

UP-STATERS WOULD KILL HEARST BOOM

Kelley of Onondaga Disputes Connors and Starts War on Editor's Candidacy.

DEMAND SENT TO MURPHY

G. O. P. Leaders Insist Miller Run Either for Governor or Senator.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. SYRACUSE, May 13.—Open warfare on the candidacy of William Randolph Hearst for Governor was declared tonight by organization Democrats up State when William H. Kelley, Onondaga county leader and Tammany Hearst supporter, issued a statement declaring "Hearst has not got a chance in the world of being elected Governor," and demanding the statement of William J. Connors, Buffalo regarding up State Democrats' sentiment among up State Democrats. "I believe Mr. Connors is right," said Mr. Kelley, "and I have considerable sentiment among up State Democrats who would make inquiries of Mr. Hearst as to whether he would split his party open from one end of the State to the other, not only at the convention but also on election day. They do not think he could hold the Democratic vote up State and they are convinced that with Tammany lying down on the job in New York city, Hearst would be snowed under by an appalling vote. The next move will be a demand of Charles F. Murphy that Hearst be side-tracked at once. They want Smith, who they have been given to understand will run if the party wants him. Connors Startles Leaders. Hearst workers have been busy in this section for months while the Democratic leaders have sat still and said nothing. Mr. Connors' statement startled and aroused them. The Hearst element has aligned with a number of former organization Democrats and some independents, no one seems to know just how many, or how much influence they exert. Renomination of Gov. Miller is being talked of as a foregone conclusion by Republican leaders in this city and throughout central New York. His pet-sonal friends here say he would prefer to return to his law practice, which would be more lucrative, but that it is probable he will yield to Ward of Westchester, Aldridge of Monroe, Greiner of Erie and Cowie and Wilkinson of Syracuse, who intend to force him into the ght. The only alternative, it has been pointed out to the Governor, is to accept the nomination for United States Senator and bear the brunt of the State campaign with H. Edmund Machold or some other of the younger men of the party as the gubernatorial candidate. The up State leaders, all of whom want Mr. Miller to run again, argue that criticisms by the Democrats of his economy program must be answered. Mr. Miller, they declare, is the only man who can answer them, not as a private citizen, but as a candidate for reelection for Governor or as a candidate for the United States Senate. Conviction of every leader in this section is that the Governor will accept a renomination. In case Mr. Miller runs for Governor, William M. Calder is the only candidate being mentioned.

Denials Made by Hearst. William J. Connors, Buffalo politician, who has set out to nominate William Randolph Hearst for Governor on the Democratic ticket next autumn, dropped out of sight yesterday. However, the objective of the former chairman of the Democratic State committee was the theme of discussion in political circles generally. John H. McCooey, who was for Hearst openly in 1918 and has been credited with leaning toward him this year, smiling when he read the Connors statement. "Let my friend from Buffalo do the talking," he said. "Too many cooks spoil the broth." The Evening Journal yesterday, referring to the "interview" sent out from Chicago on Friday, used a statement with this preface: "Mr. Hearst gave no interview to the United Press. He gave them in Chicago the following written statement, which was largely varied in the article sent out as an interview." In the statement Mr. Hearst spoke of the "arrogant, un-American attitude on the part of public servants owing allegiance to the big interests." He added: "I am doing my best to fight it in my capacity as journalist. That would seem to me the best and most effective way for me to carry on the campaign in defense of the exploited and in defiance of the exploiters." Mr. Hearst said he was a progressive and not a radical, and explained: "I will do whatever the situation demands, but I first want to know what the situation really does demand." In developing this "situation" Mr. Connors purposes bringing up-Staters down to see Mr. Hearst in 500 letters.

NEWTON NEXT CHOICE IF MILLER DOESN'T RUN Calder's Anti-Dry Attitude Is Winning Support. Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. ALBANY, May 13.—Gov. Miller is the choice of the Republicans of the Capitol district for renomination at the Republican convention next September, but should he not run again Attorney-General Charles D. Newton is considered one of the most likely candidates for the place. Speaker H. Edmund Machold is also gathering strength. Former Speaker Thaddeus C. Sweet and Supreme Court Justice Wesley O. Egan, who are undoubtedly will again have their names presented to the convention, and Albany county a second time is expected to put forward as its favorite son former Senator Henry S. Sage. He also has been mentioned for Comptroller to succeed the late James A. Wendell, but it is not believed he will reenter public life in any position less than Governor. In Albany, Troy and vicinity Senator Calder's outspoken advocacy of liberalizing the Volstead act to permit light wine and beer has gained for him a considerable following among Republicans. They seem to be glad that there is a candidate in their own party wet enough to enlist their support. Little attention seems to be paid in this district to Hearst. No signs of his boom have yet appeared. Former Governor Alfred E. Smith holds the lead in popularity in the Democratic party. The rank and file in this district would back him for either Senator or Governor. The main question is, would he accept? Cornelius F. Burns, former Mayor of Troy, is gaining strong support should he be nominated. Albany Democrats may start a boom for Representative in Congress Peter G. Ten Eyck. Former Governor Martin H. Glynn of Albany and Mayor George R. Lunn of Schenectady are also in the field. RIVER MEYER IDENTIFIED. George W. Meyer of 220 Hillaide avenue, Leonia, N. J., went to the morgue yesterday and identified a body taken from the East River Tuesday as that of his brother-in-law, William M. Arnold, a retired merchant, who disappeared from his home at Leonia on March 28. Arnold had been dependent over the death of his wife.

HICKS REFUSES TO RUN FOR CONGRESS IN FALL Nassau Man Announces His Retirement. Representative Frederick C. Hicks of the First Congressional District will not be a candidate for reelection this fall. He has notified his Republican friends that he is ready to step down and give some other man a chance at the office. William E. Luyster, the County Chairman, received a letter in which Mr. Hicks thanked him for the many favors shown to him. Mr. Hicks has wanted to retire as the Representative from this district for the last few months, but the diplomatic post offered to him in South America did not appeal to him and he decided to finish his term. The likely candidate to succeed Mr. Hicks is Robert Low Bacon, son of Robert Bacon, one time Ambassador to France. Mr. Bacon has been active in politics. For the last two years he has had charge of the Republican campaign in Nassau county and has pulled it through a successful year each time.

WOMEN VOTERS ADOPT PUBLIC PRINCIPLES Miss Florence Halsey Elected President at Trenton. TRENTON, May 13.—The New Jersey State League of Women Voters, meeting at the Stacy-Trent Hotel, voted today to adhere to the principles enunciated at the convention by Mrs. Maud Wood Paris, national president of the League of Women Voters. These principles are: To keep informed on all public questions; to weigh the qualifications of candidates; to vote according to conscience; to obey every law, even if not in sympathy with it; to support by all fair means policies which the individual approves; to respect the rights of those having opposing views. These officers were elected: President, Miss Florence Halsey of Highland Park; recording secretary, Mrs. Henry C. Richards of Newark; corresponding secretary, Mrs. S. H. Colvin of East Orange, and treasurer, Mrs. Ard Dix Kerlin of Moorestown.

SENATOR CALDER ILL OF PTOMAININE POISON Confinement at Home, but May Be Out To-morrow. Senator William M. Calder is ill of ptomainine poisoning at his home in Brooklyn, it was learned last night. He was taken ill on a train from Washington Friday night. Yesterday morning he had a high temperature. Dr. E. H. Barclay, the family physician, who is attending him, said Senator Calder had improved considerably and probably will be out again by to-morrow. The Senator was unable to attend the National Republican Club dinner to Charles D. Hines last night.
