

Parker, Bridget & Co. Clothiers, 315 7th St.

What does it mean—this constant stream of buyers crowding the store each day?

It means that our business methods are appreciated.

It means that men have discovered where they can buy clothes to best advantage.

We have won our position as the leading clothiers by giving you better clothes for less money than the others.

You can depend on us, too! When we say "your money back" we mean it.

Don't put off buying any longer, but come down today. We're ready for you with the "feather-weights."

Parker, Bridget & Co., Clothiers, 315 7th St.

S. Kann, Sons & Co 8th and Market Space.

A Dollar Isn't Too Much for Our Colored Bosom Shirt

59c.

It's made with body of best round thread muslin, reinforced back and front, has patent stays, extra worked buttonholes, detachable cuffs—link or button—and front of the very best imported Madras—will fit any man in his size and suit any taste from our assortment.

59c.

S. Kann, Sons & Co. 8th and Market Space.

Spalding Bicycles are strong at every point where a wear ought to be strong. Like all of Spalding's goods they stand at the head of their class. You should see the new "70" model—the very "acme of perfection" in wheel making.

PRINTERS AND BOOKBINDERS

Stormont & Jackson, 1107 E Street northwest. Phone 1502.

PRINTERS AND BINDERS, 522 12th St. N.W.

McGILL & WALLACE, Printers, 1107 E Street northwest. Phone 1502.

MILWAUKEE BEER

SUFFERED IN SILENCE.

Insane Woman Takes a Bath in Boiling Water.

Chicago, April 20. Emma Stone, a pauper inmate of the county insane asylum at Danzing, was scalded to death in a bath tub Saturday night.

Left alone for a few minutes, the unfortunate woman sneaked into the bathroom and turning on the hot-water faucet permitted a stream of boiling water to flow upon her body. Whatever her sufferings she did not utter a sound and had been perishing from head to foot for at least five minutes before the attendant returned to the ward and discovered her danger.

Doctors were summoned at once and applied the usual remedies, but it was plain that she would die. The woman lingered for four hours, but only toward the end did she give voice to her suffering and then her screams sounded through the entire building until death relieved her.

Spring Race Meeting at Benning's April 18 to May 2, 1896.

The Pennsylvania Railroad will run special trains on week days, leaving Sixth street station at 2 and 2:30 p. m., returning at conclusion of races. Rate 25 cents for the round trip.

A Handsome Souvenir.

The Gormully & Jeffery Mfg. Co.'s gift offers, which are creating considerable talk among wheelmen throughout the country, are coming thick and fast, and wheelmen generally are wondering where they will end.

The latest offer of the Rambler people is that of an unlimited number of handsome, valuable souvenirs, which any rider will be proud to own, one of which will be presented to every cyclist who can prove a total mileage of 3,000 miles or more on a Rambler bicycle, fitted with G. & J. tires, between April 1, and December 1, 1896.

To show their interest in riders of G. & J. tires, fitted to any wheel, this company also agrees to present a beautiful souvenir, a little less valuable than the Rambler souvenir, but still one which will be eagerly sought for and prized, to the rider of 3,000 miles on any bicycle, other than the Rambler, but fitted with G. & J. tires, during the same period of time. These, in addition to five other offers, aggregating a money value of $2,400, several of which are being carried over several of these plans.

Best quality, extra-adjusted, moderate charges.

Fischer Trusses, 627 7th St.

YOUNGSTERS' FAST RACE

Successful Gats the Arlington Close to Record Time.

SIMMS' DESPERATE FINISH

Wanted Until the Right Moment, Then Made One of His Famous Rushes.

Attendance Yesterday Was Very Slim and Mostly New Yorkers—Joe Hayman Won from Russler.

Never was a more complete illustration of first class sport unappreciated than was demonstrated by the attendance yesterday at the second day's racing of the Benning spring meeting.

A handful of spectators, between six and seven hundred, of whom, probably not more than a hundred were Washingtonians in a liberal estimate of the attendance. And to this corps of spectators was furnished some of the grandest sport ever witnessed in this part of the country.

