Easter Millinery!

The formal Easter Opening has thus far proven the success of success! It has certainly been an eye-opener to hundreds of people—to hundreds of people who have never bought here. It has revealed the folly of paying so much for millinery when the very best and most stylish is to be had here for so little.

This has become a great millinery house, and it has grown big because of the reasonableness of its prices—the extreme stylishness of its millinery.

These busy days are testing the strength and capacity of the workrooms, but we are keeping pace with orders so that you may feel sure if you leave your order here you will not be disappointed.

They embrace suits of every fashionable fabric, including Broadcloths, Venetian Cloths, Pebble Cheviots, Cheviot Serges, Covert Cloths, Hosiery, Camels' hairs, and the desirable and exceedingly fashionable Whelan's Cloth—in all the spring shades, such as black, blue, canter, tan, grey, royal, brown, red, and pink.

Arrest of a Fugitive From an Insane Asylum.

John Alden MacKinnon, son of a well-known New York banker and broker and a fugitive from the Morris Plains, N. J., Asylum for the Insane, is under arrest at the First precinct police station. He was taken into custody by Detectives Hoyd and Farham at the corner of Tenth and E Streets northwest yesterday morning and will be held awaiting advice from the asylum authorities. They have been notified of the arrest and it is expected two attendants will arrive this morning to take charge of the fugitive. MacKinnon says he may petition the Supreme Court of the District for a writ of Habeas corpus to prevent his surrender to the asylum officers. He says he came to this city in search of a job, to spread religious truths.

MacKinnon escaped from the Morris Plains Asylum Friday. He headed for Philadelphia and there, being without funds, telegraphed his father for money. He reply he received a check for a substantial amount enclosed in a letter pleading with him to return to the asylum and to cease worrying his relatives and friends. Instead of doing as advised MacKinnon came to Washington and secured quarters at Tenth and E Streets, where he was located yesterday. He arrived Sunday morning and shortly afterward the police were requested to apprehend him. MacKinnon led Detectives Hoyd and Farham a merry chase before they took him into custody.

When arrested MacKinnon told the police that it was necessary for him to see the President in order "to spread the truth," as the supreme being had taught it.

MacKinnon is a man of education, well dressed, and of quiet demeanor. His conversation would ordinarily impress Chilit. In the Schlitz brewery you will find a plate glass room. In it are cooling pipes, over which the hot beer drips. Above it is an air filter, and no air comes into this room save through that filter. No germs can reach beer handled with such rare caution. But after the beer is aged, we filter it, then bottle and seal it, then sterilize every bottle.

A Magnificent Contest With a Close Finish—Prosit, at 25 to 1, Beats the Three-Year-Olds at Seven Furlongs—A Bad Day for the Favorites

Threatening, overhanging clouds have a deterring effect on betting patrons, and yesterday the usual large crowd was in attendance to see a good card run off. The sport was interesting throughout, the starts prompt and the several events hotly contested. In the best race, particularly the one with so close a finish from the grandstand it was impossible to tell which horse had won until the numbers were hung up placing Elom first, and Prosit second.

Prosit, about half and the decision. The uncertainties of racing were never better illustrated than in that event, and demonstrated how little even owners and trainers themselves know about the running qualities of their horses.

The fifth race furnished another surprise to the grandstand, from the Goughacre's stable and ridden by an apprentice, won in a romp, with as good as 25 to 1 against him. Altogether it was a bad day for the favorites, as only two, Drive-for-Niente, from the H. H. & D. H. Morris stable, and Robert Waddell rewarded their backers. These two were at such short odds that only the plunger could afford to back them.

The entries for the Second Spring Hunters' Steeplechase for qualified hunters, four years old and upward, to be run under the rules of the Hunt and Steeplechase Association, have been announced by the Jockey Club. The event brings out as large and as good a field of hunters as was ever seen at any track in the country.

The card for today is an excellent one, and as the odds are so close, the contests should be the result. The features are the steeplechase, at about two miles, in which Prosit is the favorite, and the race for three-year-olds and upward, at about two miles, in which Elom is the favorite.

At the fall of the flag Prosit shot the lead, and he was followed by Elom, who was second, and by Robert Waddell, who was third. At that moment he should have had the verdict and expected to see his horse finish first.

Second race—For two-year-olds; four and a half furlongs. Drive-for-Niente (Walsh), 3 to 1 and 2 to 1; Elom (Landy), 6 to 1 and even; second, Alton Water (Wonderly), 3 to 1 and 2 to 1; third, Time, 1:28.2.

Good start. When it came to racing there was a wide margin between Elom and he won all the way, passing under the wire first by ten lengths. Latocor served badly in the stretch when he was in the lead.

Third race—For three-year-olds and upward; six furlongs. Robert Waddell (Wonderly), 3 to 1 and 2 to 1; Moor (Landy), 3 to 1 and 2 to 1; third, Time, 1:26.4.

Fourth race—For three-year-olds and upward; five furlongs. Elom (Landy), 25 to 1 and 15 to 1; second, Prosit (Walsh), 2 to 1 and 1 to 1; third, Time, 1:23.2.

AFFAIRS OF THE DISTRICT

Brookland Citizens' Association's Statement Questioned.

Eleven Colored Families in the Subdivision Instead of Six—Question of Paying for Chemical Engine House—Right to Remove Poles.

