Poles Fighting Soviet Troops, Halting Trains, Berlin Reports; Hungarians Shake Up Regime

Reds Believed Speeding Tanks to Areas

The Berlin "Daily" BERLIN, July 4—Belief from Russian field correspondents here that Soviet tanks and a large number of Russian soldiers were being rushed to areas adjacent to the Polish border was confirmed officially. Foremost of Eastern Europe, the Red tanks, according to Polish reports, are believed to have been spotted in Plock and in other parts of Poland. The times when the tanks were seen varied from the 4th to the 10th of June, and the border area was believed to have been closely scrutinized by the Russians.

A top official of the Polish Ministry of Defense stated that it was not possible to confirm or deny the reports. He said that the Polish government had received no information from the Red forces regarding their movements.