VOTE MONDAY ON TREATY.

Morgan's Canal Bill Favorably Reported.

HOT ATTACK ON PANAMA COMPANY.

French Corporation Severely Denounced in Committee Report to the Senate. Desperate Efforts to Unload on the United States.

After remaining in executive session for more than four hours yesterday afternoon, having the new Hay-Pauncefote Treaty under consideration, the Senate finally agreed, on motion of Mr. Lodge, to take a vote on the compact before adjourning on Monday. This practically means that the treaty will have been ratified before Monday night.

Mr. Money for Brevity.

Senator Money, prior to this, made a long argument against the new treaty, taking the position that the only agreement on the isthmian canal which the United States should enter into with Great Britain at this time would be a convention of five lines announcing the abrogation of the old Clayton-Bulwer Treaty. He supported the view taken by Mr. Bacon.

Ernest Plea by Mr. Foraker.

Senator Foraker then made an earnest plea for the ratification of the treaty, declaring that every objection which had been raised to the old Hay-Pauncefote convention had been met, and in this new pact the United States was given exclusive control of any canal that might be constructed.

At 4:45 the Senate adjourned until Monday at noon.

The Committee Report.

The Senate Committee on Inter-oceanic Canals has ordered a favorable report on Senator Morgan's bill authorizing the President to conclude any agreement with Costa Rica and Nicaragua for the full control of the territory upon which to construct the isthmian canal, and appropriating such money as may be required.

Cautious Comments on Hutin.

Chairman Morgan's report to accompany the bill is a document of 542 printed pages, in which is set out the attempts for years at legislation for a canal, the various treaties on the subject and copies of all correspondence thereon. Included in the report are copies of the communications with the Panama Canal Company, and Secretary Hay after the announcement was made that the Nicaraguan route was the favored one.

Creeping a Side Issue.

This letter Mr. Morgan declares to be an attack upon Admiral Walker, the Chairman of the Commission, "replete with false assumptions and perversions of fact and evidently intended to create a side issue, the debate upon which it was hoped by Mr. Hutin would delay if it did not defeat the construction of any canal."

Judging of Underlying Motives.

"It proves further that neither the President, nor the high officers of the Government, nor the Congress is beyond the reach of intrusion on the part of agents of the Panama Canal Company into their official, however, had ignored the letter."

QUAINT PHILOSOPHY

In an advertisement, "When a man acts as he believes the infallible within him would have him act, he draws power, that power may be shown in many ways."

BONINE CASE NEARING END.

Will Probably Be Given to Jury Today.

MR. DOUGLASS BEGINS ARGUMENT.

Bloquent Plea for Acquittal of Prisoner—Court Consents to Allow Counsel, Because of Fatigue, to Conclude Address Today.

It can at last be definitely stated that the fate of Ida Lola Henry Bonine, indicted for the willful murder of James Seymour Ayres, will be in the hands of the jury this evening at some time between 2 and 4 o'clock. The hour depends entirely on the length of Mr. Douglass's argument for the defendant, started to address the jury at 1:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and was expected to finish his argument before court adjourned. The inevitable delay that has marked the progress of the trial ever since it began again stopped in.

NOT A CLUE IN DENNIS CASE.

The letter got off a street car at Twelfth and K Streets. The Lansdale boy, having been reported to have told the police that he was on the porch of the Dennis home late Monday night, could not be seen last night at his home. Mrs. Lansdale, mother of the boy, in the case, is equally sure whether her son made any such statement at all. She was much worried about the affair. She said her boy was rather mischievous and might have been mistaken.

The Court Adjourns.

The jury are excused until tomorrow morning, and the court adjourns. Mr. Douglass and his associates, Messrs. Felton, Leckie, and Keane, appeared greatly relieved at the judge's announcement. They realized the value of the move, for if Mr. Douglass had finished it would have afforded the District Attorney considerable time to consider the former's argument, and pick out the points he considered weak.

THE FEAR OF HUNGRY

Prevents Many People From Trying a Good Medicine.

Stomach troubles are so common and in most cases so obstinate to cure that people are apt to look with suspicion on any remedy claiming to be a radical, permanent cure for dyspepsia and indigestion. Many such pride themselves on their success in having been humbugged, especially in the street.

THEOSOPHISTS LOSE A LEADER.

Wisdom of Independence. Theosophy, therefore, is but a summing up of what has been known before and can now be re-emphasized, if the school will be wise, by accepting the results of science, or if they refuse to take such conclusions as limiting they can at least reach the scientific habit of mind and reach their own conclusions.

Value of College Experiments.

In further explanation of his change of attitude Major Clark made the statement quoted at the beginning of this article and said: "The Theosophic Society as an organization is twenty-five years old. By a happy coincidence it is in this country have begun to establish laboratories for experimental work in psychology. The results attained thus far show that it is safer to trust the observations and experiments of colleges than to rest implicitly on assertions made in the popular press of the East, however exalted they may be. Faraday's rule is the best: 'Accept facts, but cross-examine every assertion.'"
