The superdreadnoughts in single file steaming past Miss Liberty on their way to anchorages up the Hudson, as seen from an airplane. Photo by Lewis.

Our Overseas Battle Fleet drops anchor in the Hudson

The American battleship fleet is home again. Here are twelve great fast sea fighting ships that are paying Father Knickerbocker a two weeks' visit. Over a hundred of Uncle Sam's grim war warriors gather the North River, where their 30,000 seamen are given the freedom of the city in a royal welcome home.

The Battleship ARKANSAS

The Battleship NEW YORK, flagship of Rear Admiral A. E. Roderick

The Battleship MISSISSIPPI

The Battleship PENNSYLVANIA, flagship of Admiral Mayo

The Battleship WYOMING, flagship of Rear Admiral R. E. Coontz

The Battleship NORTH DAKOTA