

PLANS SUBMITTED FOR NEW HOSPITAL

Philadelphia and Boston Architects Successful in Preliminary Bids.

MANY DRAWINGS PRESENTED

Selection Made by Advisory Architect and Committee on Merit Alone—Commissioners Allowed to Modify Plans Whenever Desirable.

A committee composed of Col. John Hilda, the Engineer Commissioner, Capt. Chester Harding, assistant to the Engineer Commissioner, Dr. William C. Woodward, the Health Officer, and Mr. Edmund Wheelwright, professional adviser of the Commissioners, yesterday opened the envelopes containing the names of architects competing upon the preliminary plans proposed for the proposed municipal hospital.

Several days ago the plans submitted by the competing architects had been carefully examined by Mr. Wheelwright and the committee, and five sets of the thirty-eight drawings submitted had been selected as the best.

The selection was made by the advisory architect and the committee without any one of them knowing who were to be the successful competitors. The selection was solely upon the merit of the designs submitted.

When the envelopes were opened yesterday it was found that the architects whose plans had been successful were as follows: Frank Miles Day & Brother, 925 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa. Herbert D. Hill and Geo. B. De Gersdorf, 15 Exchange Street, Boston, Mass. Sherley, Rutan & Co., 100 State Street, Boston, Mass.

First honorable mention, Charles & Ames, Boston, Mass. Leon E. Denner, associate, Washington, D. C.

Second honorable mention, Washington Hall, East Twenty-third Street, New York City.

The preliminary plans were received according to the programme of competition arranged by the Commissioners several months ago. The architects competing submitted sketch drawings of the buildings and plans of the interiors. It was announced in the programme of competition that the three best plans would be selected from the whole number presented, the authors of which would be permitted to enter a final design.

The final design of the building and each of the other competitors will receive $1,000, the plans submitted becoming the property of the District.

The Commissioners will be at liberty to modify the plans of the successful competitor by any features of the plans of the other two that are thought to be desirable.

The Commissioners, the consulting architect, and the Board of Charities will hold a meeting tomorrow to settle the minor details of the final competition.

Those Who Competed. Other competitors were: A. W. Lang-fellow, Boston; C. C. Zantaglin, Philadelphia; George Bishop and Lindsey Johnson, Philadelphia; Elliott & Emmert, Baltimore; C. A. Didden & Son and Oscar G. Veigt, Washington; William B. Nibbey & Brother, New York; Frank Elson Perkins, New York; Edward P. Casey, New York; Arthur Dillon, New York; Wyatt & Notting, Baltimore; B. Stankier Simons, Washington; William L. Woodlett, Albany; Seymour and Paul A. Lewis, 3d Philadelphia; Palmer & Horobowitz and Stephens Haskett, New York; Brown & Brown, Nashville; Lord & Hewlett, New York; C. B. Reister, Washington; Norman Woodman & Harris, Philadelphia; G. W. & W. D. Hewitt, Benjamin R. Stevens, and P. P. Paine, Philadelphia; M. Clark, Boston; Glenn Brown, Washington; Copeland & Dole, New York; Appleton P. Clark, Washington; George C. Haskett, Washington; G. O. Trotter, Washington; George E. Barton, Boston; O. Von Nerta, Washington; Theodore W. Peck and Thomas J. D. Fuller, Washington; George Keller, Hartford; Boring & Tilton, New York; William Atkinson, Boston; Parker & Thomas, Boston.

ALIMONY REQUEST DENIED.

Divorce Case of Mrs. Donovan to Be Adjudicated at Once.

The petition of Mrs. Catherine T. Donovan asking for alimony during the pendency of her suit against her husband, William J. Donovan, for separate support and maintenance, was denied by Justice Hagner, presiding in Circuit Court No. 1.

WASHINGTON REAL ESTATE EXCHANGE

New Organization Makes Its Bow to Business.

Prominent Citizens Attend Gathering—Formal Opening a Most Successful One.

The formal opening of the Washington Real Estate Exchange was held in the rooms of the organization, 1214 F Street northwest, yesterday afternoon. The affair was largely attended by prominent real estate men, brokers, and bankers. There were about seventy-five members present at the meeting. The opening began at 12:30 o'clock, and adjourned at 2 o'clock. Several of the most prominent members of the exchange made short addresses, and every one was welcome. At the conclusion of the speaking a buffet lunch was served. The lunch was a most enjoyable one.

The Washington Real Estate Exchange is practically a new organization in this city, having been formed several months ago by a dozen or more of the city's most prominent bankers and brokers. Rooms were engaged at 1214 F Street, and elegantly fitted up by the members. Yesterday's opening was the first formal affair held under the auspices of the new organization. Several business meetings will be held in the near future, and the organization bids fair to be a grand success.

Guests Present. Among those present at the opening yesterday were the following members: Jesse L. Hetschell, president; William Carver Hill, C. J. Dell, James F. Hood, George W. F. Swartzell, Col. R. G. Rutledge, vice presidents; Upton Hidenour, Jr., C. G. Sloan, Jay C. Howell, Watson J. Newton, Lee D. Laitimer, T. Conrad Dodge, J. E. Lipscomb, J. M. Knott, Ralph W. Lee, William S. Minnis, John F. Paret, F. W. Reeves, William K. Stevens, Charles A. Shobe, P. J. Walsh, William H. West, Messrs. Wine & Wine, James H. Taylor, Thomas J. Owen, Charles E. Banes, W. W. Burdette, R. C. Booth, W. A. Brown, A. F. Coulter, Warren Cheate, John G. Davidson, William G. Dunne, William K. Ellis, John E. Mitchell, secretary; James M. York, Henry Wells, William A. Eastwood, Charles M. Farver, Herbert A. Gill, John E. McLean, George R. Hill, T. A. Harding, William R. Hodges, William Thompson Harris, E. Lodge Hill, and F. D. Senter.

The Only Feminine Member. Miss Grace M. Thomas, the only woman member of the exchange, was unable to attend the opening, but sent her regrets, and also a very beautiful plant, which graced the centre of the banquet table.

NEW ENDLESS CHAIN SCHEME

Parents of Missing Child Offer Reward for Information.

The parents of Frank Ely Rogers, the four-year-old boy who disappeared from his home, 713 Hinman Avenue, Evanston, Ind., July 13, 1901, with his aunt, Miss Florence A. Ely, and who has not been heard of since, have forwarded to the local police another circular asking help for a hear-broken father and mother in their effort to find their loved child.

DENIED CUSTODY OF CHILD.

Justice Hagner Refuses Petition of Mr. Albert L. Lawrence.

In the case of Albert L. Lawrence against Annie Bell Lawrence for divorce, Justice Hagner yesterday signed an order denying the petition of Mr. Lawrence, asking for the custody of the child of the couple.

The proceedings for divorce were filed on February 14 in November last Mr. Lawrence filed suit for divorce from his wife, but upon their agreement articles of separation were signed, the proceedings were dismissed.

Will of William Brown.

By the terms of his will, William Brown leaves to his daughter, Mary E. Squires, all his personal estate, with the exception of $1,000. To Mary E. Perry, a niece, is left part of real estate lot 129-125, in square No. 12. The remainder of the estate is left in trust to George W. Larkin and George H. Perry, to pay the proceeds quarterly to Mary E. Squires during her lifetime.
