PRESIDENT TO JOIN IN YALE "BOOLA"

Songs of Old Eli Will Be Feature at Annual Banquet of the Alumni Association.

"Here's to Good Old Yale" and all of the other songs dear to the heart of every man who has walked beneath the elms of Old Eli will be resurrected by President Taft and a host of other notables when the Yale Alumni Association of the District of Columbia gather in the banquet hall of the New Raleigh on February 24. Mr. George X. McLanahan, president of the association, will preside.

Special arrangements have been made for the singing. A corps of men liberally endowed with a spirit and voice will lead the songs that have gone over football and baseball fields—and that corps has been told that it must sing like birds of paradise even if every man dies of apoplexy.

They haven't learned how the President rates as a singer, but it is confidentially rumored that the Executive hasso will do much to swell the glory of "Clementine" and "Solomon Levy" and all the others, not overlooking the classic Yale "Boola," without which no Yale dinner would ever be complete.

Extra Seats for Kubelik Concert.

Owing to the great demand for seats for the violin recital by Jan Kubelik at the Columbia Theater this afternoon one hundred chairs will be placed upon the stage. These tickets are now on sale at Droop's.

Mr. Kubelik has just returned from a very successful tour of the West, and has been greeted by some of the largest audiences ever assembled for a concert. This will be Kubelik's last appearance for several years, as he has contracts abroad that will occupy his time until 1916.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, Weather Bureau.
Washington, Tuesday, February 13—8 p. m.

The Southern storm will continue its movement eastward during Wednesday to the Atlantic coast, causing general rains in the Southern States east of the Mississippi Wednesday, probably reaching as far north as Virginia Wednesday night. In the North Atlantic States and the Lower Lake region fair weather will prevail, while in the States farther west unsettled conditions will continue, but with very little precipitation.

The changes in temperature will not be marked, although the tendency will be upward in the Northern States.

Storm warnings are displayed on the Gulf coast from Galveston to Pensacola, Fla., and on the Atlantic coast from Jacksonville to Port Monroe.

The winds along the New England coast will be moderate variable; on the Middle Atlantic coast moderate variable, shifting to northeasterly and increasing on southern portion; on the South Atlantic coast light northeast; on the Gulf coast light shifting; on the West Gulf coast high northwesterly, diminishing; on Lake Michigan moderate variable.

CHRIST BELIEVED IN FULL PUBLICITY

"Would Have Made Good Newspaper Man," Says Speaker in Men and Religion Forward Movement.

"Christ would have made a corking good newspaper man. I say it reverently. Did it never occur to you in reading the Gospels how Christ had gone through the fields doing things on the Sabbath? He did it thus that we should know about it. If he had done it otherwise, we would not have known about it."

With these words Eugene N. Camp, president of the Church News Association of New York, reached the climax of his address on "Publicity" before one of the opening meeting of the Men and Religion Forward Movement in the First Congregational Church yesterday afternoon. He re-enforced his statement in the following manner:

"The temper of the daily papers in America toward the churches is steadily improving. They are more and more wanting and trying to print church news in improved form. They are less and less willing that the reports should appeal to the sensational side. The New York papers are perhaps leading all papers in that direction. They are paying more and more money for church news. More of them are having church pages on Saturday and printing church news and treating the churches with sincere respect. There is a tremendous gain in that direction and these movements. The Men and Religion Movement and the Laymen's Missionary Movement are helping greatly to strengthen this attitude.

"You must publish the facts in the case in order to get any publicity.

"I wonder if there is anybody who does not think that news is just as legitimate for the churches, for the material side of the church, for missions and social service, as it is for Pears' soap or automobiles? If they think that, they had better get it out of their heads. What do people take into their consciousnesses? It is the things that you know about."

Under the leadership of Lyman L. Pierce, of Pittsburg, team specialist on missions of the Men and Religion Forward Movement, Washington campaign, a largely attended institute was conducted yesterday at Epiphany parish hall. Following Dr. Arthur J. Brown's stirring address of the afternoon, in which he alluded to the war nearing its end in China, Mr. Pierce introduced a native Chinese into the institute on missions, who paid tribute to China's debt to Christianity and spoke of the present strategic position of Christian leaders in the new republic.