Features of the hair-raising order and contests that were exciting from start to finish, grand thoroughbred racing, and the most desperate finish in the history of the track, witnessed by the thousands of spectators who were present.

The first race was a half mile, and was won by the favorite, the young colt, who was ridden by Mr. S. S. Howland.

Mr. S. S. Howland Watches the Finish.

more than a hundred were Washingtonians in a liberal estimate of the attendance. And to this corps of spectators was furnished some of the grandest sport ever witnessed in this part of the country.

Features of the hair-raising order and contests that were exciting from start to finish, grand thoroughbred racing, and the most desperate finish in the history of the track, witnessed by the thousands of spectators who were present.

The first race was a half mile, and was won by the favorite, the young colt, who was ridden by Mr. S. S. Howland.

Mr. S. S. Howland Watches the Finish.

more than a hundred were Washingtonians in a liberal estimate of the attendance. And to this corps of spectators was furnished some of the grandest sport ever witnessed in this part of the country.

Features of the hair-raising order and contests that were exciting from start to finish, grand thoroughbred racing, and the most desperate finish in the history of the track, witnessed by the thousands of spectators who were present.

The first race was a half mile, and was won by the favorite, the young colt, who was ridden by Mr. S. S. Howland.

Mr. S. S. Howland Watches the Finish.

more than a hundred were Washingtonians in a liberal estimate of the attendance. And to this corps of spectators was furnished some of the grandest sport ever witnessed in this part of the country.

Features of the hair-raising order and contests that were exciting from start to finish, grand thoroughbred racing, and the most desperate finish in the history of the track, witnessed by the thousands of spectators who were present.

The first race was a half mile, and was won by the favorite, the young colt, who was ridden by Mr. S. S. Howland.

Mr. S. S. Howland Watches the Finish.

more than a hundred were Washingtonians in a liberal estimate of the attendance. And to this corps of spectators was furnished some of the grandest sport ever witnessed in this part of the country.

Features of the hair-raising order and contests that were exciting from start to finish, grand thoroughbred racing, and the most desperate finish in the history of the track, witnessed by the thousands of spectators who were present.

The first race was a half mile, and was won by the favorite, the young colt, who was ridden by Mr. S. S. Howland.

Mr. S. S. Howland Watches the Finish.

more than a hundred were Washingtonians in a liberal estimate of the attendance. And to this corps of spectators was furnished some of the grandest sport ever witnessed in this part of the country.

Features of the hair-raising order and contests that were exciting from start to finish, grand thoroughbred racing, and the most desperate finish in the history of the track, witnessed by the thousands of spectators who were present.

The first race was a half mile, and was won by the favorite, the young colt, who was ridden by Mr. S. S. Howland.

Mr. S. S. Howland Watches the Finish.

more than a hundred were Washingtonians in a liberal estimate of the attendance. And to this corps of spectators was furnished some of the grandest sport ever witnessed in this part of the country.

Features of the hair-raising order and contests that were exciting from start to finish, grand thoroughbred racing, and the most desperate finish in the history of the track, witnessed by the thousands of spectators who were present.

The first race was a half mile, and was won by the favorite, the young colt, who was ridden by Mr. S. S. Howland.

Mr. S. S. Howland Watches the Finish.

more than a hundred were Washingtonians in a liberal estimate of the attendance. And to this corps of spectators was furnished some of the grandest sport ever witnessed in this part of the country.

Features of the hair-raising order and contests that were exciting from start to finish, grand thoroughbred racing, and the most desperate finish in the history of the track, witnessed by the thousands of spectators who were present.

The first race was a half mile, and was won by the favorite, the young colt, who was ridden by Mr. S. S. Howland.

Mr. S. S. Howland Watches the Finish.

more than a hundred were Washingtonians in a liberal estimate of the attendance. And to this corps of spectators was furnished some of the grandest sport ever witnessed in this part of the country.

