The Opposition in Wisconsin

MILWAUKEE, Friday Oct. 11.

The Opposition of the First Congressional District held a Convention on the 9th inst. On the 36th ballot, Andrew Elmore, of Waukesha Co. was nominated as a candidate for Congress, to supply the place of Charles Durkee, the present Free Soil incumbent, whose term expires with the present session. A number of resolutions were passed by the Convention in favor of Free Soil, Internal Improvements, Land Reform, Cheap Postage, Homestead Exemption, Free Trade, and Direct Taxation. The Convention also expressed itself in favor of Thomas Hart Benton for the next Presidency, and in opposition to the Fugitive Slave law.

Important Proceedings in the Protestant Episcopal Convention—Refusal to Restore Bishop Onderdonk, &c.

CINCINNATI, Saturday, Oct 12.

The House of Bishops have refused to restore Bishop Onderdonk and have rejected the petition of the Diocese of New-York, both by a majority of about 2 to 1.

A canon has been passed by the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies, providing for the election of an Assistant Bishop where the Bishop of a diocese has been suspended.

The order of the day was taken up at 11 o'clock, being the memorial from Maryland, and the proposed canon of Episcopal visitations.

The Convention yesterday adopted a resolution providing for a triennial meeting of the trustees of the Theological Seminary at the same time with the Convention.

From the South.

BALTIMORE, Sunday, Oct. 13.

We have received nothing south of Augusta. A few returns from Florida are favorable to the Whigs.

Jenny Lind in Boston.

BOSTON, Saturday, Oct. 12.

Jenny Lind gives her last Concert in Boston this (Saturday) evening. Nine thousand persons were present at her Concert over the Fitchburg Railroad Depot last evening. She proceeds to New-York on Monday, and sings in Philadelphia twice next week, resuming her Concerts in New-York positively on Wednesday, the 23d.

Jenny Lind in Boston.

BOSTON, Saturday, Oct. 12.

Jenny Lind's Concert at the Fitchburg Depôt last night was well attended. Her voice sounded much better in this Hall than in the Temple. The last Concert in this city is at the same place to-night, when she leaves for Philadelphia and then back to New-York.

Jenny Lind.

BOSTON, Sunday, October 13.

The largest audience ever seen in Boston collected to hear Jenny Lind on Saturday evening in the Fitchburg Station Hall. It numbered 6,000 or more. The room and corridors were crowded, and some confusion was occasioned by the breaking of windows by the audience to procure air — Mr. Barnum came forward and announced that any who chose to have their money returned could retire, and apply for it on Monday morning. Scores consequently left the room. The first part of the Concert was the same as last Saturday, and the applause of the audience was most enthusiastic.

Mr. Barnum publishes a Card in the papers to-morrow. Among other reports circulated, he alludes to that of a difference between himself and Miss Lind, in which he emphatically declares no reliance can be placed, as he never had the slightest difference with her. Mr. Barnum exhibits two leases of Tripler Hall, one between A. B. Tripler and himself dated 5th April, and one between N. C. Tripler and himself of 24th September. These leases prove Barnum's undoubted right to the Hall for Miss Lind, and none can use it except with his permission.

Jenny is to sing in Chestnut-street Theater Philadelphia on Thursday and Saturday next.

Dismal Swamp Canal, &c.

NORFOLK, Friday, Oct 11.

Navigation has commenced on the Dismal Swamp Canal. Vessels commenced running through it yesterday. There are about 4 feet of water in the Canal, and unless we have rain navigation will again be suspended.

The hands belonging to the steamer J. C. Coffee are working lustily to get off the ship Louisa, and it was expected that they would accomplish their object by night.

Brig Washington sailed yesterday for Mobile. Weather fine; wind light.

Amin Bey at Boston, &c.

BOSTON, Saturday, October 12.

Amin Bey was present at a supper given to the Lancers at Faneuil Hall after their return here and through an interpreter replied to complimentary sentiments in a pleasing manner.

A meeting of opponents to the Fugitive Slave Law in Faneuil Hall on Monday night.

The Funeral of Mr. Mitchell.

BALTIMORE, Saturday, Oct. 12.

The funeral of Mr. E. Mitchell, who was shot in the Election affray the other evening, took place this morning, and was a mile in length. The military and fire companies took part in it.

THE LANCERS AT BOSTON.—The Lancers got home safe and sound on Friday evening, and proceeded to Faneuil Hall to refresh themselves with a champagne supper, provided by the past members of the Company. Gen. Davis presided, and Major Bigelow was present. Amin Bey was also a guest, and made a speech in reply to one by the Mayor, Mr. Brown translating. Everything went off in a jolly and soldier like manner.

FUGITIVE SLAVE LAW.—An enthusiastic meeting in opposition to this law has been held at Lynn, Mayor Hood presiding. Hon. Mr. Julian, M. C. of Indiana, Wendell Phillips and others delivered addresses before the meeting. Vehement resolutions against the law and its supporters were adopted.

THE 'NATIONAL' WHIGS.—The Utica Herald speaks as follows of this very miscellaneous party:

Among the signers to the Seceders' Call in this County, is the name of one gentleman who bolted the Whig party, attended the Buffalo Convention, and finally voted for Van Buren, because the Whigs nominated a Slaveholder for President, and refused to adopt the Wilmot Proviso at the State Convention! Another, while a member of the State Senate, voted for ultra Anti-Slavery resolutions; and, no longer than two years ago, made in this very city a speech to which he took ground in favor of the suppression of the slave trade between the several States—a measure that no one claims to be Constitutional. A third of these "high minded Conservatives" was known here as an ultra Abolitionist as long ago as when the Anti Slavery Convention was kicked out of the city in 1835. We might multiply examples of this kind in our list of the "high-minded" 21 before us; but "enough is enough."

WHIG STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE.—We have already mentioned that four of the gentlemen appointed by the Syracuse State Convention to fill vacancies on the State Whig Central Committee had declined—at being willing to act under the appointment of a majority of that body. We learn that their places have been filled by the appointment of Simeon Draper and William K. Strong of this City, and of Roscoe G. Peters and G. M. Sattree of Albany. It is presumed that these gentlemen will accept the appointments.