O. T. Taylor, of 126 Hartford Street, Brookland, has written Commissioner Macfarland with reference to the school site in Brookland. He states that he learns from the papers that the Citizens' Association has presented their views to the Commissioners, also some figures with reference to the number of colored families to be served by the school if it is placed in Brookland proper and not in one of the outlying subdivisions.

Mr. Taylor states that at the outset he would like to know why, if the site on the Junker Hill Road is thought to be so desirable to the members of the Citizens' Association, they abandoned it some years ago and came down into the town of Brookland and had a school house built there at a cost of about $60,000.

Mr. Taylor states that he made a trip out to the site on the Junker Hill Road last Sunday, and he informs the Commissioner that it is too long a walk for children to take in going to and from school. He also states that the Citizens' Association has proposed to locate the new school in Brookland, as was intended by the law of Congress.

John Hughes, jr., contractor for the erection of the chemical engine house at the corner of Fortth and Xenia Streets northwest, has requested of the Commissioners that payment be made under the contract, $29 being retained until the water table course on the rear of the building is completed. Mr. Hughes states that he desires this action to be taken to enable him to settle with his sub-contractors.

In reporting upon the application John B. Brady, the Inspector of Buildings, has informed the Commissioners that the building is completed, except for the water course referred to. This is yet to be laid and is delayed temporarily by the brick makers not having the style of brick required in stock. Mr. Brady sees no objection to granting the request, and he will refer the matter to the chairman of the building committee. He informs the Commissioners that in order to make the payment as desired it will be necessary to accept the building and then to turn the custody of the work over to the contractor to that of the District. He states, however, that it has been arranged that the contractor remain on duty and that he be paid out of the appropriation for the building.

With this understanding the matter will go before the board at its next session.

J. D. Sullivan, corner of Thirteenth and G Streets northwest, has communicated with the Commissioners, asking relief from penalties in the payment of the tax on certain lots in squares 1260, 1262, and 1264. The matter was referred to J. W. Dumiel, the Special Assessment Clerk, who has now reported as follows: The special assessment against east part of lot 35, square 1184, $2.54; west part of lot 36, square 1184, $2.82; and the special assessment for curb against south part of lot 36, square 1260, $2.82, were levied under act of August 6, 1890, which has been declared invalid by Supreme Court of the District of Columbia because it contained no provision for advertisement of intended work, wherefore I recommend that payment be accepted without interest. The special assessments for paving against east part of lot 35, square 1184 $2.54; west part of lot 36, square 1184, $2.82; and the special assessments for curb against south part of lot 36, square 1260, $2.82, were levied under act of August 7, 1891, and being was act for November 23, 1891, wherefore I recommend that payment of them be accepted without interest.

THE WAY IT WAS.

The Bedfast Man Who Got Up and Went to Business.

This is the way it was. The man had been sick with rheumatism and a complication of troubles, and had been bedfast all winter. He had three of the best physicians attend, but his condition baffled their skill. Then it chanced that a pamphlet was put into his hands. He read of cures of men and women whose condition suggested his own, and he said: "That medicine is just what I need. Send for a bottle at once."

If every sick person would reason as logically and act as promptly as did this man, there would be many more bedfast people able to get up and go to business. Every human body is organically alike. The blood is the life of the richest man as well as the poorest. If a king's blood gets out of order the same conditions follow.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has an unsurpassed record as a blood purifying medicine. Not only does it cure rheumatism, but diseases in general which have their cause in an impure condition of the blood, such as eczema, scrofula, erysipelas, boils, pimples, ulcers, sores, etc. The cures effected by "Golden Medical Discovery" are perfect cures. Some medicines drive the surface symptoms of disease in, instead of out; they cover disease but do not cure it. "Golden Medical Discovery" drives out of the blood the corrupting poisons and impurities which cause disease, and it establishes the body in sound health.

A SPRING MEDICINE. Because of its blood purifying power and tonics, "Golden Medical Discovery" is an ideal spring medicine. There is no alcohol in the "Discovery" and it is entirely free from opium and narcotics. It does not stimulate, but imparts real strength and permanent vigor.

It gives me much pleasure to testify to the merits of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery," writes Miss Annie Wells, of Ferguson's Wharf, Isle of Wight Co., Va. "I can say honestly and candidly that it is the grandest medicine ever compounded for purifying the blood. I suffered terribly with rheumatism, and pimples on the skin, and swelling in my knees and feet so that I could not walk. I spent about twenty dollars paying doctors' bills but received no benefit. A year or two ago I was reading one of your Medicinal Books and I decided to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Favorite Prescription,' and an entirely cured."

Sometimes a dealer tempted by the little more profit paid on the sale of less meritorious medicines will offer the customer a substitute as being "just as good" as the "Discovery." It is better for him because it pays better, but it is not as good for you, if you want the medicine that has cured others.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cleanse the bowels and stimulate the sluggish liver. Men or women suffering from chronic forms of disease are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free. All correspondence held strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

This offer of free consultation by letter is not to be confounded with offers of "free medical advice," which in some cases are made by those who have neither medical knowledge or experience, and are professionally and legally incompetent to practise medicine. Dr. Pierce's offer not only places freely at the disposal of the sick his own valuable advice as a specialist, but also the advice of the medical staff associated with him, comprising nearly a score of skilled physicians.

FOR MAN OR WOMAN, there is no better medical work than Doctor Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. It contains more than a thousand large pages and over 700 illustrations, is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the cloth-bound volume, or only 21 stamps for the book in paper covers. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.