Dr. Brown addressed the afternoon session of the opening day of the convention yesterday in the First Congregational Church, and while he spoke to the topic "The world call of the gospel," he devoted most of his remarks to summarizing the conditions in the Orient.

Fully 300 delegates and ministers were present at the institute on missions, which was addressed by Mr. Almy, and missions and publicity were the most important of the meetings of the afternoon and evening. In connection with the social service work, in which Mr. Almy is vitally interested, the committee on social service, in co-operation with the Monday Evening Club, and Associated Charities, and the Consumers' League of Washington, have an extensive exhibit in the parish hall of Epiphany Church, in which actual conditions in the slums of the Capital City are graphically illustrated. This exhibit will be continued throughout the campaign.

"I look to the time when there will be free doctors as well as free schools," said Dr. Almy, in an address at Calvary Baptist Church in the evening.

"With free education, illiteracy has been practically abolished inside one generation. Is not disease as dangerous as illiteracy? The city can give a boy an education, but it does not give him health; yet any father would rather have a live boy than a wise boy. The day will come when we will have free doctors. Already a long step has been made in that direction, for in many cities there are now ten or twenty times as many paid officials of the health departments as there were ten years ago."

Mr. Almy discussed the entire field of social service and the forces at work for social welfare. He declared that modern charity is the freest and most satisfactory ever known.

Through Chairman Dr. D. C. MacLeod, of the eight-day campaign committee of the Men and Religion Forward Movement, a telegram was presented to the opening sessions of the convention of the Washington campaign as follows:

"Chicago Methodist preachers' meeting and Willard Hall mass meeting ask Men and Religion Forward Movement forces to request President Taft to apply findings of the Chicago and Minneapolis vice commissions by requiring police to abolish unlawful segregation in National Capital as good example to other cities and preparation for inauguration."

A communication from the Aloysius Truth Society, representing the Catholic clergy and laity of the city of Washington, was also read, asking that the men and religion campaign should be made to include co-operation with the society in its efforts to stamp out the sale and exhibition of immoral and lewd posters, post cards, and pictures in the National Capital.

An interesting meeting was held at the Ebenezer M. E. Church, Fourth and D streets southeast, last evening.

A Bible institute meeting was held at Lincoln Memorial Congregational Church, the pastor, Rev. S. Brown, presiding. Addresses were delivered by W. A. Hunton and Dr. P. O'Connell, of Howard University.

At the First Baptist Church, Twenty-seventh street and Dumbarton avenue northwest, services were held with Rev. E. E. Ricks presiding. The meeting at St. Paul's A. M. E. Church was addressed by Rev. Charles Young, Rev. A. C. Garner, Rev. N. Williams, of Baltimore, and Rev. L. Tolliver.

An address was delivered to the students of the Armstrong Manual Training School by A. N. Colton, of Buffalo. Other addresses were delivered by N. J. Beckett, E. B. Henderson, and Lewis Johnson.

BROOKLAND GIVES A GRIDIRON NIGHT

Two Hundred Members Make Merry at Festive Gathering Filled with Generous 'Roastings.'

Gridiron night of the Brookland Brotherhood was celebrated last night with all the attending features of the real article, and was thoroughly enjoyed by the 200 members who gathered in Lord's Hall, Twelfth and Newton streets northeast.

Stephen H. Booth, in charge of the committee of arrangements, did his work well, the entertainment consisting of "stunts" by every committee which is a part of the brotherhood. Cartoons illustrating several of the jokes which were perpetrated upon the different citizens of the suburb were shown and much hilarity prevailed when local celebrities were seen in grotesque and unnatural surroundings. One cartoon especially, showing the Brotherhood baseball team in action, was a great mirth provoker.

C. F. Tansill, president of the Brotherhood, probably the most popular resident in Brookland, was the object of much laudation.

A. J. Doeing, chairman of the finance committee, presented a report of that committee as he dreamed it would be in 1937. Organized in 1907 with a membership of twenty-five, the yearly resources of the brotherhood were $5. In his report Mr. Doeing pictured Brookland as having grown to a city of large proportions, and accredited the brotherhood with a membership of 3,000.

John R. Burg, a member of the State legislature of New Mexico, was present and spoke on his home country, telling of the good work being done by the Reclamation Service, and urging any thrifty person who wished to settle in a prosperous country to try New Mexico.

