

FIFTEEN CHAMPIONS TO BE SHOWN HERE

Blue Ribbon Winners Are to Take Part in Dog Show at Arcade Thursday.

Fifteen champion canines and worthy representatives of every breed will be seen at the annual bench carnival of the Washington Kennel Club at the Arcade mall Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. There will be at least 500 dogs in the show, drawn from States as far apart as Missouri, New York, and Georgia. All Belmont and Ben Lewis will arrive in the city with their strings Tuesday, and next will follow the internationally famous string of Thomas W. Lawson, the Boston financier whose recent operations are now being examined and pinned to cases of stolen blue ribbons at the show. The appreciated number of entries have forced the officials to open the hall from 10 o'clock in the morning until 10 o'clock at night. The entry list shows the French Hunt Club and the kennels of J. C. Campbell in Maryland in possession of the largest number of entries. Superintendent George Folsom and the bench show committee, consisting of John O. Bourke, Charles A. Watson, and Roy Towner, will be in charge.

NEBRASKA MEMBER OBSERVES BIRTHDAY

Other Men in Public Eye Celebrate Today the Anniversary of Their Natal Date.

Charles O. Loback, Congressman from Nebraska, member of the House District Committee, and an authority on economics, is celebrating his sixty-first birthday today. He was born in Andover, Ill., in 1852, and was educated at Geneva, Ill., and at German Wallace College at Herea, Ohio. He commenced life as a salesman in Dayton, Ohio, and from 1875 to 1882 was a salesman in Nebraska. He entered political life in the latter year, and was elected a city commissioner in Omaha in 1887, city controller of the city in 1890, and re-elected for three-year terms in 1896 and 1900. He was elected to Congress in 1910 as a Democrat, and has been exceedingly active in his three years in Washington. Antonin Dubout, who was among the unsuccessful candidates for the presidency of France, has reached his sixty-fifth birthday, and Alfred Praga, a noted English miniature painter, is fifty-two years of age. The Rt. Rev. John M. Francis, bishop of Indianapolis, has reached his fifty-first year.

LAST DRAG HUNT OF SEASON DRAWS MANY

Twenty-five Follow Hounds in Two Hours' Riding Across Fields About Capital.

Led by Walter R. Tuckerman, master of hounds, the last drag hunt of the season was held by the Riding and Hunt Club of Washington, yesterday. The field of twenty-five left the kennels near the Military road, and finished two hours later near the Walter Reed Hospital on Georgia avenue. The only accident in the run was a fall sustained by John Mitchell, brother of Capt. William Mitchell, U. S. A. Among those who rode to hounds were Mrs. W. S. Bowen, Miss Ethel MacMurray, Miss L. R. Siddons, Captain Mitchell, Mr. Mitchell, Col. E. H. J. Greble, Miss Ruth Hitchcock, Miss Dasha Allen, Miss Edythe Howard, Miss Meta Evans, Miss Greble, and C. W. Blackwood. At the conclusion of the hunt a number of those who rode went to the Chevy Chase Club for tea, riding to the city later in the evening. For the observation and treatment of officers and enlisted men who are mentally ill, a psychopathic ward will be established at the Naval Hospital in this city. It is held that most cases of this type can be cured by the service alienists.

"DAMAGED GOODS" IS GIVEN FOR PASTORS

Ministers and Officials Attend Sunday Matinee of The French Moral Play.

When "Damaged Goods," the French drama dealing with the ravages of vice upon society, was presented at the New National Theater at 3 o'clock this afternoon the Rev. Francis H. McMane, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, read the program to the effect, written by Herbert S. Brown. The distribution of seats for the performance had been a most interesting and well-attended affair. The program was given by the French Moral Play Society, which was organized by the Rev. McMane. The play is a powerful and timely drama, dealing with the social and moral problems of the day. It was well received by the audience, and the performance was a success.

The Trust Company stands above disaster

The Institution vs. the Individual in matters of trust

Be on the safe side

This terrible disaster which has plunged our whole country in mourning, must certainly have its lesson for the thinking man or woman.

You name an individual to administer your affairs, and that individual may lose life in the same disaster which takes your own.

Place all matters of trust in the hands of our Company and you are certain of faithful service. The Institution must live, where the individual may perish.

We offer you this safety

Our company may be named as executor, administrator, or trustee, and is thoroughly equipped to act in the above capacities. It may be named to act as your representative in every form of fiduciary matters.

Its financial strength, the experience and integrity of its officers, and the direct control of the United States Treasury are your safeguards for faithful service.

Wills naming this company as executor are drawn without charge.
