ACCEPTED DR. TALMAGE

Washington Presbytery Heartily Welcomed the Eminent Divine.

HE THANKS THE TIMES

Will Make His Permanent Abode at the Arlington—He Has Always Desired to Live in This City—To Preach Farewell Sermons in New York, Brooklyn and Pittsburg.

The Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage is now an institution of Washington. He arrived in the city yesterday morning to accept personally the call of the First Presbyterian Church, of this city, the ceremony of acceptance taking place in the morning at the meeting of Washington Presbytery in the Warner Memorial Church, Kensington.

A reporter for The Times had a talk with Dr. Talmage last night at the Arlington. In opening the interview he said:

"I wish first to thank the editor of The Times for his kindness to me. Your paper has been sent to me and I take this opportunity of expressing my obligation for the manner in which my coming here has been treated. The whole press has, in fact, spoken of the change of my ministry here in kind terms for which I feel grateful."

"I have concluded," he said, "to make the Arlington my permanent place of abode and I have just made arrangements for rooms on Sumner Row, which commands two of the beautiful streets.

"Of course, it is well known now that all arrangements have been perfected in relation to the acceptance of the call. I can only say now that I shall concentrate all my energies in the work before me. I shall retain editorial control of the Christian Herald, as the work will not interfere with my duties to the church."

Dr. Talmage said that there was no truth in the report that he would lecture regularly at Convention Hall, which was one of the reports in circulation prior to his coming here.

ALWAYS WISHED TO LIVE HERE.

"Well, I believe that Providence has been the inspiration of the change. I confess that I have always had a desire to live here and when the opportunity was so providentially offered, I gladly accepted. I have come here every year for twenty years and the more I saw of the beautiful city the more it pleased me and now it is to be my home and that of my family."

Dr. Talmage then withdrew to receive officers and members of the First Presbyterian Church, who had called on him. Dr. Talmage is accompanied by his two daughters, who received quite a number of callers in the evening.

The plans of the eminent divine are that he shall deliver one sermon in Brooklyn, one in New York and one in Pittsburg. New York and Brooklyn sermons will be farewells to his friends there.

The other matters of interest in relation to Dr. Talmage and the Washington Presbytery took place at the meeting of that body yesterday morning at Kensington. Rev. Adolos Allen was moderator of the assembly.

Dr. Talmage occupied a quiet corner of the church, and sat in the same pew with Civil Service Commissioner Lyman. He said but half a dozen words in the meeting, and these were of a necessary nature. When the official call to the new pastorate had been read by Dr. Bittinger, the stated clerk of the meeting, Dr. Talmage said simply, and in rather a low, quiet voice, "I accept the call."

The next time he opened his mouth it was to ask that he be excused, as he had to catch a train then about due. Permission was given him to withdraw. Dr. Talmage made a favorable impression on the ministers with whom he was thrown in contact during the brief period that he was with them, and it was very evident that the ministers of this presbytery are glad that they are to have so great a fellow-worker, and have extended to him the right hand of fellowship.

The programme for the installation of Dr. Talmage was drawn up and approved by the meeting. The ceremony of installation, which will be of the most impressive nature, will take place at the First Presbyterian Church on Wednesday, October 23, at 7:30 p. m.

MINISTERS WHO WERE PRESENT.

When the presbytery had been formally opened and prayers had been pronounced Stated Clerk Bittinger called the roll, which showed the following-named clergymen to be among those present:

Rev. J. Van Ness, clerk; Rev. Charles B. Ramsdell, Rev. Tennis S. Hamlin, Rev. B. F. Meyers, Rev. Charles M. Livingstone, Rev. Thomas C. Easton, Rev. Howard W. Ennis, Rev. J. Russell Verbrycke, Rev. A. Allen, Rev. James T. Marshall, Rev. James M. Nourse, Rev. George N. Luccock, Rev. Byron Sunderland, Rev. D. W. Skellinger, Rev. Edward Warren, and Rev. Mr. Kelly. There was also a large number of elders present as delegates from the various churches of the presbytery.

Moderator Allen announced the following standing committees:

Bills and overtures—Rev. Dr. French, Rev. Dr. Alexander and Elder Mr. Motley.

Engrossed minutes—Rev. Dr. Patch, Rev. D. W. Skellenger, and Elder M. Parker.

