the Associated Press
MERIDIAN, Miss., Dec. 10.—W. L. Clayton, Lauderdale County attorney, says there is little chance there will be any Negroes on the jury which will try Eddie (Buster) Patton here in February on a charge that he killed a white man.

The Negro's earlier conviction was reversed Monday by the Supreme court on the ground racial discrimination kept Negroes off the jury which convicted him.

Mr. Clayton said last night it is probable the county supervisors will include the names of Negroes on the prospective jury list but the chances of any of them ever serving on a jury is slight.

The qualifications for a juror, he said, are that he must:

1. Be a qualified elector.
2. Have paid poll tax for the last two years.
3. Not have been convicted of selling liquor in the last five years.
4. Not have been convicted of any "infamous" crime.

One or more of these requirements will disqualify most Negroes in Lauderdale County, he said.

Those not disqualified, he said, probably can be removed by the State through its 12 peremptory challenges.

Patton is charged with slaying J. M. Meadows, a night club operator.

He was born at Upper Marlboro, Md., and educated at Georgetown University. Besides being active in farming, Mr. Hill was tobacco inspector of Maryland at one time, and also was in the State treasurer's office.

He was descended from Clement Hill, who came over with Lord Baltimore from England and had an original grant comprising large acreage on the Patuxent River.

Besides being related to the Carrolls, the farm owner was related to the Snowdens and Hall families of Maryland.

Survivors are his widow, Mrs. Grace Clagett Hill; a son, Francis W. Hill, jr.; three daughters, Miss Christabel E. Hill, Mrs. Mary Hill Roberts and Mrs. Henrietta Hill Arthur, and six grandchildren.

Requiem mass will be said at 11 a.m. tomorrow in St. Matthew's Cathedral here. Burial will be in Mount Carmel Cemetery, Upper Marlboro.

Honorary pallbearers will be Justice Richmond L. Keesh, Justice David A. Pine, Albert Bowling, John Bowling, William H. Brooks, Dr. Richmond A. Brooks, Dr. William S. Richmond, Joseph S. Devereux, Samuel Duval, Edward G. Edelen, Maj. Gen. Hanson E. Ely, Frank Forbes, Jerome M. Graham, Frank M. Hall, Julian S. Hall, Norman P. Hill, Paul E. Johnson, Eugene B. Roberts, Brig. Gen. Dirksen Awaits D. C. Statements on Schools Involved in Transfer

Chairman Dirksen of the House District Committee today was awaiting "immediate and detailed" statements from city officials on the situation at three colored schools being boycotted and picketed by parents.

He issued a call for official information on this last night at the request of Edgar G. Brown, director of the National Negro Council.

Until he received such information, Mr. Dirksen said, he will be in no position to take any action. Therefore, he deferred action on proposals urged by Mr. Brown for a congressional investigation of the school system.

Data Asked of D. C. Heads.
The colored leader also urged action to implement the recommendations of the President's Committee on Civil Rights and to put an end to the traditional dual school system here.

Chairman Dirksen sent requests for information to the District Commissioners, the president of the Board of Education and to School Supt. Hobart M. Corning.

He asked for immediate reports on all the facts relating to the parent-sponsored student strike at Browne Junior High and the Blow and Webb Schools, which were transferred to the colored pupils for use as annexes to Browne.

Schools Almost Empty.
Parents continued to keep their children out of the three schools today and the buildings were almost empty for the sixth straight school day.

Mr. Brown said that Mrs. Henry Grattan Doyle, president of the Board of Education, had agreed to appear at another mass meeting of the striking parents at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Jones Memorial Church, Forty-fourth street and Benning road N.E.

The National Negro Council, in light of Mr. Dirksen's request for detailed reports from city officials, has withdrawn its call for a referendum and petition for a city-wide strike in the colored schools, Mr. Brown added. He said he planned to present a "real case" to Mr. Dirksen Saturday and would be accompanied by a number of the parents involved in the boycott.

Mr. Brown, representing a number of colored civil and church groups, protested that the District school authorities, in maintaining a dual school system, are operating "outside the law."

side of the Constitution and the Federal laws."

One of his demands is for legislative action to wipe out "34 District black law provisions." These, he said, include special provisions for the appointment of Negroes to specific jobs. He mentioned the naming of a Negro administrative assistant to Dr. Garnet C. Wilkinson, first assistant superintendent of schools.
