

SAYS WILSON DESERTED AMERICANS IN MEXICO

Senator Fall Declares Administration Failed in Legal Duty to Citizens.

Special to The Washington Herald.
Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 7.—United States Senator Albert B. Fall, of New Mexico, spoke at the mass meeting held at Carnegie Hall here tonight. Senator Fall told how the Wilson administration had failed in its legal duty to American citizens residing in Mexico, and how Mr. Wilson has failed to keep his platform and personal pledges. He said, in part:
"President Wilson declared in the message that he delivered to Congress on August 27, 1914, that 'We should let every one who assumes to exercise authority in any part of Mexico know in the most unequivocal way that we shall vigilantly watch the fortunes of those Americans who cannot get away, and shall hold those responsible for their sufferings and losses to a definite reckoning. That can and will be made plain beyond the possibility of a misunderstanding.'
"But has the President of the United States kept his personal pledge?
"I have a list of the names of 285 with a notation of forty-three whose names are unknown who have been killed in Mexico.
"Why has not publicity been given to these facts by the President? Instead of giving publicity to them, the President, on March 24, warned the public not to accept alarmist reports from the border."

SAY FORD USED MONEY OF U. S. TO BOOM PLANS

by Mr. Tavenner. The advertisements urged all readers to send to Mr. Tavenner for copies of these speeches.
"Thus, by an abuse of the franking privilege, might the public be made to pay for a private individual's campaign for dismemberment—a principle which the public has renounced in no uncertain terms.
"Mr. Ford then paid for the printing of a million copies of these speeches at the Government Printing Office, and paid the salaries of clerks to mail them out. Mr. Tavenner volunteered his franking privilege, the government's office space, his envelopes, his privilege as a Congressman of getting material at cost, his own services and those of his secretary and clerk, paid for by the government. This combination, working industriously through a session of Congress, and still busy at the present time, has succeeded in causing the above-mentioned loss to the taxpayers of the United States.
"The mail was franked twice—once to the man who was asked to send it out, and again when he did send it. These packages, sent out by members of Congress, are also handled by the Postoffice Department at special rates. Therefore, first-class postage should be charged on these original packages containing 3,000,000 envelopes, and that postage would amount to about $180,000.
"In addition to this loss of postage, Mr. Tavenner sent out at the time of mailing certain packages, individual letters which urged the recipients to send for more speeches that might be franked out. The Congressman's office estimates that 500,000 such letters were sent out without postage, and to them should be charged an additional $10,000.
"This brings the total of money lost to the public because of its failure to receive postage up to $450,000. This, however, is not the whole extent of the loss to the public because of the Ford-Tavenner campaign. Ten million speeches were printed at the Government Printing Office, and paid for by Henry Ford. The bill was $62,553. When the government, through a Congressman, allows an individual thus to procure documents at no charge for them at the basis of cost. In figuring this cost, however, it charges merely for paper and labor. There is no item which compensates for such matters as deterioration of plant or interest on the money invested. So it happens that the government suffers an actual considerable loss in doing this sort of work. It would therefore seem reasonable to figure that on Mr. Ford's bill the government lost 25 per cent, or about $115,000."

Jews Stone Orators Near Synagogue During Yom Kippur Observance.
Chicago, Oct. 7.—Attempts of I. W. W. leaders to hold a soap-box meeting in the vicinity of a Jewish synagogue on the West Side last night led to a riot, in which nearly a thousand residents showed bricks and eggs at the speakers.
Police reserves rescued the speakers, including Benjamin Reisman, from the angry residents.
The Jewish residents declared the invasion was a desecration of Yom Kippur, the Jewish Day of Atonement, which began at sundown last night.

FEIGNING FAINT, SHE SAVES FIRM'S PAY ROLL

Girl Clerk Drops to Floor When Masked Men Enter, Then Spreads Alarm.

Special to The Washington Herald.
New York, Oct. 7.—A girl clerk who pretended to faint saved the weekly payroll of $5,800 of Pohalski & Co., cigar manufacturers, at No. 46 Broome street, from being stolen by two masked men who entered the company's office and commanded the employees to throw up their hands.
Miss Hannah Kaplan screamed and dropped to the floor, but, unnoticed by the thieves, she rolled through a doorway to the next room and then, scrambling to her feet, spread the alarm.
Disguised as an invalid soldier back from the Philippines, one of the intruders first presented himself at the cashier's window and begged alms. Lincoln A. Lincoln, a member of the firm, who was supervising the placing of the money in pay envelopes, pushed a dime to him and he went down stairs, the office being on the second floor.
In two or three minutes the "soldier" was back with a companion, both having masks on their faces. They pushed through a partition door, leveled pistols at Mr. Lincoln and several women clerks in the office and ordered their hands up.