Leave of absence—Rev. Mr. Nourse, Rev. Mr. French and Elder C. H. Merwin.

Narrative of synod—Rev. T. C. Easton, Rev. Mr. Ennis and Elder Leitch.

Minutes of assembly—Rev. George O. Little, Rev. Mr. Verbrycke and Elder O. C. Wight.

CALL OF TALMAGE.

The matter of the call of Rev. Dr. T. De Witt Talmage, D. D., to the pastorate of the First Church, was then introduced by the reading of the following Presbyterian dismission of a minister:

"This is to certify that the Rev. T. De Witt Talmage, D. D., is a member in good standing in this presbytery, and is now, at his own request, dismissed to unite with the presbytery of Washington, to whose fraternal affection and fellowship he is hereby cordially recommended.

"The Rev. Dr. Talmage was ordained by the classes of Bergen (Reformed Dutch Church) in 1856." "Attest, Newell Woolsey Wells, stated clerk of the presbytery of Brooklyn."

Moderator Allen, Dr. Talmage and Elder Whyte were appointed a committee on installation. Their report was that the exercises of installation should take place at the First Church on Wednesday, October 23, at 7:30 p. m. The programme of installation adopted is as follows:

The moderator shall preside and put the constitutional questions, Rev. Tennis S. Hamlin to have charge of the devotional exercises, with Rev. C. B. Ramsdell, D. D., as alternate.

The sermon of installation will be preached by Rev. David Gregg, D. D., of Brooklyn, and the charge to the people will be made by Rev. B. F. Bittinger, D. D., with Rev. W. C. Alexander, D. D., as alternate.

Rev. Wallace Radcliffe, D. D., will render the charge to the pastor, with Rev. Tennis S. Hamlin, D. D., as alternate. The prayer of installation will be rendered by Rev. T. C. Easton, D. D., with Rev. G. O. Luccock, D. D., as alternate.

A discussion of the correctness of the phrase prayer of installation as used in the foregoing report took up considerable time. Dr. Hamlin made the point that there was no such prayer known to the church government as a prayer of installation. In this he was sustained by Rev. Dr. Allen and Dr. Bettinger. The phrase was modified to "the closing prayer."

WANTED IT REFERRED.

Rev. Mr. Nourse thought that the matter of the call of Dr. Talmage ought to be first referred to a special committee, and that it would then be time enough to consider it after that committee had reported.

He did not make very clear his reason for desiring that a committee should be appointed for the consideration of this call unless it was that in approving it as it stood, the Presbytery was to a certain extent rendering itself liable for the payment of Dr. Talmage's services.

He thought that if the matter were settled directly there would never arise any suggestion of a complaint. He put it in the form of a motion that the matter of the call of Dr. Talmage should be first referred to a committee, but the motion found no second. Dr. Bittinger thought that this reference was utterly unnecessary and moved that the call be placed directly by the Presbytery into the hands of Dr. Talmage. This motion was put and carried without dissent.

Then the tall form of Dr. Talmage loomed up from the obscure pew in which he sat, he said, "I accept the call," and moving toward the moderator and taking from him the document which he held in his extended hand, said, "I thank you." With this Dr. Talmage inclined his body as with a bow, and quickly receded to his seat. He straightened up, placed the call in the left breast pocket of his black Prince Albert coat, and buttoned that garment.

JUST CAUGHT HIS TRAIN.

At this point Dr. Talmage arose and asked that he be excused from further attendance at the presbytery. He then had so few minutes to spare in which to catch his train that he started down to the board walk at a brisk run toward the railroad station, a third of a mile away.

Dr. Talmage is more of a preacher than a sprinter, and when he reached the station just in time to board the train for Washington he was badly winded, but gave The Times a real strong grasp of the hand as he mounted the platform. Then he waved adieu.

After the departure of Dr. Talmage the reading of the manual of government was taken up and considered at length. It was determined to hold the fall meeting of the presbytery at one of our suburban churches, and that the spring meeting should be held in the city.

It was also voted to pay a permanent clerk $25 per annum for taking the minutes, said clerk to hold office for three years.

Rev. Mr. Edwards, pastor of the church at Vienna, Va., resigned his pastorate because he felt that a new pastor might infuse new life into that field, and because the pastor who administers to that church should live at Vienna.

Rev. Thomas W. Moore, of Kensington M. E. Church, was present, and was invited to sit as a corresponding member.

