DEVELOPING PLANS FOR NAVAL RESERVE

TO DRILL RECRUITS FOR SERVICE

National Measure Favored by Secretary Long to Be Pressed in the Senate by Mr. Hale After the Present Recess.

Secretary Long has forwarded to the Senate Committee on Naval Affairs the draft of a bill which he desires to have enacted immediately after the holiday recess. The measure has been taken in hand by Senator Hale, head of the Naval Affairs Committee, and the latter will see that favorable legislation is had, as he has long favored such a proposition. The bill provides for the enrollment and organization of a United States naval reserve, which shall be a part of the regular navy and shall be used to supply trained and seasoned material.

The plan covers a great field and provides for training ships to be stationed at ports throughout the country. The naval reserve will be officered by former volunteer naval officers, men who served at least one year during the war with Spain and all graduates of the Naval Academy who have honorably left the naval service. All of the above who have served as a warrant or petty officer will be given the rank of ensign and will be examined for appointment to the next high grade.

To Supplant Volunteers.

Officers are to be selected by the Secretary of the Navy from the regular navy and stationed in certain districts, to be laid out later on. These regular officers will have command of the separate districts and of the ships' companies. The plan is apparently destined to be successful and will do away with the present volunteer naval reserves of the various States and Territories and of the District of Columbia. It will be a practical naval reserve, operated and controlled directly by the Navy Department, to be called into active service during time of war.

Provisions of the Bill.

The bill provides that "a general enrollment, within the limit prescribed by the Secretary of the Navy, shall be opened in each district and shall include all able-bodied men between the ages of eighteen and fifty years who have served as officers or enlisted men in the United States Navy or Marine Corps, or as officers or enlisted men of the United States Revenue Marine, United States Life-Saving Service, United States Lighthouse Service, and United States Coast-Survey Service, or graduates of State nautical school ships, and all members of the Naval Militia in such States as have complied or may hereafter comply with the requirements of the Navy Department in respect to organization, service, and capacity, and all persons holding certificates as masters or mates, or as chief engineers or assistant engineers, or licenses as pilots, issued by duly authorized commissioners or boards of inspection, and serving in the merchant marine of the United States, and all other officers and men serving in said merchant marine, the owners, officers, and crews of yachts enrolled in any regularly incorporated yacht club, and all other persons whose principal occupation is on the high seas, bays, sounds, rivers, or other navigable waters of the United States, or whose occupation is such as to fit them for such service in the navy: Provided, That such enrollment shall be limited to persons who are by birth or naturalization citizens of the United States.

"That said enrollment shall be conducted by naval officers or naval reserve officers, at the discretion of the Secretary of the Navy, and shall be in the grades and ratings for which the applicants may be found qualified through a suitable examination by a board composed of naval officers, naval reserve officers, or both.

Corresponding Rank Authorized.

"That the grades and ratings in the naval reserves shall correspond with those existing in the navy, and the term of enrollment for petty officers and enlisted men shall be for a period of four years: Provided, that, with the exception of ex-naval officers, no officers shall be commissioned in the naval reserve in time of peace in a higher grade than that of lieutenant, and that lieutenants (junior grade) and ensigns in the naval reserve shall be entitled, after five years' continuous service as such, to stand examination for promotion to the next higher grade: Provided further, that in time of war all such officers shall be entitled to regular promotion after passing the necessary examination, the dates of such promotion to be the same as those of the regular naval officers with whom they have corresponding dates of commission.

"That all persons enrolled in the naval reserve, or who shall be honorably discharged therefrom after four years' continuous service, shall be exempt from service on land in the National Guard or militia.

"That officers of the naval reserve shall be duly commissioned under such conditions and for such periods as may be prescribed by the President, and shall be borne upon the navy register as United States naval reserves. The physical and professional ability, length of previous nautical service, place and date of birth, and occupation of petty officers and enlisted men shall be stated on the enrollment papers.

Annual Course of Instruction.

"The reserve shall not be called into active service in time of peace, but shall annually be drilled, exercised, and instructed as the Secretary of the Navy may direct. When so employed officers and men shall perform similar duties to those of officers and men of the navy; they shall have corresponding grades and ratings and shall be regarded as in the service of the United States; shall be subject to the same laws, articles, rules, and regulations, and shall receive, while actually so employed, the same pay and allowances as the officers and men of the navy."

The bill appropriates $200,000 as a preliminary sum for organization.

FAMOUS OLD SHERRIES.

Chris. Xander and His Expert Assistants Kept Busy.

Chris Xander, 909 Seventh Street, is making a Christmas specialty of choice old wines and liquor. In his vaults can be found the choicest wines, particularly Pedro Domecq's famous sherries, which have a reputation that is world wide. Mr. Xander has been sole distributer of these famous wines for the past ten years, and in the selection of brands to suit the palates of Washington connoisseurs is ably assisted by sherry expert Pohndorff.

WEALTH OF HOLIDAY PRESENTS

The Most Fastidious Shopper Finds Things at Kann's.

With crowds eagerly exploring every nook and cranny of the immense stores, and with the best of everything for their inspection, S. Kann, Sons & Co. have been among the top-liners of Washington's big merchants during the past few weeks. In every department quality, quantity, and desirability have gone hand in hand with reasonable prices, and the mammoth force of clerks has been constantly engaged attending to the wants of many Washington buyers.