Features of the hair-raising order and contests that were exciting from start to finish, grand thoroughbred racing, and the most desperate finish in the history of the track, witnessed by the thousands of spectators who were present.

The first race was a half mile, and was won by the favorite, the young colt, who was ridden by Mr. S. S. Howland.

Mr. S. S. Howland Watches the Finish.

more than a hundred were Washingtonians in a liberal estimate of the attendance. And to this corps of spectators was furnished some of the grandest sport ever witnessed in this part of the country.

Features of the hair-raising order and contests that were exciting from start to finish, grand thoroughbred racing, and the most desperate finish in the history of the track, witnessed by the thousands of spectators who were present.

The first race was a half mile, and was won by the favorite, the young colt, who was ridden by Mr. S. S. Howland.

Mr. S. S. Howland Watches the Finish.

more than a hundred were Washingtonians in a liberal estimate of the attendance. And to this corps of spectators was furnished some of the grandest sport ever witnessed in this part of the country.

Features of the hair-raising order and contests that were exciting from start to finish, grand thoroughbred racing, and the most desperate finish in the history of the track, witnessed by the thousands of spectators who were present.

The first race was a half mile, and was won by the favorite, the young colt, who was ridden by Mr. S. S. Howland.

Mr. S. S. Howland Watches the Finish.

more than a hundred were Washingtonians in a liberal estimate of the attendance. And to this corps of spectators was furnished some of the grandest sport ever witnessed in this part of the country.

Features of the hair-raising order and contests that were exciting from start to finish, grand thoroughbred racing, and the most desperate finish in the history of the track, witnessed by the thousands of spectators who were present.

The first race was a half mile, and was won by the favorite, the young colt, who was ridden by Mr. S. S. Howland.

Mr. S. S. Howland Watches the Finish.

more than a hundred were Washingtonians in a liberal estimate of the attendance. And to this corps of spectators was furnished some of the grandest sport ever witnessed in this part of the country.

Features of the hair-raising order and contests that were exciting from start to finish, grand thoroughbred racing, and the most desperate finish in the history of the track, witnessed by the thousands of spectators who were present.

The first race was a half mile, and was won by the favorite, the young colt, who was ridden by Mr. S. S. Howland.

Mr. S. S. Howland Watches the Finish.

more than a hundred were Washingtonians in a liberal estimate of the attendance. And to this corps of spectators was furnished some of the grandest sport ever witnessed in this part of the country.

Features of the hair-raising order and contests that were exciting from start to finish, grand thoroughbred racing, and the most desperate finish in the history of the track, witnessed by the thousands of spectators who were present.

The first race was a half mile, and was won by the favorite, the young colt, who was ridden by Mr. S. S. Howland.

Mr. S. S. Howland Watches the Finish.

more than a hundred were Washingtonians in a liberal estimate of the attendance. And to this corps of spectators was furnished some of the grandest sport ever witnessed in this part of the country.

Features of the hair-raising order and contests that were exciting from start to finish, grand thoroughbred racing, and the most desperate finish in the history of the track, witnessed by the thousands of spectators who were present.

The first race was a half mile, and was won by the favorite, the young colt, who was ridden by Mr. S. S. Howland.

Mr. S. S. Howland Watches the Finish.

more than a hundred were Washingtonians in a liberal estimate of the attendance. And to this corps of spectators was furnished some of the grandest sport ever witnessed in this part of the country.

Features of the hair-raising order and contests that were exciting from start to finish, grand thoroughbred racing, and the most desperate finish in the history of the track, witnessed by the thousands of spectators who were present.

The first race was a half mile, and was won by the favorite, the young colt, who was ridden by Mr. S. S. Howland.

Mr. S. S. Howland Watches the Finish.

more than a hundred were Washingtonians in a liberal estimate of the attendance. And to this corps of spectators was furnished some of the grandest sport ever witnessed in this part of the country.