Another pleasing feature was a recitation of Lincoln's Gettysburg address by Franklin J. Hough, third. Piano recitations by Rev. J. M. Long; solos by Fred Tansill and I. R. Schwinger, and selections by the Brotherhood Quartet, composed of Messrs. Tansill, Booth, Prim and Sherwood were other features of the evening.

Previous to the Gridiron movement the business meeting of the Brotherhood was held. Six new members were admitted and President Tansill welcomed them to the organization. Those who were enrolled were Charles Gooch, W. H. Evans, J. L. Knopp, W. L. S. Walter, C. J. Schwinger, D. H. Deloe, and P. V. Keating.

"MACBETH" AT BELASCO.

Sothern and Marlowe Seen in Impressive Shakespearean Tragedy.

Before a distinguished audience which filled every nook and cranny of the Belasco and threatened to overflow into the aisles, Sothern and Marlowe last night scored the second triumph of their engagement in their truly wonderful and artistically perfect production of the grim tragedy of "Macbeth." Of all of the plays of the great poet, certain it is that there is none which requires more of the stage manager, the mechanical genius, and the costumer than this one. Every opportunity is fully appreciated and realized.

Mr. Sothern's Macbeth is too well known to call for comment. His scenes just after the murder of Duncan, and again when he is confronted at the banquet table by the ghost of Banquo are magnificent, depicting a degree of abject terror and mental anguish almost unbelievable. And then his visit to the cave of the witches, where he receives advice from the spirits in the caldron, will be long remembered as a fine piece of acting.

Miss Marlowe's "Lady Macbeth" can be described by the one adjective superb. Her wonderful voice, her flawless enunciation and perfect poise make the character her own. Her admonitions to the weakening Macbeth, and particularly her sleep walking scene, when she talks of the murder of Duncan, demanded and held the tense attention of her auditors.

Of the supporting company, which is uniformly excellent, Frederick Lewis gives a splendid performance as Macduff. His scene in the fifth scene, when he is told of the murder of his wife and children, was beautifully handled, and called forth the applause it richly deserved.

At the matinee to-day "Romeo and Juliet" will be presented and "The Merchant of Venice" will be the attraction at the evening performance.

William P. Partello Buried.

The funeral of William P. Partello, a veteran of the Spanish-American war, was held from Hindle's chapel, Fifth and H streets northwest, yesterday afternoon with full military honors. Burial was in Arlington. Gen. Nelson A. Miles Camp, No. 1, of which Mr. Partello was a member, was represented at the services. The pallbearers were Jere A. Costello, Daniel Leahey, William W. Dyer, Edward A. Mettee, Charles H. Merritt, and Commander Chris Hultenach.

Ice Gorge Threatens Damage.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Feb. 12.—Record damage, even outweighing that of three years ago, is threatened by a six-mile ice gorge which is clogging the lower river. The water is rising rapidly and residents along the banks are preparing to flee with their household effects. The extreme cold weather has caused an enormous jam to form and experienced river men said that the danger was grave.

THE SAENGERBUND CARTOON.

It Represented Prof. Hammer and Congressman Bartholdt.

Prof. Heinrich Hammer, musical director of the Washington Saengerbund, has tendered his resignation to the board of directors of the society, the same to take effect with the expiration of his present term in September next.

Reference to the cause which led to this action was made in carnival cartoonery on the title page of the carnival and "fools' session" programme last Monday night, the artist placing the chorus leader of the band on a keg and box, labeled "my principles," from which elevated position he is seen to conduct a "fool" chorus and orchestra.

Prof. Hammer resigned his position, because, it is understood, his principles as a musical expert did not permit him to accede to the wishes of the band to move the orchestra at concerts from the stage to the pit.

A the top of the programme appeared the carnival vignette of Representative Richard Bartholdt, an honorary member of the band, and not that of Commissioner Rudolph, as has been erroneously stated.

Destroyed Fourteen Years Ago.

The fourteenth anniversary of the destruction of the battle ship Maine in Havana Harbor will be remembered by Gen. Nelson A. Miles Camp in a meeting to be held at Costello's Hall to-morrow night. A meeting to arrange for the details was held last night, and the following committee on arrangements was appointed: Charles H. Merriott, Edward Mettee, William A. Hickey, J. A. Costello, Daniel Leahey, W. W. Dyer, and Richard J. Norton.
