U. S. TO SEARCH FOR HIDDEN ENEMY WEALTH

Palmer to Direct Campaign to Round Up Property of German Foes.

A Mitchell Palmer, alien property custodian, yesterday started a nationwide campaign to round up all alien enemy property that is being secreted in various places throughout the country. Instances have been reported to him of bankers and other financiers concealing hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of alien owned securities, in spite of the illegality of the act. Some aliens, it is learned, even are attempting to transfer their property for the duration of the war, to be turned back to the enemy owners when peace is declared. Mr. Palmer calls upon every loyal citizen to come forward and give information, if he possesses any, which will stop the flow of money into enemy territory. "It should be borne in mind," said

Mr. Palmer, "that an American citizen now in Germany is technically an enemy, within the meaning of the act, but may for good cause be declared by the custodian not an enemy. "A German citizen in the United States is on the other hand not considered an enemy under the act, provided he peaceably resides in this country, obeys the law, and does not engage in any form of activity against the government of the United States. "All citizens or friends of property held by any person for, or on account of, an alien enemy; or of a transfer of such property to any other individual or institution, or of any debts owing by any person to an alien enemy or of persons who are officers or directors of corporations of which any of the capital stock is owned by any one defined as an enemy; or who may have custody or control of any property either alone or with others who are classed as alien enemies under the law, are earnestly urged to come forward and make a full report of any information in their possession that may assist in their locating of such property. This is not only a duty, but an imperative patriotic necessity."

SAYS U. S. WILL PAY TOO MUCH TO RAILROADS

Senator Cummins Declares Appropriation Is 200 Million Above Mark.

The government intends to pay the railroads $200,000,000 annually more than they need, Senator Cummins, of Iowa, declared to his fellow-Senators yesterday. And this assertion led to the discovery that the Senate of the United States was without a Bible. "The first section of the railroad bill has but one precedent in all history," said Senator Cummins. "It will be found in the Scriptures, and while I'm not entirely sure as to the quotation, it is said, 'To him that hath shall be given and from him who hath not shall be taken even that which he seemeth to have.'"

TEACHERS PRAISED FOR DRAFT EFFORTS

District Force Giving Efficient Volunteer Work on Questionnaires.

District school teachers working on classification of registrants by the card index system as to their industrial qualifications are not only displaying a "magnificent spirit" in their work, but they are doing it so efficiently that they are far ahead of time already, according to their general supervisor, G. R. Devitt. More than 5,000 registrants have been classified regarding their industrial knowledge and attainments. Teachers have worked exactly a week at these cards, on each of which there is more than twenty questions to answer. To get answers to these questions, teachers must pore over the questionnaire of the registrant under discussion. "The best part of it," Mr. Devitt said, "there have been no complaints. There has been no more unselfish, magnificent set of workers called to the colors during the war than these school teachers of Washington."

the word "seemeth" is there. I am afraid the Senator from Pennsylvania has not since his boyhood consulted that Book very much or he would know the word was there. Will the Secretary of the Senate produce his Bible and read the version?" Presiding officer (Senator Sterling, of South Dakota)—"The chair will say that the Senate seems to be without a Bible, and the version?" "Well, no matter what the variation with regard to the Bible may be," continued Senator Cummins, "the thought is that it is the way of the world to give to those who have and to take away from those who have the little. None of us can predict with certainty the period of the war. But it is conservative to suggest that the bill means government possession and operation for at least four years. And thus the aggregate over-payment under this bill is about $800,000,000. We are in time of war and dire distress and we propose to give the railroads a reward on their capital stock they never dreamed of. We were told before the committee that if we did not enter into these contracts, the roads would enter legal proceedings. I have no doubt they communicated these ideas to the President and Director General."

Camp Greene Sanitary, Secretary Baker Claims

Secretary Baker has ordered a further rigid investigation of sanitary conditions at Camp Greene, Charlotte, N. C. Conditions cited in the report of Surg. Gen. Gorgas made public yesterday have already been remedied, the Secretary says, and he believes that the camp can be kept healthy permanently, even through the warm weather. He assured a delegation of North Carolinians headed by Senators Overman and Simmons, who called on him today that the camp would not be abandoned for the present.