URGES GOVERNMENT TO PROTECT COTTON

Head of Farmers' Union Wants 12 Per Cent a Pound Minimum Loan Price.

Special to The Washington Herald.
Fort Worth, Texas, Oct. 7.—In a memorial to Congress issued today and entitled, "The American Farmer and His Government," H. N. Pope, president of the Association of State Farmers' Union Presidents, favors protection on all agricultural products, declares that no country can thrive half protected and half free, insists that there is no such thing as a hyphenated tariff and asks that cotton be protected by a twelve-cent minimum loan from the government.
The memorial, says in part:
"The Southern cotton farmer, in demanding that Congress empower the Federal Reserve Board to fix and protect a twelve-cent per pound minimum loan price on cotton advances no new doctrine in government, for it has been the policy of this nation ever since we have had a nation to protect home industries. Cotton is our only agricultural product that cannot be helped by a protective tariff and must, therefore, seek other means of protection.
"The cotton producer is the only class of farmers who has always been compelled to sell what he produced on a free market and buy what he consumed in a protected market, and as a consequence the cotton fields of the South have more tenants, more poverty and more suffering than any other agricultural area in the Western Hemisphere."

FISTS FLY, INSTEAD OF FINGERS ON CURB

Special to The Washington Herald.
New York, Oct. 7.—In the course of a big deal in Emma Copper and Old Emma Leasing shares, Chester Gumperts became indignant and hit a broker, known to his associates as the "Butcher Boy." "Promptly, the 'Butcher Boy,' who was a bigger man than Mr. Gumperts, hit back, and he hit hard enough to draw blood.
Percy Guard, brother of William J. Guard, of the Metropolitan Opera House, stepped discreetly to one side, saying he would attend later to orders for the sale of several thousand shares of Old Emma Leasing and Emma Copper.
The sales did wait until William Gumperts, the curb pacifist, conducted Mr. Gumperts to a near-by office and calmed him.

NO-TIP SIGN CAUSES STRIKE.

Trouble Among Houston Club Barbers Over New Rules.

Philadelphia, Oct. 7.—Declaring their source of revenue to be seriously curtailed by an order against tipping, five barbers employed in a shop in the Houston Club, at the University of Pennsylvania, declared a strike yesterday. When the "jawcrappers" entered the shop yesterday morning they were confronted by a number of signs announcing "No tipping allowed."
The signs were still on the walls of the shop last night, but no barbers were in sight.

CAPITAL TRACTION CO. MAY SUPPORT PROTEST

Will Probably Indorse Action of W. R. & E. Body.

The action of the Washington Railway and Electric Company in protesting against the order of the Public Utilities Commission requiring more cars and more space for passengers on lines during rush hours, will probably have the indorsement of the Capital Traction Company.
Both George E. Hamilton, president of the Capital Traction Company, and General Manager Hanna are attending the American Electric Railroad Association convention in Atlantic City and could not be reached last night, but subordinate officials predicted this action for their corporation.
"It is entirely impracticable and I cannot see how it can possibly be followed," said W. F. Ham, vice president of the Washington Railway and Electric Company last night, referring to the order. He continued, "I do not see how the order can be improved upon on our lines without the laying of additional or auxiliary tracks that the traffic during non-rush hours would not justify. It is evident that the Public Utilities Commission has not considered what effect the order would have upon the income of the company.
The order calls for seven square feet of floor space for each standing passenger on street cars during rush hours and a seat for every passenger during non-rush hours.

"CANNON" IN POCKET.

Ocean City (Md.) Man Arrested for Carrying Ugly Gun.
Baltimore, Oct. 7.—When Walter W. White, 34 years old, who says he hails from Ocean City, Md., accused two diners in a luncheon room of following him about town, the two accused men told the investigating policeman to look through White's pockets for a "cannon."
Patrolman Beltz, who had waited patiently for White to make his case against the two men, looked into the Eastern Shoreman's pockets. When he found an ugly-looking gun he locked White up. This morning at the Western Police Station Justice Johannsen fined him $25 and costs for carrying concealed weapons.

RAPS CITY'S ARCHITECTURE.

Fine Arts Commission Says Colonial Type Should Be Adopted.
The Commission of Fine Arts, at its session yesterday, put itself on record as opposed to the type of architecture which has been adopted for public buildings of the District in the last two years.
It was declared that the Elizabethan, Tudor, and Gothic types, which have been in vogue, are out of harmony with the scheme of the Capital as exemplified in the White House, the Capitol, and other public buildings of less recent origin.
It was stated that the colonial plan, which is more distinctively American, ought to be adopted generally. The commission approved plans for the new treatment of Rawlins Park, located between D and E and Eighteenth and Nineteenth streets.
