GRIST OF OFFICESEEKERS. It is Growing Larger With Every Day That Passes.

SELECTIONS REPORTED MADE.

Pickler Thought to Be Slated for Commissioner of Pensions and Hermann for the General Land Office—Candidates Mentioned for Other Important Offices.

Appointments in the departments, under the new administration, are going rather slowly. There are comparatively few to make and no haste about making them.

One of the most important places still at the disposal of the President is that of Commissioner of Pensions. It is stated very strongly that a selection has been made for this place from the large number of candidates. This is Hon. John A. Pickler, late Representative-at-large from South Dakota. He has the incensement of the Grand Army in every State of the Union; also there is a big petition asking his appointment, signed entirely by soldiers' widows. This is known as the "widows' note." He also has the support of very many of his associates in Congress.

In addition to this he has the credit of good work for the party in the Dakota election. He was at Pierre at the time Senator Kyle was elected, and is believed to have done the party much more than was expected when it was known the State had gone for Populism and free silver. He was the Republican nominee for Senator and handled his forces skillfully.

The Interior Department has a number of good places to be filled, and Secretary Bliss was given a large number of suggestions yesterday in regard to them. Congressmen and politicians were in and out all day long, hardly leaving time to attend to the routine duties which could not be put off.

It is probable that for several of these places no selection has been definitely made. It is likely a Commissioner of Patents and his assistant will be named within a short time to succeed Commissioner Secretary and Assistant Commissioner S. S. Fisher. The former voted for Bryan and the latter is a gold Democrat. If geographical lines are to be observed in the appointments the successors of these two gentlemen might both come from New England. The Commissioner is from Connecticut, while Mr. Fisher is from Massachusetts. He has, however, recently bought a home in Montgomery county, Md., connected to this city, and votes there.

Mr. Batterworth has been mentioned as Commissioner of Patents. It is not likely that he would accept this place. It is considered certain that he will have a prominent place under the administration.

The places of Assistant Secretary William Simms and Assistant Secretary John Reynolds will also be among those early filled. Mr. Simms is from Alabama and Mr. Reynolds from Pennsylvania.

Gen. Wade Hampton, commissioner of railroads, is likely to give way soon to a successor. It is believed a Southern man will be selected. It is not unlikely that the office will be given to Gen. Longstreet, who is in the city looking after his interests.

It is regarded as certain that Hon. Roger Sherman, of Oregon, will be appointed Commissioner of the General Land Office to succeed Judge Lamoreux.

The position of commissioner of education is also under the Secretary of the Interior, but Dr. William T. Harris, who is in the office, is the appointee of President Harrison. As he was not disturbed in his office by President Cleveland it is probable he will be continued under the present Administration. He has the indorsement of the majority of the wide-awake teachers and educators. He was for many years very successful as superintendent of schools at St. Louis, and has a reputation both in this country and abroad as a leader of philosophic thought.

Secretary Wilson wound up a good day's work in his new place by signing a post-office order for 55 cents, so that Superintendent of Documents F. A. Crandall could collect. The money was for a department publication.

There was a kindly light in his eyes as he looked up at us, what he could do for the Times. To a question as to the report that Col. J. H. Brigham would be his assistant, he said the appointment had not been officially made as yet, but that was what he wanted. He had a good word for Brigham, and in general terms.

There are only two other places in his department to be filled, outside of the scrubwomen. These are private secretary and chief of the Weather Bureau. Mr. Willis L. Moore, who has filled the latter place for nearly a year, was at the department at the close of business. It is considered probable that he will be retained. His appointment was made on account of fitness rather than for political reasons. It was stated at the time that Mr. Moore had never been active as either a Democrat or a Republican. Prof. Mark Harrington, the Republican appointee, was removed to give Mr. Moore the place, is now President of Washington University, near Seattle, and probably would not accept the place if it were tendered.

Postmaster General Gary had a busy day and a large number of callers, including well-known Republican Congressmen. There are, however, only six places in his department here that can be filled by appointment, and the examination, with costs, and decided that there was no undue influence used in procuring the bonds. The bill in equity was filed last April by Blanch K. Towson and some of the other representatives of Leonidas C. Campbell, deceased, a son of the late William H. Campbell and wife, Mary J. Williams. He, deceased, against C. Virginia Moore and Julia A. Russell, the only daughters of W. H. and M. J. Campbell. Frederick L. Moore and Alexander W. Russell were made defendants, as executors of the will of Mary J. Campbell, and in which bill the complainants alleged that certain United States bonds, aggregating $13,000, given these daughters by their mother in 1886, were obtained from her by undue influence. The complainants were represented by Judge H. O. Clayton and Mr. A. A. Birney, and the defendants, Mrs. Moore and Mr. Russell, by Mr. Charles H. Cragin.

Marriage Licenses. Licenses to marry have been issued as follows: Edward Wheeler and Catherine Robinson. Lawrence Rucker and Mary E. Kavanagh. Thornton F. Robinson and Ruth A. Whitcomb. Temple Carlton, of Orange county, Va., and Ella Dickinson, of Greenville, Va., Alfred L. Hoffman and Lillian Rosenberg. Richard L. Meredith and Mary A. Lucas. Timothy Driscoll and Eva Owens.

The legislature of Alabama passed a bill exempting ex-Confederate soldiers from the payment of peddling licenses anywhere in the commonwealth.

DAILY OFFICE HOURS, 10 to 5; Sundays, 10 to 12; Monday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Saturday evenings, 6 to 8.

Coming to the office promptly at 9 o'clock a. m., and as promptly leaving at 4 p. m.

