☞ To Inventors, Patentees, Publishers, Teachers, Manufacturers of Improved Farming Implements, Wholesale Dealers, &c. &c.—THE NEW-YORK WEEKLY TRIBUNE, now enlarged to the size of the Daily, and having a list of Thousand regular subscribers in all the States in the Union, is one of the most extensively and rapidly increasing mediums for advertisements in the country. Its columns are conducted so as to be useful and interesting to the class of readers which constitute a limited portion of its readers. We believe no other advertising medium of equal capacity and value does or ever did exist in this or any other country. Its ample columns, fair type and fine, white paper (the same as those of our Daily and Semi-Weekly editions), with the large amount of its reading matter and the limited space devoted to Advertising, combine to give it unrivaled advantages for announcements of universal interest.

Terms.—Thirty cents per line, or three cents per word, for each insertion, payable always in advance. No advertisement inserted for less than $1. No deduction on account of length; as short stories are produced.

Advertisements in the Weekly will be inserted also in the Semi-Weekly Tribune—having now a rapidly increasing circulation of 6,000 copies—for five cents per line additional, or in both Semi-Weekly and Daily for twelve cents per line additional. That is to say, for each advertisement of thirty-three words or more.

There are words in the Weekly.....30 Cents.
There are words in the Weekly and Semi-Weekly.....35 Cents.
There are words in the Weekly, Semi-Weekly and Daily.....42 Cents.

Such advertisement or less than thirty-three words, in Weekly or Weekly and Semi-Weekly, 84c.; Weekly, Semi-Weekly and Daily, $1; Weekly and Daily, 70c. Weekly only, 50c. Weekly and Semi-Weekly, 70c. Each additional line in Weekly, 5c.; Weekly and Semi-Weekly, 7c.; Weekly, Semi-Weekly and Daily, 10c. Weekly only, 8c. Payments must be made at Messrs. EVANS & BRITTAN'S, No. 637 Broadway, C. E. FRANCIS & Co., No. 252 Broadway, and at the office of the TRIBUNE. Advertisements to be under the same supervision and have same position as reading matter, and to be charged accordingly.