Rev. Dr. Rathburn reported on the organization of the church at Ballston, Va., and Dr. Little moved that a committee be appointed to see about deaconnesses, as provided in the report.

MUCH LIKE THE HOLT CASE.

John H. Steward's Will Turns Up After Administrators' Appointment.

A case parallel in many instances to the famous Holt will case came to the attention of the register of wills yesterday in the submission for probate of what is asserted to be the last will of John H. Steward.

The paper was dated May 8, 1874, a little more than a year after the Holt will was written and its creased seams show the tatters of frequent refolding.

Everything is left to the widow, Mary Steward, by the terms of the will, and she is also named as executrix. The paper, in an old yellow envelope, was left with the register by Jannet Colton, a sister of Mrs. Steward, it is said.

Mr. Steward died on the 4th of last month. His wife died in 1893. Assuming that the deceased died intestate the heirs-at-law applied for the appointment of an administrator and the granting of letters of administration.

Three administrators were appointed. They were Messrs. James Forsythe, Leonard H. Steward and Charles H. Hesler.

The estate of Mr. Steward, all told, is reckoned to be worth about $20,000. The administrators began by the collection of monies, and had between $1,500 and $2,000 in bank, when it was reported that a will would be offered. Luckily, no expenditures were made, so that affairs are not in a badly complicated form.

The administrators have employed Mr. Leon Tobriner to investigate the case.

FOR A FAIR STRUCTURE

Corner-Stone of Fifteenth Street Methodist Church Laid.

MASONS DID THE WORK

Bishop Hurst's Address and Remarks by Other Ministers—Interesting Contents of the Box—An Impressive Ceremony Witnessed by Thousands of People—Churches Represented.

The cornerstone of the new Fifteenth Street M. E. Church, on the corner of Fifteenth and R streets, was laid yesterday afternoon.

The ceremonies were beautiful and impressive and witnessed by an immense number of spectators. Besides the members of the congregation, a large number of representatives from all the Methodist and other churches in the city, the members of the Grand Lodge of F. A. A. M. and the Master Masons of all the subordinate lodges of the District were present. The members of the F. A. A. M. were in full regalia and took a very important part in the ceremony.

The exercises preceding the laying of the corner stone took place on a platform, temporarily laid on the first floor of the building. Of this space every available foot was occupied and the pavements and the streets adjacent were crowded. The people began to gather about 3 o'clock, and when the exercises opened, several thousand were on the spot.

AN ARMY OF CLERGY.

On the north side of the platform was raised a stage on which were seated Bishop Hurst, Revs. Luther B. Wilson, presiding elder of the District; W. W. Van Arsdale, pastor of the new church; A. Bieloski, of Union M. E. Church; E. S. Todd, of Hamline M. E. Church; Albert Osborn, register of the American University; A. O. Brown, of Foundry Church; L. F. Widerman, of McKendree Church; Julius Soper, lately missionary to Japan; J. H. Lemon, of Gorsuch M. E. Church; Charles A. Stakeley, of the First Baptist Church; A. G. Rodgers, of the Church of Our Father; C. W. Baldwin, C. H. Mitinger, and the members of the Grand Lodge, I. O. O. M., of the District.

Immediately in front of the stage were the children, numbering over 100, of the Fifteenth Street Church Sunday-school, who led in the congregational singing. The organ was presided over by Mrs. F. J. Metcalf.

The exercises were opened with congregational song, followed with prayer by Presiding Elder Wilson. Next followed the reading of psalm 122 by Rev. Dr. Hugh Johnson, and the New Testament lesson by Rev. Dr. E. S. Todd.

BISHOP HURST'S ADDRESS.

Bishop Hurst was then introduced by Presiding Elder Wilson.

All ought to be thankful, he said, for the beautiful weather which blessed the occasion. When he awoke in the morning it was raining hard and with every evidence of continuing, but now there was the sunshine. This only goes to show, he said, what wonderful changes may take place between the rising and setting of the sun. Bishop Hurst briefly reviewed the history of the first establishment of the first church on that spot twenty-one years ago. It was in the beginning a branch of Foundry Church, and received very material help and much encouragement from Hamline Church. It took two churches to make it, but it is a good one. At first it had the scriptural name of Mount Zion, but in years it outgrew that name and became plain Fifteenth Street M. E. Church.