He was summoned to the White House soon after his arrival yesterday morning for a conference with the President, and upon this occasion he was given the honor of receiving callers and to the dispatch of routine business.

Official notice has been sent to the members of the diplomatic corps of the appointment of Mr. Sherman as Secretary of State, and that he will be pleased to meet them at 10 o'clock on Monday, 10 o'clock. This is the customary formal notice preceding the transaction of business between the premier and the representatives of foreign governments. Ex-Secretary Olney is expected to be present to make the necessary introductions, and should he be unable to attend the service will be rendered by one of the present assistant secretaries.

Col. Terry Heath is regarded in Treasury circles as having a "dead snail" climb on the First Assistant Secretary under Secretary Gage. His intimacy with the campaign committee is a mere incident in the recommendations he has advanced in his prominence as a factor in the management of the mint since the late administration of Mr. Sherman.

Mr. William Howell, private secretary to Assistant Secretary Hamlin, is being urged also for an assistant secretaryship in the same department. The two appointments will probably be made today.

The clerical force at the Treasury was busy all day yesterday in waiting the way for the reception of applicants' papers. It is expected that they will come in today in large numbers, most of the Senators and Representatives preferred to await the opening of the office before presenting their applications on file.

Three candidates are in line for the chief clerkship of the Treasury, as heretofore reported in the Times. These are Col. Fred Brackett, who held the position under Harrison; Mr. Saxe, a former associate, and Mr. Wallace Hills, who has been for a number of years assistant to the chief clerk in the superintendence of the building. Unless the "ex" ray should develop an obstacle, Col. Brackett may be counted as a safe man to risk judgment on, but, on the other hand, Mr. Hills' appointment would accord with the civil service principle, and he is said to be strongly inclined.

Representative E. J. Hainer, of Nebraska, is a successful candidate for an assistant secretaryship in the department.

Secretary Gage had an exceedingly busy day up to the very hour of 4 o'clock, but it was in receiving the "visiting cards" principally. At his request Assistant Secretary Curtis will sign the official mail as Acting Secretary until the rush is over.

There are three prominent candidates for the post of Assistant Secretary of War, Col. John Tweedell, present chief clerk of the department; Col. Hopkins, and ex-Representative Charles H. Johnson, Secretary Arthur put in the day in the exchange of greetings with visitors, Senators and Representatives and personal friends. Many had business; others called to pay their respects.

Secretary Long of the Navy Department had an experience similar to that of his colleague in the War branch of the Government at the other side of the building. He started in by making an appointment to the chief clerkship, promoting Benjamin F. Peters to the vacant position by the resignation of Mr. Meade, and later in the day signified his choice of a private secretary by placing the name of Mr. Lewis J. Finney upon the payroll as such.

The visitors occupied the greater part of his time, however, and it is not surprising that he should enter into contracts for the completion was based proved to be erroneous and insufficient by about 33 per cent in each case. These illustrations prove that the practice of authorizing contracts for private works should not be a mere formality, but that the light of the condition of the Treasury, but only after the fullest investigation as to the real merits of the necessity for the improvements contemplated, and only on the most carefully prepared and absolutely correct estimates.

One of the causes for the enormous growth in appropriations of late years has been the increase of our Navy. Since that work was inaugurated in 1893, seventy-seven ships of all classes have been constructed, or authorized to be constructed, at a cost of more than $130,000,000. Already the number of ships authorized would require, as is said, twice the present number of authorized officers and men in the Navy to keep them all in commission.

The cost of their daily maintenance alone is a severe draft upon our diminished revenues. Some of the most expensive of these great ships are already classed by naval experts as obsolete. It would have been wiser if we had heeded the advice urged by many in the beginning of the present century to limit our navy to a few appropriations within limits simply sufficient to keep pace with the progress of modern naval architecture.

The appropriations made for the support of the Federal Government have grown to such staggering proportions that the last few years are said to render it well-nigh impossible to devise means of raising revenues wherewith to meet the expenditures. If the new administration just about to cross the threshold of power carries out its pledges by the means of the country's resources, it will utterly fail to produce the means of meeting the existing high plane, unless, peradventure, the protective tariff measure should be supplemented with a tax on coffee and tea, and perhaps other taxes of an equally onerous nature.

BLAMES THE HOUSE RULES.

The Chairman of the Appropriations Committee Also Blames the Department for Excessive Estimates and Charges the Senate With Much of the Responsibility.

The Congressional Record today will contain a statement made by the Chairman of the House Committee on Appropriations, Mr. Joseph G. Cannon, of Illinois, relative to the appropriations made by the Fifty-fourth Congress. Mr. Cannon's statement is in part as follows:

The total appropriations of the two sessions of the Congress aggregate $1,043,437,018.52. The appropriations of the Fifty-third Congress, which was Democratic in both branches, with a Democratic executive, amounted, according to the official tables, to $859,239,835.61. To this sum, however, should be added $4,400,000 on account of interest and sinking fund charged for bonds issued by the Democratic administration which were not included in the estimate of permanent appropriations submitted by Congress and stated in the tables, which brings the total of the Fifty-third Congress up to $863,639,835.61, or $49,797,824.84 less than the appropriations, including the deficiencies, making total, of the Fifty-fourth Congress.

In explanation of this apparent excess of appropriations by the Fifty-fourth Congress, it should be stated that the Fifty-fourth Congress made increases over its predecessor on account of increased expenditures on account of increased expenditures in the sum of $2,314,000,000 for the service, in the sum of $1,154,000,000 for the naval establishment, in the sum of $8,247,529,000 on account of
