

BIG BILLS TO BE CUT DOWN.

Senate Leaders Decide to Enforce Economy.

SCHEMES CALL FOR MILLIONS.

Deluge of Bills, One-Tenth of Which Would Dispose of Treasury Surplus Problem—Irrigation Project May Encounter Check.

No attempt has been made by the Republican Legislature to stop out a program of legislation for the present session, but as soon as the rearrangement of the committee is completed and the list adopted by the Senate, a steering committee will be appointed and a line of action agreed upon.

One point has already been determined, by an understanding among the leading men on the committee, that Speaker Henderson's appeal for economy is to be taken seriously and persistently urged upon the majority in both houses.

Deluge of Big Bills.

The deluge of bills asking for an appropriation of money out of the Federal Treasury is greater this year than ever before, and if one-tenth of them should pass the Treasury surplus, which has caused the Government some uneasiness at times, would be wiped out.

Some of the bills are of a special character in order to get rid of the surplus, but a much shorter method of accomplishing this would be to enact into law a few of the gigantic schemes which are being urged upon the Senate and House.

Canal, Rivers, and Ship Subsidy.

It is probable that some kind of a river and harbor bill will become a law this session. It is likely also that the ship subsidy bill will pass, in some shape, and that work will be started on the Nicaragua Canal.

Warning to Western Senators.

These facts are now being urged upon the Western Senators and Representatives who have combined for the purpose of inducing Congress at this session to make the first appropriation in the elaborate scheme of irrigation of the arid lands of the West.

WAGE-EARNERS' EXEMPTIONS.

Another Effort to Be Made to Amend the Attachment Law.

An effort will again be made this Congress to amend the act of Congress approved June 19, 1878, to regulate exemptions in the District.

CYCLE RACERS HAVE BAD DAY.

Accidents Put One of the Teams Off the Track.

BOTH RIDERS ARE BADLY INJURED.

Lively Sprints at Night Change the Positions of the Contestants in the Six-Day Struggle—How the Leaders in Contest Now Stand.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—It was a day of accidents, arguments, and numerous incidents at the Madison Square Garden six-day race.

Accidents Begin.

The sensational feature of the day began between 1:40 and 2:10 in the afternoon, when there were the most disastrous tumbles in the chronicle of the race.

Changes in Position.

There was a continuous race for about twenty miles, in the course of which the positions of the teams were fatefully shifted.