Bishop Hurst referred to the imperative need of a church in that section of the city. The church, he said, is the center of all humane influence and opens up a new fountain for good wherever established. It is the foundation for the spiritual instruction of the young, without which life is very doubtful.

In closing he congratulated the pastor and the congregation on the success of the worthy work they had undertaken, and concluded by asking the divine blessing upon all the churches in the city.

OTHER MINISTERS' WORDS.

Rev. John H. Dashiel, formerly pastor of the church, made a short address, in which he spoke flatteringly of the push and progressiveness of the congregation. It would take a great deal of money, he said, to complete this beautiful building, but from what he knew of the members of the church he was sure it would be forthcoming at the right time.

Rev. L. F. Widerman, of McKendree, who followed, thought enough had been already said for every one interested to feel the importance of the task undertaken. He knew that they all realized their duty and would do it. He said $10,000 had already been subscribed, but $10,000 more were necessary to complete the church.

Subscriptions were then asked for and nearly $200 were collected.

Presiding Elder Wilson then announced that everything was in readiness for the laying of the corner-stone, and the officiating ministers, led by Bishop Hurst and the members of the grand lodge, proceeded to the northeast corner of the building, where the stone was to be laid.

LAYING THE STONE.

All being in readiness, Architect Joseph S. Johnson, on addressing Grand Master D. G. Dixon said:

"Worthy Master: The necessary preparations having been made for laying the foundation stone of this edifice, I present you the square, level and plumb, those useful implements of the craft by which you may be able to ascertain that the material which is to constitute the chief corner-stone of the future edifice, and which you are about to lay in its proper place, is well formed, true and trusty."

The square was then applied to the block of stone by Deputy Grand Master George W. Beard, the level by Senior Grand Warden Matthew Trimble and the plumb by Junior Grand Warden J. H. Small.

The stone was then lowered by Contractor Kimmell, and a metallic box containing the following articles were placed in it by Grand Master Dixon.

CONTENTS OF THE BOX.

The articles were a copy of the Bible, copy of the discipline, metal plate upon which is engraved the name of the builder, William A. Kimmell, with date of October 8, 1895; one coin, twenty-five cent piece, 1895, donated by Miss Charlotte Wahlfaith, literature of Epworth League, Washington District; photograph of former church, 1895; copy of Protestant Standard, October 3, 1895; copy of Evening Star, of August 19, 1895, containing picture of the new building and historical sketch of Fifteenth Street M. E. Church; copy of Washington Post, August 17, 1895, containing historical sketch of Fifteenth Street M. E. Church; a historical sketch of Epworth League Fifteenth Street Chapters and full list of officers and members; copy of the Washington Post, October 8, 1895; copy of the Washington Times, October 8, 1895; copy of Epworth Herald, August 17, 1895; copy Christian Advocate, September 5, 1895; copy Baltimore Methodist, September 12, 1895; list of officers and members, copy of order of exercises at the laying of the corner stone; one calendar of 1895; coin of 1793, donated by Lee W. Frank; copy of Temperance Banner, October 1, 1895; coin, one cent, 1888, donated by W. J. G. Thomas.

WORLD AT A STANDSTILL

Strike of Engineers Caused Suspension of Operations.

NO WORK DONE FOR AN HOUR

Business Manager Norris Says Compositors Took No Part, but Had to Quit Because Fires and Lights Went Out—Strike Ordered Because Non-Union Men Were Employed.

New York, Oct. 9.—Promptly at midnight last night the entire force of compositors, pressmen, stereotypers, and other attaches of the mechanical departments of the New York World went out on a strike and at 12:45 work in the building was at a standstill. The strike was a sympathetic one with the employes of George B. Read, who has charge of the Pulitzer building and hires the elevator men, engineers, and electricians.

The trouble started several weeks ago when several elevator conductors struck on account of a reduction in their salaries from $12 to $10 a week.

GRUMBLING EVER SINCE.

The trouble was apparently settled at the time, but since then there has been grumbling among the other employes of Read and they succeeded in enlisting the sympathy of the "Big Six" and other labor organizations represented in the building.

The engineers and electricians who belong to labor unions assert that non-union men have been placed at work with a view of taking their places.

The strike was started shortly before 12 o'clock, when the engineers and electricians, about fifteen in number, left the building. It was stated that non-union men were secured and hurriedly put in their places.