A holiday atmosphere embracing every conceivable thing, from a paper of pins to the most beautiful Eastern rug or tapestry, has taken possession of the big buildings at Eighth and Market Space. Here, crowded together, are to be found stylish gowns, elegant dress goods, costly garments of all descriptions at marvelously low prices, pictures, jewelry, bric-a-brac, crockery, and in fact all the necessaries and luxuries of life.

The Washington youngster has been amply provided for in the equipment of what is probably the most attractive toy department in the city. Many novelties introduced by S. Kann, Sons & Co. last year are to be found there now, greatly improved, while new ideas toys have been secured by active buyers. The automobile which runs up hill is a never-failing source of delight to the children.

On the fourth floor, where the toys are to be found, are handsome dolls, blondes and brunettes, wax and bisque dolls, and dolls which open their eyes and say "Mamma" and "Papa." There are so very many miniature babies that every little girl in Washington could have one. For the small boys, there are toys that were never dreamed of even three years ago, and which would keep any youngster in the house, however hard it might be snowing outside.

The Kann collection of handsome rugs and portieres, which make very excellent and desirable Christmas presents, is one of the best and largest south of New York, and the immense rooms in which they are displayed have been the mecca for many days past of fashionable women on tours of inspection and shopping. The dress goods include ever material that woman's heart desires, and are all that is desirable and up to date. Pictures and picture frames, pocketbooks, and, in fact, all the articles so much in demand at Christmas, can be found at Kann's, and found to be better than those purchased elsewhere, while the "Busy Corner" stock of candy is a large one.

FEW WAR CLAIMS GRANTED.

Treasury Report on the Settlement of Old-Time Losses.

Lewis Jordan, chief of the Miscellaneous Division of the Treasury Department, submitted his annual report yesterday to the Secretary of the Treasury.

Mr. Jordan says that there were filed with the Southern claims commission 22,298 claims for $60,258,154.44. Of this amount there was allowed $4,658,920.69.

In regard to the other claims the report says that there were 1,225 claims filed under the act of 1872, for 136,000 bales of cotton valued at $12,600,000, but only $196,896.21 was allowed. The claims were nearly all disallowed for the reason that the Confederate cotton records in this division, which were captured and purchased, showed that the cotton had been sold to the Confederacy.

GREAT ATLANTIC AND PACIFIC.

Enormous Business Conducted by This Well-Known Concern.

One of the most extensively patronized Washington establishments is the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, corner of Seventh and E Streets. This store issues checks with each purchase, which may be exchanged at their store for various handsome and useful articles of chinaware.

Two unusually beautiful panel pictures, 14 by 25 inches, entitled "Under the Mistletoe" and "Little Sunshine," are also being distributed free to customers. The Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company's store presents the appearance of carrying on a thriving trade that is not surpassed by any store in any line of business in the city. The Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company is well represented by branches in all sections of the city.

Five Unfortunates Sent to Asylum.

Justice Barnard yesterday signed orders committing Paul A. Pimpson, Charles W. Miller, Adolph Durlock, Edgar M. Poling, and Robert A. Birchett to St. Elizabeth's Hospital for the insane for treatment.

GALT'S EXCLUSIVE STOCKS.

Specialties Shown in Finest Jewelry and Silverware.

Immense lines of jewelry, silverware, novelties, leather goods, and, in fact, all the exquisite articles classed as luxuries of life, including watches, diamonds, and handsome ornaments of all descriptions, many of which are, at the same time, actual necessities, are gathered in holiday array at the mammoth store of Galt & Bro., Pennsylvania Avenue, above Eleventh Street, where the most beautiful of Christmas gifts can be purchased. Among the novelties are a number of exquisite baraque pearls.

A LARGE STOCK OF FURS.

Magnificent Articles on Display at a Local Establishment.

The Saks Fur Company, Thirteenth and G Streets northwest, is doing about the largest Christmas business of any local store in its line. It is the only establishment in this city where fur garments are manufactured.

The large and magnificent stock is daily examined by a large crowd of people, and the sales this year have so far surpassed anything in the past.

Dr. S. L. Bryant Accepts.

Rev. Dr. Stowell L. Bryant, for the past six years pastor of the St. Paul M. E. Church of this city, yesterday telegraphed his acceptance of a call to the Hyde Park M. E. Church of Chicago. This is one of the most important Methodist Churches of that city, and Dr. Bryant believes it has a bright future.

A NEW NOVEL BY Henry Seton Merriman
Author of "The Sowers," etc.

The Velvet Glove

The story is located in Northern Spain, about 1870, and deals with an endeavor of the Jesuits to secure the fortune of a young girl by forcing her into their religion. There is an historical interest in the novel, and the love motive is stronger than in any other of Merriman's stories.

Useful Gifts for Children.

The holiday season is pre-eminently the children's season. We have everything serviceable and useful for their wants all the year around, but at this particular time many departments are more carefully and abundantly supplied than usual.

Saturday being children's day, we have prepared and submit the following list of gift articles. It is rather comprehensive and contains things that are useful and serviceable, and they are all suitable for Christmas gifts; and they are marked at uniformly moderate prices.