Features of the hair-raising order and contests that were exciting from start to finish, grand thoroughbred racing, and the most desperate finish in the history of the track, witnessed by the thousands of spectators who were present.

The first race was a half mile, and was won by the favorite, the young colt, who was ridden by Mr. S. S. Howland.

Mr. S. S. Howland Watches the Finish.

more than a hundred were Washingtonians in a liberal estimate of the attendance. And to this corps of spectators was furnished some of the grandest sport ever witnessed in this part of the country.

Features of the hair-raising order and contests that were exciting from start to finish, grand thoroughbred racing, and the most desperate finish in the history of the track, witnessed by the thousands of spectators who were present.

The first race was a half mile, and was won by the favorite, the young colt, who was ridden by Mr. S. S. Howland.

Mr. S. S. Howland Watches the Finish.

more than a hundred were Washingtonians in a liberal estimate of the attendance. And to this corps of spectators was furnished some of the grandest sport ever witnessed in this part of the country.

LOEB & HIRSH'S Men's Store.

Straw Hats, $1.00,

Percale Shirts, $1.00,

Summer Suits, $7.35.

WE hardly thought that we could handle as much trade as is coming to us this spring.

It shows conclusively that people are satisfied with the manner we treated them last year.

We try to do our best—the goods are right, the prices moderate, the styles perfect, and our personal guarantee covers all like a blanket.

LOEB & HIRSH, 910-912 F St., "The White Building."

and Grange Camp, 100 each; E. Peyton and Trixie Gardner, 97 each.

Joe Hayman. He had twelve pounds to lose, but he was a great race, getting away from the post easily, and he was well played, being back from 5 to 2 down to 2 to 1.

He looked a winner to the last jump where Littlefield complained to the judges that Kefee had crossed in front of him.

LIVE OAK, who started in the second race, was the most persistently touted horse of the day. Consequently he was backed from even money to 3 to 5. He ran a very poor race, never being up with the leaders. Chaguit, who was played from 7 to 1 down to four, made all running, and passed under the wire in the van a length and a half before Tomoka, with Live Oak third.

The two-year-old selling event went to Joe Hayman. He had twelve pounds to lose, but he was a great race, getting away from the post easily, and he was well played, being back from 5 to 2 down to 2 to 1.

He looked a winner to the last jump where Littlefield complained to the judges that Kefee had crossed in front of him.

LIVE OAK, who started in the second race, was the most persistently touted horse of the day. Consequently he was backed from even money to 3 to 5. He ran a very poor race, never being up with the leaders. Chaguit, who was played from 7 to 1 down to four, made all running, and passed under the wire in the van a length and a half before Tomoka, with Live Oak third.

The two-year-old selling event went to Joe Hayman. He had twelve pounds to lose, but he was a great race, getting away from the post easily, and he was well played, being back from 5 to 2 down to 2 to 1.

He looked a winner to the last jump where Littlefield complained to the judges that Kefee had crossed in front of him.

LIVE OAK, who started in the second race, was the most persistently touted horse of the day. Consequently he was backed from even money to 3 to 5. He ran a very poor race, never being up with the leaders. Chaguit, who was played from 7 to 1 down to four, made all running, and passed under the wire in the van a length and a half before Tomoka, with Live Oak third.

The two-year-old selling event went to Joe Hayman. He had twelve pounds to lose, but he was a great race, getting away from the post easily, and he was well played, being back from 5 to 2 down to 2 to 1.

He looked a winner to the last jump where Littlefield complained to the judges that Kefee had crossed in front of him.

LIVE OAK, who started in the second race, was the most persistently touted horse of the day. Consequently he was backed from even money to 3 to 5. He ran a very poor race, never being up with the leaders. Chaguit, who was played from 7 to 1 down to four, made all running, and passed under the wire in the van a length and a half before Tomoka, with Live Oak third.

The two-year-old selling event went to Joe Hayman. He had twelve pounds to lose, but he was a great race, getting away from the post easily, and he was well played, being back from 5 to 2 down to 2 to 1.