When this fact became known, it is said, the compositors refused to work until they were removed, and they were followed shortly afterward by the others. The management at once made endeavors to settle the trouble, and about 1 o'clock the men returned temporarily in order to enable the World to get out their morning edition.

COMPOSITORS DIDN'T STRIKE.

It was stated at 1:20 this morning that the compositors and other employes of the World did not strike, but were forced to quit work on account of the firemen and engineers stopping, which shut off the light and the power operating the typesetting machines. It is authoritively stated that the "Big Six" took no part in the strike and had a connection with the employes of George B. Read.

Business Manager Norris, of the World, arrived on the scene shortly after 1 o'clock. He said that the trouble had nothing to do with the World management. The firemen are also employed by Read, and the trouble was caused principally by them. The fires were allowed to run down.

Operations in the building were delayed over an hour and a half. The strike, it is stated, was ordered by the walking delegates of the engineers' union, on the ground that non-union men were being employed.

BISHOP TURNER'S APPEAL

He Wants 2,000,000 Negroes to Make Homes in Liberia.

Predicts That in Ten Years Many Would Become Rich, Respected and High in Official Rank.

Bishop Henry M. Turner, of the African M. E. Church, and one of the most prominent negroes in the country, delivered an address to a large and representative audience of colored citizens last night, at the Metropolitan A. M. E. Church. In his address, Bishop Turner advised the negroes, not only of the District of Columbia, but of America, to leave this country and go to Africa.

The Bishop declared that there is no future for the negro in America, and said that with the Supreme Court deciding that he has no civil rights, and the States of Mississippi and South Carolina disfranchising him, together with the lynchings and burnings in the South land, makes the future for the negro indeed dark.

He said that times are to be harder for the negro in the future than they have been in the past.

He has recently visited Africa, where he has the supervision of the work of his convention and he told last night of the richness and fertility of the soil of the Republic of Liberia, and said that it was indeed the promised land for the negro. He said that in that republic a negro may become a great statesman, a military general and legislators, and he thinks that this is certainly more than the negro can ever hope for in America.

He said that if the young men of the race who are educated and are now but mere scullions for the white people of this country were to go to Liberia that in the course of ten years some of them would be millionaires.

Liberia is to him an El Dorado, where, by patience and industry the negro of America might develope a great nation that would command the respect of the civilized world.

He told in a forceful manner of the outrages and maltreatment to which the negroes of the South are subjected and gave a vivid description of the lynching and burning of defenseless colored men.

He said that there are 2,000,000 thrifty and industrious negroes in America who are willing and ready to go to Africa now, but that they are unable to do so. He thought that the general government should operate a line of steamers from here to Africa and carry all of the negroes who wanted to go.

This would cost the general government $20,000,000, but, he said, the government owed the negro twenty times that much. He said that the republic of Liberia would give to every family who went there and settled twenty-five acres of land for cultivation.

The Barney Steam Cooker

The Barney Steam Cooker and Sterilizer is on exhibition at No. 609 Thirteenth street northwest, near F. Ladies are invited to call and see it in operation. It is a recent invention that has been adopted by the United States Government for use in the United States Army, Navy, Marine Corps, and Hospital Service. The cooker has been severely tested by scientific men and experts in cooking, and our claims for greatly improved cooking and a saving of food, fuel and labor have been fully proven. The Cooker is so simple that any one of average intelligence can operate it. As a Sterilizer it is invaluable. No germs can live in food cooked by steam.

Tough Meat Made Tender.

Puddings light and dry, ham sweet and moist, no shrinking; potatoes dry and mealy. All food retains its natural flavor. Meats, soups, and vegetables cooked in the Barney Steam Cooker are improved in quality and there is an absence of odors in their preparation. Can be used on gas, coal, wood, or oil stoves. Economical of food and labor. The Cooker can be made to pay for itself in a short time by the saving in food. Recommended by medical men, professors of cookery, and the best families in Washington who are using it. No soggy bread, no heavy fruit cake, and delightful rolls.

A lady in attendance at the above number will demonstrate the use of the Cooker, and samples of food will be on exhibition. Call and see the Cooker and get a descriptive circular.

OYSTERS steamed in this Cooker are everywhere admitted to be better than those prepared by any other steaming process.