He looked a winner to the last jump where Littlefield complained to the judges that Kefee had crossed in front of him.

LIVE OAK, who started in the second race, was the most persistently touted horse of the day. Consequently he was backed from even money to 3 to 5. He ran a very poor race, never being up with the leaders. Chaguit, who was played from 7 to 1 down to four, made all running, and passed under the wire in the van a length and a half before Tomoka, with Live Oak third.

The two-year-old selling event went to Joe Hayman. He had twelve pounds to lose, but he was a great race, getting away from the post easily, and he was well played, being back from 5 to 2 down to 2 to 1.

He looked a winner to the last jump where Littlefield complained to the judges that Kefee had crossed in front of him.

LIVE OAK, who started in the second race, was the most persistently touted horse of the day. Consequently he was backed from even money to 3 to 5. He ran a very poor race, never being up with the leaders. Chaguit, who was played from 7 to 1 down to four, made all running, and passed under the wire in the van a length and a half before Tomoka, with Live Oak third.

The two-year-old selling event went to Joe Hayman. He had twelve pounds to lose, but he was a great race, getting away from the post easily, and he was well played, being back from 5 to 2 down to 2 to 1.

He looked a winner to the last jump where Littlefield complained to the judges that Kefee had crossed in front of him.

LIVE OAK, who started in the second race, was the most persistently touted horse of the day. Consequently he was backed from even money to 3 to 5. He ran a very poor race, never being up with the leaders. Chaguit, who was played from 7 to 1 down to four, made all running, and passed under the wire in the van a length and a half before Tomoka, with Live Oak third.

The two-year-old selling event went to Joe Hayman. He had twelve pounds to lose, but he was a great race, getting away from the post easily, and he was well played, being back from 5 to 2 down to 2 to 1.

He looked a winner to the last jump where Littlefield complained to the judges that Kefee had crossed in front of him.

LIVE OAK, who started in the second race, was the most persistently touted horse of the day. Consequently he was backed from even money to 3 to 5. He ran a very poor race, never being up with the leaders. Chaguit, who was played from 7 to 1 down to four, made all running, and passed under the wire in the van a length and a half before Tomoka, with Live Oak third.

The two-year-old selling event went to Joe Hayman. He had twelve pounds to lose, but he was a great race, getting away from the post easily, and he was well played, being back from 5 to 2 down to 2 to 1.

He looked a winner to the last jump where Littlefield complained to the judges that Kefee had crossed in front of him.

LIVE OAK, who started in the second race, was the most persistently touted horse of the day. Consequently he was backed from even money to 3 to 5. He ran a very poor race, never being up with the leaders. Chaguit, who was played from 7 to 1 down to four, made all running, and passed under the wire in the van a length and a half before Tomoka, with Live Oak third.

The two-year-old selling event went to Joe Hayman. He had twelve pounds to lose, but he was a great race, getting away from the post easily, and he was well played, being back from 5 to 2 down to 2 to 1.

He looked a winner to the last jump where Littlefield complained to the judges that Kefee had crossed in front of him.

LIVE OAK, who started in the second race, was the most persistently touted horse of the day. Consequently he was backed from even money to 3 to 5. He ran a very poor race, never being up with the leaders. Chaguit, who was played from 7 to 1 down to four, made all running, and passed under the wire in the van a length and a half before Tomoka, with Live Oak third.

The two-year-old selling event went to Joe Hayman. He had twelve pounds to lose, but he was a great race, getting away from the post easily, and he was well played, being back from 5 to 2 down to 2 to 1.

He looked a winner to the last jump where Littlefield complained to the judges that Kefee had crossed in front of him.

LIVE OAK, who started in the second race, was the most persistently touted horse of the day. Consequently he was backed from even money to 3 to 5. He ran a very poor race, never being up with the leaders. Chaguit, who was played from 7 to 1 down to four, made all running, and passed under the wire in the van a length and a half before Tomoka, with Live Oak third.

The two-year-old selling event went to Joe Hayman. He had twelve pounds to lose, but he was a great race, getting away from the post easily, and he was well played, being back from 5 to 2 down to 2 to 1.

He looked a winner to the last jump where Littlefield complained to the judges that Kefee had crossed in front of him.

LIVE OAK, who started in the second race, was the most persistently touted horse of the day. Consequently he was backed from even money to 3 to 5. He ran a very poor race, never being up with the leaders. Chaguit, who was played from 7 to 1 down to four, made all running, and passed under the wire in the van a length and a half before Tomoka, with Live Oak third.

The two-year-old selling event went to Joe Hayman. He had twelve pounds to lose, but he was a great race, getting away from the post easily, and he was well played, being back from 5 to 2 down to 2 to 1.

He looked a winner to the last jump where Littlefield complained to the judges that Kefee had crossed in front of him.

LIVE OAK, who started in the second race, was the most persistently touted horse of the day. Consequently he was backed from even money to 3 to 5. He ran a very poor race, never being up with the leaders. Chaguit, who was played from 7 to 1 down to four, made all running, and passed under the wire in the van a length and a half before Tomoka, with Live Oak third.

The two-year-old selling event went to Joe Hayman. He had twelve pounds to lose, but he was a great race, getting away from the post easily, and he was well played, being back from 5 to 2 down to 2 to 1.

He looked a winner to the last jump where Littlefield complained to the judges that Kefee had crossed in front of him.

LIVE OAK, who started in the second race, was the most persistently touted horse of the day. Consequently he was backed from even money to 3 to 5. He ran a very poor race, never being up with the leaders. Chaguit, who was played from 7 to 1 down to four, made all running, and passed under the wire in the van a length and a half before Tomoka, with Live Oak third.

The two-year-old selling event went to Joe Hayman. He had twelve pounds to lose, but he was a great race, getting away from the post easily, and he was well played, being back from 5 to 2 down to 2 to 1.

He looked a winner to the last jump where Littlefield complained to the judges that Kefee had crossed in front of him.

LIVE OAK, who started in the second race, was the most persistently touted horse of the day. Consequently he was backed from even money to 3 to 5. He ran a very poor race, never being up with the leaders. Chaguit, who was played from 7 to 1 down to four, made all running, and passed under the wire in the van a length and a half before Tomoka, with Live Oak third.

The two-year-old selling event went to Joe Hayman. He had twelve pounds to lose, but he was a great race, getting away from the post easily, and he was well played, being back from 5 to 2 down to 2 to 1.

He looked a winner to the last jump where Littlefield complained to the judges that Kefee had crossed in front of him.

LIVE OAK, who started in the second race, was the most persistently touted horse of the day. Consequently he was backed from even money to 3 to 5. He ran a very poor race, never being up with the leaders. Chaguit, who was played from 7 to 1 down to four, made all running, and passed under the wire in the van a length and a half before Tomoka, with Live Oak third.

The two-year-old selling event went to Joe Hayman. He had twelve pounds to lose, but he was a great race, getting away from the post easily, and he was well played, being back from 5 to 2 down to 2 to 1.

He looked a winner to the last jump where Littlefield complained to the judges that Kefee had crossed in front of him.

LIVE OAK, who started in the second race, was the most persistently touted horse of the day. Consequently he was backed from even money to 3 to 5. He ran a very poor race, never being up with the leaders. Chaguit, who was played from 7 to 1 down to four, made all running, and passed under the wire in the van a length and a half before Tomoka, with Live Oak third.

The two-year-old selling event went to Joe Hayman. He had twelve pounds to lose, but he was a great race, getting away from the post easily, and he was well played, being back from 5 to 2 down to 2 to 1.

He looked a winner to the last jump where Littlefield complained to the judges that Kefee had crossed in front of him.

LIVE OAK, who started in the second race, was the most persistently touted horse of the day. Consequently he was backed from even money to 3 to 5. He ran a very poor race, never being up with the leaders. Chaguit